Re: Information Concerning Your Confinement

Dear Confined Person:

This letter is an initial outreach from Without One Plea.

We are writing because we have reviewed information related to your confinement and determined that there may be issues worth examining further. This letter is provided for informational purposes only. It is not legal advice, and it does not require immediate action.

Without One Plea is an organization dedicated to assisting individuals who are confined without lawful authority. Our work focuses on identifying jurisdictional, procedural, and custody defects that render continued imprisonment unlawful; and on applying lawful accountability and commercial processes to address those violations.

This letter serves as an introduction to the enclosed materials. The documents included in this packet explain our legal logic, process, and engagement options in detail.

What Is Included in This Packet

This Introduction Letter – Provides context for who WOP is, why you are receiving this mailing, and how the enclosed materials fit together.

Fatal Jurisdictional Defect – A brief educational publication explaining a foundational jurisdictional defect affecting many California felony cases. It outlines why courts lack authority when not following required procedures and cites controlling constitutional, statutory, and case law. This document may be read, shared, or used independently.

See, I have set before you an open door, and no one can shut it. Revelation 3:8

Integrated Narrative Client Letter – A step-by-step explanation of the WOP process, including visual illustrations, legal concepts, and how accountability and custody defects are identified and documented. It is designed to clearly explain the process in layman terms without requiring legal training.

WOP Client Agreement – Contains everything you need to enroll as a client with Without One Plea, including overview of the commercial process, Limited Power of Attorney, required documentation for you to provide, and terms of enrollment.

Our role is to identify the public employee(s) responsible for your false arrest/imprisonment, document, establish government accountability and demand compensation from the state by using lawful processes.

No Obligation — Information First

Nothing in this mailing requires immediate action. Some individuals choose to study the materials and check the references in the law library. Others share them with family. Some apply the information independently. As the process is challenging, others choose to let WOP do the work. Should you choose WOP, you will receive copies of all correspondence and certified mailings made on your behalf.

Your outside support, family and friends can view a digital copy of this letter on our website withoutoneplea.com/unlawful-prosecution.

Inasmuch as it is your life and liberty at stake, whatever you decide, you are encouraged to read these materials carefully and share them with trusted loved ones.

Respectfully,

Without One Plea

Felony Prosecution

California law requires the District Attorney (DA) to follow specific procedures when initiating a felony prosecution. If the DA does not, a court has no jurisdiction to try the accused. The law requires an indictment or an information to be the first pleading filed in a felony case. This has not been the DAs' practice for decades.

In 98% of felony cases since 1951, DAs have chosen neither indictment nor information, but an unlawful, fictitious document to be the first pleading filed. The filing is fraudulent and felonious (violation of Penal Code (PC) § 115(a)); therefore, the prosecution and conviction is void. Upon discovery of this jurisdictional defect in any case, the prisoner must be released.

As stated above, felonies must be prosecuted by indictment or information:

PC § 682: "In pertinent part: Every public offense must be prosecuted by indictment or information, except: 3. Misdemeanors and infractions; 4. A felony to which the defendant has pleaded guilty to the complaint before a magistrate, where permitted by law."

PC § 737: "All felonies shall be prosecuted by indictment or information, except as provided in Section 859a."

PC § 951: "An indictment or information may be in substantially the following form: The people of the State of California against A.B. In the superior court of the State of California, in and for the county of _____. The grand jury (or the district attorney) of the county of _____ hereby accuses A.B. of a felony (or misdemeanor), to wit: (giving the name of the crime, as murder, burglary, etc.), in that on or about the ___ day of _____, 19___, in the county of _____, State of California, he (here insert statement of act or omission, as for example, "murdered C.D.')." No form is available for any other manner of pleading.

The California Supreme Court has confirmed the law: "The California Constitution specifies that felonies [shall] be prosecuted either by 'indictment or, after examination and commitment by a magistrate, by information.' (Cal. Const., art. I, § 14.) Penal Code section 949 reads in pertinent part, 'The first pleading on the part of the people in the superior court in a felony case is the indictment, information, or the complaint in any case certified to the superior court under [Penal Code] Section 859a.' The People of the State of California are the plaintiff in every criminal proceeding (Pen. Code, § 684), and the public prosecutor has the sole responsibility to represent the People of the State of California in the prosecution of criminal offenses. (Dix v. Superior Court, (1991) [supra,] 53 Cal.3d 442, 451 [279 Cal.Rptr. 834, 807 P.2d 1063].) Accordingly, 'the first pleading by the prosecution in felony cases may be either an indictment or an information.' (4 Witkin Epstein, Cal. Criminal Law (3d ed. 2000) Pretrial Proceedings, § 169, p. 374, italics added." Guillory v. Superior Court, 31 Cal.4th 168, 173-174 (Cal. 2003). (Bold emphasis added.)

