BRATISLAVA

Day 3: September 30th 2025

Bratislava, a city where history and music intertwine, has long been a hidden gem of European classical heritage. As a cultural crossroads between Austria, Hungary, and the Czech lands, it played a crucial role in the careers of Joseph Haydn, Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart and Ludwig van Beethoven, who all performed here.

In the morning you have the possibility for excursions in Bratislava, a city where culture and daily life blend harmoniously. Wander through its charming old town, where narrow cobbled streets lead to picturesque squares, elegant palaces, and lively cafés. Discover the city's rich past through its museums and galleries, or take in breathtaking views from the iconic Bratislava Castle, overlooking the Danube.

In the evening, you can enjoy a special chamber music performance with the Altenberg Trio and Ziyu He on board.

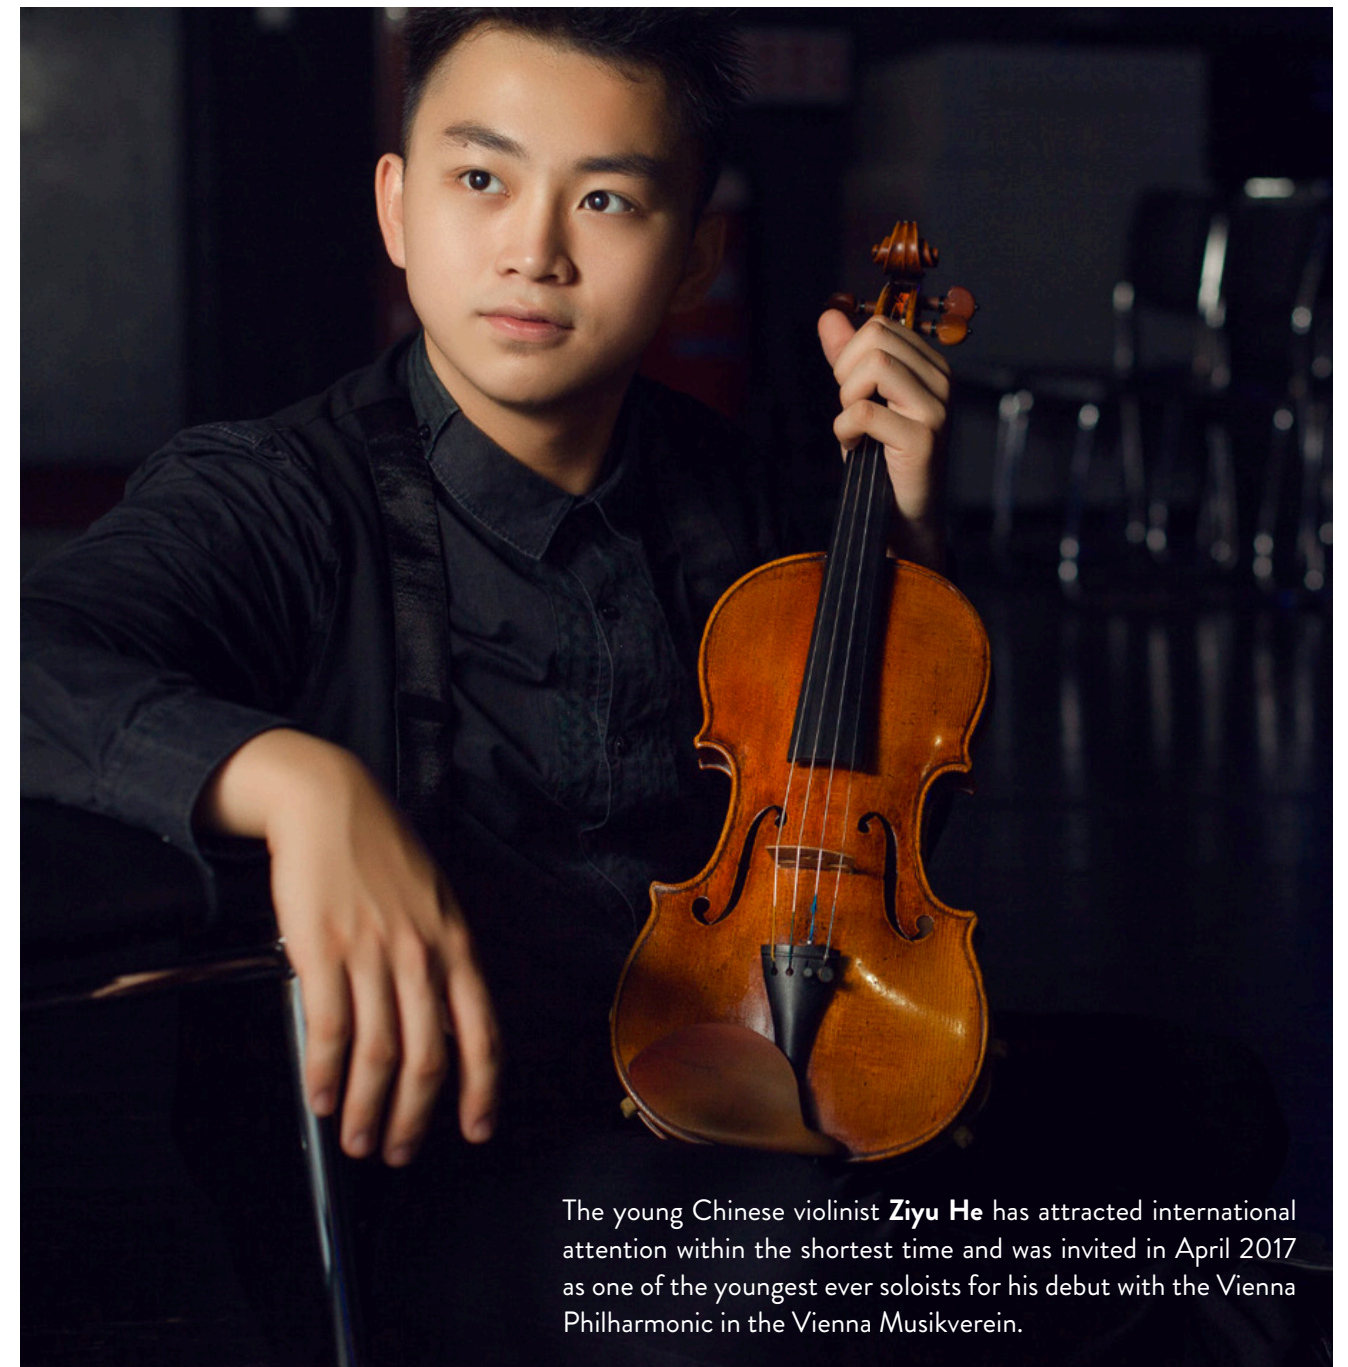

It was not by coincidence that the three musicians came together under the name of the “gentle revolutionary” Peter Altenberg. The poet symbolizes the love of beauty and the adventure of life. His devotion to stylistic precision is legendary, as is his keen sense of subtle humor and quiet irony.

