

I would like you to know a little bit about Phillip Falcone.

His journey began over two decades ago when he was introduced to the Independent Spiritualist Association (ISA) by his first spiritual teacher, Rev. Louis Miller. After becoming a member, Phillip began earning certifications for spiritual healing, mediumship, Associate Minister, and finally being ordained in 2005. Many of the churches have invited him to serve as guest speaker, message bearer, healing channel, and teacher. Phillip continues to be active in the continuing development of the ISA by serving as chair of the By-laws Committee.

Phillip also served on the ISA board as a trustee. During his tenure, he reorganized the Convention Booklet, organized educational events, sought out facilitators, and facilitated workshops on meditation, psychometry, clairvoyance, dream interpretation, and ethics. He taught development classes out of his home and at the First Spiritualist Church of Prayer in South Bend, Indiana. Students have been very pleased with his methodology, understanding the depth of the topics being presented, his patience in answering questions, and his hands-on approach.

After being diagnosed with an unknown neurological disorder, Phillip's path led to other areas of exploration. He finished his associate degree in nonprofit management and earned a bachelor's degree in the science of Psychology from the University of Phoenix where he honed skills for research into science, occult teachings, and behavior. Discovering the disjointed connection between science, mystical teachings, and religion, a purpose began to develop. This prompted the development of the newsletter Bridging the Gap, which morphed into Xolton's Gnostic Thread, a newsletter meant to connect science, philosophy, and sometimes religion. After two years, Xolton's Gnostic Thread moved to the internet where he continues to write articles based on science, philosophy, and religion.

Phillip has also earned a certification as a life coach through Coach Training Alliance. As a life coach, he has helped others find purpose, resolve issues in their life, and encouraged them to become better. The skills associated with life coaching are applied in his development classes.

Phillip also facilitates art enrichment classes at two senior centers as well as producing art himself which can be found on display at different art galleries. His professional endeavors continue to develop. BRDNSKY (Bird in Sky) Arts & Crafts, LLC, was established for the purpose of displaying art and disseminating information for those seeking to become actualized, enlightened, or awaken.

Recently Phillip has self-published books. The Re-creator is about the strategies used to realign himself after being diagnosed with an unknown neurological disorder. This is not about his ordeal. The strategies used are told in a story format. Creation by Design is about the Law of Attraction and its hidden forces. Those research skills really payoff here. You will find possible scientific explanations for this natural law. Afterwards, you can learn how to affect the subtle energies in your favor. Spiritualism: It's Echoes, It's Foundation follows a tendrill of the roots of Spiritualism back to the days of cave paintings, the continuity of life, and divination. After laying a foundation, we then explore the development of Spiritualism as it moved from imagination into the realm of exploration and how it became a science, a philosophy, and a religion.

People are in search of something that lies within. Yet, they search outside of themselves for their elusive sense of being through books, classes, associations, and a host of other avenues. Sometimes their thirst is slaked, and they gain satisfaction, other times their confusion only deepens. Phillip's passion and purpose are to assist those who want to grow and take control of their lives. There is a desire within us to understand the power that lies dormant within. We take control of our lives by understanding ourselves. With this insight, a new perspective begins to develop, allowing them to make informed choices based on their needs, and not someone else's. You now have some insight regarding Phillip Falcone.
