RECIRCULATING DUCT-FREE RANGE HOODS

All beautiful homes deserve a custom-designed Amoré range hood. Even if your interior space doesn't allow outside ventilation, the opportunity to grace your kitchen with a one-of-a-kind piece of art is still yours. All Amoré models are available with our exclusive duct-free recirculating option. Stainless steel baffle filters are complemented with additional microcarbon filters that, along with our handsome louver appointments, offer the perfect combination of appearance and function.

With a passion for executing the client's complete vision, Amoré can transform dreams into reality.

COMPARISON BY DESIGN:

To complement your design style, Amore can customize any piece to meet precise color, size, and efficiency specifications. All range hoods can be wall mounted or ceiling mounted, and can be modified with different decorative elements to match your unique kitchen specifications.

Externally vented range hoods come with stainless steel baffle filters and dimmable lighting available in standard 50w halogen or optional LED. Recirculating hoods come louvered with customized microcarbon filters included.

Our range hood products combine exceptional design and artisan metal-working with outstanding ventilation performance. All hoods with our internally installed ventilation carry a 5-Year Warranty on our blowers.

Choosing our product will transform your kitchen, the gathering place of your home, into an inspiring and artistic environment. The superior performance of our range hoods enables you to have the benefits that proper ventilation provides for the cleanliness and ambiance of your entire home. Like any great creation, functionality and aesthetics are combined with equal importance in each and every product.

HOW TO CHOOSE YOUR AMORÉ SIGNATURE PIECE.

Create your award-winning kitchen by working with your architect or designer to determine the perfect style. Select your preferred materials, colors, and finishes that match your personality. Complete your look by adding decorative accents such as bands, rivets, and any other elements to add the finishing touches.

Once you've determined your style and aesthetic preferences, work with your designer to provide exact sizes for your dealer. Bring a sketch illustrating your vision, which will then be evaluated by Amore experts. Once your plan is authorized, Amore will work vigorously to deliver your one-of-a-kind masterpiece.
