Instructions for Flipchart Presentations

Print presentations and insert into easel-style presentation document holder, with the tops of photos and the tops of notes page at the "peak" of the easel.

This allows the MGV to face the photo towards the person they are speaking with, while still being able to read the notes on the reverse side of the easel. This eliminates the need to memorize the notes, and eliminates the possibility that an important point might be forgotten. It also allows MGVs still learning the information to provide correct and consistent information to the public.
