

Dr. Joe Fote

Chief Executive Officer

Joe joined Youth Town of Tennessee in the fall of 2020, bring over 25 years of executive healthcare leadership experience in operations, revenue cycle, and process improvement. Prior to joining Youth Town, he was CEO of JVF Consulting, a nationwide healthcare consulting firm, held leadership financial positions as Vice President of Revenue Cycle and other executive positions in national healthcare organizations. Joe is a board-certified healthcare provider in Christian Counseling Psychology, an ordained Christian minister, a published author, “Career Geyser, Secrets that Propel You to Success”, and is a frequent guest speaker on parenting issues. Joe is proud to join operational and clinical Youth Town leadership with a focus on superior patient care, improving financial margins, process improvements, as well as strategic company direction. Joe earned his undergraduate degree in business from Houghton College, his MBA from Thomas More College, and his PhD in Psychology, from Cornerstone University. In his free time, Joe enjoys reading, hiking, golfing, and spending time with his wife Lynn, and daughters Kaitlyn and Taylor.