MOTHER & DAUGHTER DUO TURN DIFFICULT TIME INTO A PASSION OF LOVE

My mother Mary Lee, suffered for two years in pain barely even able to walk. She bravely went forward with knee surgery. After a long rehab enjoying her new lease on life my mother was optimistic about the years ahead. Then 2020 happened. For many it was a year of emotional pain, loneliness, loss, and uncertainty. In the summer of 2020 in the middle of the pandemic my mother fell and broke her ankle on what she called her good leg. Taken to the hospital by ambulance she once again braved surgery but this time no visitors allowed. After a stay recuperating in the hospital, she was moved to an assisted living facility for rehab and care. In the summer of 2020 while confined to assisted living for rehab of her injury I proposed a project. A children's book with characters from our family tree. A story centered around the Mary Lee Pond. I would compose the story and she would do many of the illustrations. It had been months since I had seen a smile on her face. A project that brought a new meaning to her during this dreaded time of confinement. From that moment our conversations centered around our project and the concept of putting a smile on children's faces as well as the readers.
