Famine in Judah Family of Naomi Dead Samuel Lives in Temple Eli and Sons Dead

OLD TESTAMENT WEEKLY

Thy People shall be my people, and thy God my God

Ruth, the Moabite, the widow of Jews Na'omi and Elimelekh's son Mahlon, the wife of the Jew Boaz of Bethlehem.

RUTH 1-4 & 1 SAMUEL 1-3 ~ GOD IS MY KING

Ruth רוּת and Samuel שְׁמוּאֵל – There are some interesting connections between the Books of Ruth and Samuel, which may lead to why we study them together.

Samuel was raised in the temple of Jehovah. God knew him by name and raised Him by the vow of Hannah.

Women are the main players in these significant and strategic books of scripture. In the Books of Ruth and Samuel, faithful women are featured as the loyal, obedient, resilient, and covenant women including: Naomi,

*“Remember me,
and not forget”*

Ruth, and Hannah. Other women also highlighted include: Orpah,

Peninnah, women of Bethlehem, and handmaidens. Amongst the men named in these books of scripture many of them suffer death: Elimelekh, Mahlon, Kilyon, Eli, Hophni, and Phinehas. The only man named who lives and redeems is Boaz בּוֹאֵז, the righteous Jew called the Redeemer (Hebrew Go'el גּוֹאֵל) of Naomi and Ruth. Ruth and Hannah enter vows and covenants (Ruth 1:16-17; 1 Sam 1:11). Their trust in the God-King of Israel resulted in their great blessings of descended Prophets and Kings and eventually the Messiah, even Yeshua/Jesus. AR