The tradition of the Altenberg Trio Wien began in 1984, when pianist Claus-Christian Schuster founded the Vienna Schubert Trio together with violinist Boris Kuschnir and cellist Martin Hornstein. A re-founding followed in 1994, under the name “Altenberg Trio”, first with violinist Amiram Ganz and later with cellist Alexander Gebert. As “Trio in Residence” of the Gesellschaft der Musikfreunde in Vienna, it has been an essential fixture of Viennese cultural life for almost 40 years. There are few chamber music ensembles worldwide that pass on tradition through generations.

The Altenberg Trio stands for maintaining this continuity in flux. The three musicians of the current ensemble are also very active soloists. Ziyu He was one of the youngest soloists with the Vienna Philharmonic. Christopher Hinterhuber is a professor at the Vienna University of Music and Performing Arts and Peter Somodari is principal cellist of the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra. In addition to the cycle at the Vienna Musikverein the trio played concerts at the Salzburg Mozartwoche, the Lockenhaus Chamber Music Festival, the Bregenz Festival, the Georges Enescu Festival in Bucharest, appearances at the Teatro la Fenice in Venice and at the Library of Congress in Washington, to mention a few. For years, the Altenberg Trio has been responsible for the artistic direction of the Schloss Weinzierl Music Festival in Lower Austria, a place with high significance in music history, where the young Haydn composed his first string quartets.

