What can be better than the magnificent displays of colorful fish in your aquarium?

Your fish depend on clear, well-balanced water to maintain their vibrant colors and a healthy life. Keeping that water from becoming cloudy and unbalanced can be a challenge. But it doesn't have to be difficult. PetSmart has great solutions to help maintain your water quality at its best and keep unwanted bacteria and by products from forming in your tank.

We're here to help with two great products, the Freshwater Test Kit and our Water Test Strips.

The Freshwater Test Kit lets you test both the water from your tap and the water in your tank for five important parameters, including pH, ammonia, nitrate and nitrite levels.

You'll find the test kit is highly accurate, easy to use, and features a unique transparent dome that gives you a clear view of the results. The kit includes everything you need to test the nitrogen cycle, providing an instant read on the water quality in your aquarium. The kit comes with computer-calibrated color cards, 4 glass test tubes and a convenient holding tray.

And to help keep your fish healthy and swimming in an optimal environment we've included a detailed instruction book, offering step by step instructions on how to correct unsafe water conditions and keep your tank crystal clear and well balanced.

For fast and safe water testing our Six Way Water Test Strips are an accurate way to get all the information you need to keep your saltwater or freshwater aquarium or pond in top shape. The strips are nontoxic, easy to use, and self contained-- just dip and read all in one step.

Storing is a breeze with the leak proof pop-top lid. And our strips are packed with a special liner for maximum protection from moisture.

Providing your fish with a clear and clean well balanced environment has never been easier with our PetSmart Freshwater Master Test Kit, and our 6 Way Test Strips. Give you fish the quality water they need, and bring out the best in your aquarium with water quality solutions from PetSmart! They're a wonderful investment in your aquarium that will help keep your fish looking fabulous and your aquarium clean and clear.
