I understand that photos and/or videos may be used worldwide for any purpose in perpetuity. I will not seek compensation for the materials that I, freely and under no duress, provide for such use.

No photo and video materials that I submit to Thrill The World will be changed or transformed in any way including pornographically or to promote cruelty to animals, racism, violence against men, violence against women, and/or any other hate crime.

I hereby release, discharge, and agree to save harmless Thrill The World and all persons functioning under all Thrill The World local and international all events from any liability and responsibility should any third party violate the terms of this release.

I have permission to use photos and/or videos taken at the Thrill The World event for my own non-profit use which includes promotional materials and media publications provided that I do not receive any monetary compensation or other compensation for my materials. The materials will not be altered, sold, re-sold or distributed. I may use materials to promote myself as an artist or to promote Thrill The World. I must credit Thrill The World on any sources where my materials appear.
