

Racers Helping Families

*My name is Anthony Rhodes and I am 15 years old. I am a 4.0 student who races dirt bikes at Arenacross events around the country, while visiting the houses and raising awareness for the RMHC. My goal this year is to fulfill as many RMHC wish lists as I can. Join me to help ease the difficult times of these families.

What is the RMHC?

The Ronald McDonald House Charities are hundreds of houses all across the country located walking distance from hospitals. Each house is specifically located near a different hospital with a special purpose or treatment. The RMHC house is a home away from home where families can be there for their child in a difficult time during medical procedures or treatments with little to no cost.
