

2020 Photography Print Release - Personal Use

The bearer of this document has purchased a collection of high-resolution digital images from Vicky Long Photography. Included in the purchase is a license to reproduce and display photographs from the digital files for personal use only, such as for gifts for family and friends, display on social media, email sharing, framed prints, scrapbooks, and more.

Vicky Long Photography retains all other rights, including the copyrights to all photographs printed from the digital images, including derivative works thereof, per Title 17 of the U.S. Code (US Copyright Act). The client may not use any photographs printed from the digital negatives for commercial or editorial purposes, such as for entry into any contest or competition, advertisements, endorsements, or publication in books, magazines, ezines, newspapers or other forms of commercially distributed material without the express written authorization of Vicky Long Photography.

Vicky Long Photography cannot guarantee the quality of any prints that are produced outside of our professional lab. Nor can we provide technical support for digital images submitted to outside labs.

Questions about this release or permissions hereby granted, can be directed to Vicky at vlbrphotography.com.