Over their many years of concert activity, the Altenberg Trio has recorded numerous CDs, many of which have won honours. For example, the complete recording of Schumann’s piano trios was awarded the Robert Schumann Prize of the city of Zwickau (alongside prize winners such as Nikolaus Harnoncourt and Alfred Brendel). The Altenberg Trio’s current repertoire includes more than 200 piano trios, including several works that the Altenberg Trio itself inspired and premiered. Ziyu He plays the 1698 “ex Rouse-Boughton” violin by Antonio Stradivari on loan from the Austrian National Bank.

The young Chinese violinist Ziyu He has attracted international attention within the shortest time and was invited in April 2017 as one of the youngest ever soloists for his debut with the Vienna Philharmonic in the Vienna Musikverein.

VIENNA

Day 4: October 1st 2025

Vienna, often called the City of Music, stands as one of the most important cultural capitals in the world. For centuries, it has been a beacon of classical music, shaping the works of legendary composers such as Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, Ludwig van Beethoven, Franz Schubert and Johann Strauss. The grandeur of the Vienna State Opera and the Musikverein, home to the world-famous Vienna Philharmonic, continue to set the gold standard for orchestral performances. The city's elegant palaces, like Palais Pallavicini, have long hosted the great masters, where emperors and nobility were once captivated by their performances. Beyond the concert halls, Vienna's café culture and historic streets breathe with the spirit of its musical past—every corner of the city seems to echo with the melodies that defined entire eras. With its imperial charm, rich heritage, and unwavering devotion to music, Vienna remains the ultimate pilgrimage for any lover of classical artistry.

Start your day in a fairy tale and explore the stunning capital of Austria – Vienna. In the afternoon there is the possibility for additional excursions or individual free time.

Bartek Sikorski – Double Bass

Born in Piekary, Poland, Bartek Sikorski joined the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra in 2003, where he quickly earned a reputation for his exceptional skill and rich, resonant sound on the double bass. As a composer and visual artist, Sikorski's creative pursuits extend beyond performance, enriching his interpretation of music with a multidisciplinary perspective that resonates deeply with audiences.

Michael Strasser – Viola

An accomplished violist hailing from Grieskirchen, Austria, Michael Strasser has been a member of the Vienna Philharmonic since 2006. Known for his depth of tone and nuanced interpretations, Strasser has contributed to countless memorable performances with the orchestra. His artistry reflects both the technical precision and emotive power for which the Vienna Philharmonic is renowned.

Peter Somodari – Cello

Hungarian-born Peter Somodari is an acclaimed cellist who joined the Vienna Philharmonic in 2016. A former child prodigy, Somodari honed his craft at the Franz Liszt Academy in Budapest and has since become a distinguished soloist and chamber musician. His soulful playing and technical brilliance bring unparalleled depth and beauty to every performance.

MELK (DÜRNSTEIN)

Day 5 , October 2nd 2025

Nestled in the heart of the Wachau Valley, the picturesque towns of Dürnstein and Melk offer a perfect harmony of history, culture and breathtaking landscapes. Dürnstein, with its charming medieval streets and the ruins of the castle where Richard the Lionheart was once imprisoned, captivates visitors with its romantic beauty. Just a short sail away, Melk Abbey, a baroque masterpiece perched high above the Danube, stands as a beacon of Austria's artistic and intellectual heritage. In these enchanting towns, time seems to slow, allowing you to savor the beauty of Austria's most scenic and culturally rich region.

LINZ

Day 6: October 3rd 2025

Linz, a city where history, music and innovation converge, offers a unique blend of Austrian tradition and forward-thinking creativity. Once a beloved retreat for Anton Bruckner, whose legacy still resonates through its streets and concert halls, Linz is a place where classical music meets modern artistry. From the grandeur of its historic old town and the majestic Danube waterfront to its thriving contemporary arts scene, the city embodies a spirit of evolution.

Follow the traces of Anton Bruckner in his museum in Linz. The life and work of Anton Bruckner (1824-1896) is the focus of this small museum, which has been designed with great attention to detail. A memorial to the composer from Ansfelden has been in this building since 1972. The renovation and redesign in 2014 then managed to prepare the contents in such a way that the museum is not only a must for Bruckner fans, but also for Bruckner novices.

