ABOUT

Education

M.A. Marketing Communications,
Westminster University, London

B.S. Graphic Design, Lebanese American University, Beirut

Experience

Communication Consultant, for 8 years
with the United Nations & Lebanese
Ministry of Social Affairs

Resigned in 2017 to be a full time Artist.
Spread my paintings in 8 countries:
Lebanon, Monaco, Geneva, Italy, London,
USA, UAE, Egypt.

Interests, Vision & Mission

Volunteered with NGOs ever since I was 13 years of age.

Explorer, Traveler, Adventurer, and most of all a social, environmental activist.

Self taught experimental artist. I learned to create and build public artworks while in the streets protesting, building artworks with the people.

Through my artwork I reflect my life experiences, feelings, aspirations and dreams. My travels to China, Cuba, Costa Rica, Columbia, USA, UK, Italy, France, Monaco, Switzerland, Spain, Germany, Turkey, Russia, Jordan, Egypt and the UAE, have diversified my cultural exposure and enriched the substance of my art.

Mission: Using my artistic talents to affect positive change in the hearts and minds of audiences, inspiring them into action that matters.

Saucepans Christmas Tree

I asked people on social media to send me their decorated saucepans with their name, city, & wish for Lebanon. To unite, from all religions and regions under the people's tree against sectarianism.

I received +1000 saucepans and spoons from all over Lebanon and Lebanese expats from the USA, Switzerland, UAE, Kuwait.

You Can Participate in Making the Revolution Christmas Tree in Downtown Beirut

The people of the Lebanese revolution are the ones planning this year's downtown Christmas tree, and the idea is brilliant!

Beirut Will Have its "Revolutionary" Christmas Tree This Year!

ART

This year, it won't be Beirut's municipality that will set up its ugly, over-priced and fake Christmas decoration on Martyrs Square. Instead, Hayat Nazer, the talented Lebanese artist who built a Phoenix statue out of the metals of broken tents, is launching an initiative to build a tree out of pans, coffee pots and spoons.
