THE MATERIAL

We provide high quality product because of the materials used, the people involved with the design and because we work hard to make sure the customer is pleased with the product and process.

Muebles Asia never uses wood from protected forests, our woods are recycled and designs can be eco-friendly upon request. The wood used by the carpenters has been approved by the Indonesian government and was bought from suppliers who hold permits and complete papers. The main supplier is a certified government supplier called Prehutani. Teak Oak is the first option for Muebles Asia but Teak Oak Mahogany Mindy, Ashwood Sugarwood fiber and Synthetic Rattan are used as well. The most popular types of wood used for outdoor furniture are the Teak and Synthetic Rattan. For indoor furniture, the most popular types are Teak and Mahogany.

The wood, such as the Synthetic Rattan and Teak, Muebles Asia uses is excellent for outdoor and indoor furniture. Teak wood is highly water resistant due to the oil found in the wood. This protects it from insects, decay and bacteria. Teak wood is ideal for outdoor furniture because the furniture purchases won't have to be replaced frequently due to decay and the weather. Teak wood is known for its gleam and natural beauty. Once the furniture is bought, it won't have to be polished as frequent as other types of wood. Both the Synthetic Rattan and Teak can easily be worked into many different structures due to the fibers and elasticity.

Once the wood is bought from the suppliers, it is sent to the factory where the bark is stripped. The wood then goes through the drying process using the oven. After, the wood goes through the cutting process and is then formed and assembled in accordance with the design.