Highlights in the museum include the conductor's baton, the top hat, and the organ console. Views of the town, theatre, and sheet music complete the picture. Anton Bruckner was born in this very house in 1824 and spent the first eleven years of his life there. The building was also the village school and his father, like his grandfather, was the schoolteacher. As he was also responsible for playing the organ in the church at the time, Anton Bruckner was able to develop a relationship with music and various instruments at an early age. St Florian's Abbey, which is situated on the tomb of the martyr St Florian and whose wall remains can be traced back to the 4th century, is one of the most magnificent monuments of Baroque architecture in Austria.

You will visit the magnificent collegiate church, the library, the marble hall, imperial rooms, and the picture gallery. The great Bruckner organ was for a long time the largest in the Danube monarchy. It has an extraordinary tonal power and a special sweetness of voice. Anton Bruckner, the most important Upper Austrian composer, was a choirboy here and later a monastery organist. Like many other musicians, Bruckner emerged from the Florian Boys' Choir, which is still taught and supervised at the monastery today. The guided tour will be followed by a short organ concert on the Bruckner organ.

In the afternoon you have the possibility to explore Linz.

Pöstlingberg, Linz

A MONUMENT OF SOUND

THE BRUCKNER ORGAN IN ST. FLORIAN/LINZ

Housed within the magnificent St. Florian Abbey, the Bruckner Organ is one of the most revered instruments in Austria and a testament to the grandeur of Baroque craftsmanship. Named after Anton Bruckner, who served as the abbey's organist and drew immense inspiration from its majestic tones, the organ boasts 103 registers and over 7,000 pipes, producing a sound that is as powerful as it is ethereal.

The organ is not only a technical marvel but also a deeply symbolic instrument, as Bruckner himself is buried beneath it, forever entwined with its legacy. Its extraordinary tonal range and sweet resonance have inspired generations of musicians and continue to captivate listeners.

During the River & Music 2025 journey, guests will have the rare privilege of visiting St. Florian Abbey and experiencing a special performance on the Bruckner Organ. This exclusive concert will showcase the instrument's breathtaking sound and provide a unique connection to the life and music of Anton Bruckner. It promises to be a truly unforgettable highlight of the journey, blending history, artistry, and the profound beauty of this iconic instrument.

SALZBURG

Day 7: October 4th 2025

In the midst of majestic alpine peaks and beneath the gentle flow of the Salzach River, Salzburg is a city that feels like a symphony come to life. As the birthplace of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, it holds an unparalleled significance in the world of classical music. With its cobblestone streets, baroque architecture, and charming squares, Salzburg exudes an air of timeless elegance. From the grandeur of Mirabell Palace to the imposing Hohensalzburg Fortress, every corner of the city tells a story of art, culture, and musical brilliance.

Today, we could set out to explore Salzburg. The journey begins with a scenic drive through the Austrian countryside, passing rolling hills and picturesque villages that inspired the setting of The Sound of Music.

Upon arrival, immerse yourself in Mozart's world with a visit to Mozart's Birthplace, the modest yet historic house where the prodigy spent his early years. Continue to the Mozart Residence, where his family lived, and explore exhibits showcasing his instruments, letters, and personal belongings. Strolling through the Getreidegasse, Salzburg's most famous shopping street, you will feel transported back in time, surrounded by beautifully preserved medieval and baroque buildings.

The city's cultural richness extends beyond Mozart. Visit the stunning Mirabell Palace and Gardens, where the composer once performed, and take in the breathtaking views from the Hohensalzburg Fortress, which has stood as a guardian over the city for centuries. There will be time to enjoy Salzburg's vibrant café culture—perhaps indulging in a slice of the legendary Mozartkugel.

As the day winds down, return to the ship for a truly German farewell evening. Gather in the lounge for an intimate performance by talented brass musicians, celebrating the rich traditions of German & Austrian music. Their melodies, filled with warmth and charm, will provide the perfect soundtrack to a final toast and a farewell cocktail as we reflect on the beauty, music, and memories of this extraordinary journey.
