115C-76.56 Non-Retaliation

No public school unit, nor anyone acting on its behalf, shall discipline, threaten, or otherwise retaliate against a student because the student, or the student's parent or guardian, exercised or sought to exercise any of the rights granted in this Part. Further, no public school unit shall discipline, threaten, or otherwise retaliate against a student as a result of lawful efforts by the student's parent or guardian to petition or advocate before the public school unit's governing body. A person injured by violation of this section may seek redress through the procedures set forth in G.S. 115C-76.60.
