

Title Specialists of Virginia, LLC

April 2020 Newsletter

❄️ We're in this together ❄️

As we try to adjust to the new normal, we want you to know that we are working diligently to ensure the health and safety of our team and customers. We are also doing our very best to continue to serve you, which is why we are thrilled to officially roll out our BRAND-NEW WEBSITE—we hope you find it both informative and easy to navigate. While we can't ignore what is happening around us, we can work hard to make sure we are ready for business as usual once this is over. From everyone on our team, we wish each of you a happy, healthy month ahead!

Click here to read a special announcement about COVID-19

Be sure to check our newly-redesigned website for updates

Hello bidding wars: home sellers gain edge in this year's housing market

(from usatoday.com)

How to coronavirus-proof your home—and your life

(from realtor.com)

Fannie Mae, Freddie Mac to offer 12-month moratoriums on mortgage payments if borrowers suffer hardship

(from marketwatch.com)

What is a conventional loan and how does it work?

(from thestreet.com)

Slide the paperwork under the door: mortgage boom is upended

(from bloomberg.com)

What the Fed cutting interest rates to zero means for you

(from cnbc.com)

10 homeowner antics that annoy contractors most

(from bobvila.com)

Coronavirus is likely to upend the spring home-buying season—and not just in the way you would expect

(from realtor.com)

❄️ Also in this issue ❄️

❄️ How to eliminate mosquitos with dragonflies (from housebeautiful.com)

❄️ How to kill coronavirus with common household cleaners (from simplemost.com)