

LAURA DALMAU

Journeys are written in the stars and felt through the heart.

Like the dragonfly, I have gone through deep transformation—rising from life's challenges with strength, wisdom, and an unshakable connection to love. Every experience has led me here, to my true purpose: helping others open their hearts, awaken their feminine power, and live in their highest frequency.

As the creator of Rose Codes by Laura, my work is devoted to love—within yourself, your relationships, and your life's purpose. Through heart-opening rituals, activations, and heart-centered mentorship, I guide women to step into their most radiant, magnetic, and aligned selves.

I am also the co-founder of A'OHE WORLD, a heart-centered brand dedicated to expansion & connection. As a part of A'OHE WORLD, we created a 222-heart opening rose oil, a sacred alchemy elixir infused with the highest vibrations of love and transformation.

I lead the Rose Codes Book Club, a space for deep conversations on heart-centered wisdom, the power of love, and the magic of divine connection.

This journey is about remembering who you truly are. I'm honored to walk it with you.