Therefore, the first pleading on the part of the people filed by the DA in order to lawfully begin the prosecution of a felony offense, can be, by law, only an indictment or an information (Government Code (GC) § 26502):

GC § 26502: "Indictments and informations. The district attorney shall draw all indictments and informations."

The rule for interpreting statutory law is the Latin term expressio unius est exclusio alterius: "A principle in statutory construction: when one or more things of a class are expressly mentioned others of the same class are excluded." Webster's Dictionary; Thomas Reuters Practical Law. The district attorney has not been given authority by the Legislature to draw (create) any other accusatory pleading for prosecuting a felony.

[Fact: As a practical reality, an information cannot be the first pleading filed by the DA in a felony case, inasmuch as PC § 738 requires a preliminary examination of the case and an order to hold the accused; and the examination must establish probable cause of commission of a felony (PC § 866(b)), before an information may be filed:

PC § 738: "Before an information is filed there must be a preliminary examination of the case against the defendant and an order holding him to answer made under Section 872. The proceeding for a preliminary examination must be commenced by written complaint, as provided elsewhere in this code.;"

PC § 866(b): "It is the purpose of a preliminary examination to establish whether there exists probable cause to believe that the defendant has committed a felony. The examination shall not be used for purposes of discovery." (Emphasis added.)]

A plea is available to the defendant for an indictment or an information, but none for any other mode of felony pleading (PC § 1016).

PC § 1002: "The only pleading on the part of the defendant is either a demurrer or a plea."

PC § 1016: "There are six kinds of pleas to an indictment or an information, or to a complaint charging a misdemeanor or infraction." No plea is available to any other mode of accusatory pleading charging a felony

Under California and federal law, no court can acquire jurisdiction to try a person for an offense unless he is charged in the particular form and mode required by law. And, a person may not be punished for a crime without a formal and sufficient accusation. Albrecht v. United States, 273 U.S. 1, 8 (1927); People v. Vasilyan; (2009) 174 Cal.App.4th 443, 449-50.

CALIFORNIA CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM'S FATAL JURISDICTIONAL DEFECT

In sum, a valid information being unavailable to the prosecutor, only an indictment may initiate a felony prosecution. In any event, if an indictment (or information) is not the first pleading filed by the prosecution in a felony case —as required by the California Constitution, Penal Code, interpreted and held by the California Supreme Court, e.g., Guillory v. Superior Court, supra— any other accusatory “pleading” filed by the prosecution is fraudulent and an illegal filing, confers no jurisdiction upon the court, is a violation of the State and Federal Constitutions’ guarantee of due process, and, exposes the People and the Peoples’ representatives to harm, the State to civil liability and the District Attorney and involved public employees to both civil and criminal liability for false arrest/imprisonment, for which there is no immunity (GC § 820.4).

Judgment of Conviction

What should be obvious to the DA, is that without jurisdiction:

- there can be no written judgment entered on the record (Code of Civil Procedure § 664) and any “judgment” rendered orally is void:

California Supreme Court: “What shall be final process in criminal actions is prescribed in the four hundred and sixty-third section of the Act which regulates proceedings in criminal cases. It is a certified copy of the judgment as entered in the minutes of the Court.” Ex parte Gibson, 31 Cal. 619, 622 (Cal. 1867); (PC § 1207) (emphasis added).

“A void judgment is not entitled to the respect accorded a valid adjudication, but may be entirely disregarded, or declared inoperative by any tribunal in which effect is sought to be given to it. It is attended by none of the consequences of a valid adjudication. It has no legal or binding force or efficacy for any purpose or at any place. It is not entitled to enforcement. All proceedings founded on the void judgment are themselves regarded as invalid.” 30A Am Jur Judgments 44, 45.

No Indictment? No Judgment? No Prison!

The executing officer (Sheriff) without a certified copy of a valid judgment from the court clerk, acts without authority when transporting any person from a county jail to a state prison (California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation (CDCR)) (PC §§ 1202a, 1207, 1213):

- “when a judgment has been pronounced, a certified copy of the entry thereof in the minutes shall be forthwith furnished to the officer whose duty it is to execute the judgment, and no other warrant or authority is necessary to justify or require the execution thereof, except when judgment of death is rendered.” ... “the writ does not contain a certified copy of the judgment, nor does it appear that such copy was furnished to the officer whose duty it was to execute the judgment. The prisoner is therefore entitled to his discharge, and it is so ordered.” Gibson, supra at 623;
- the Director (Secretary) of CDCR has no authority to accept custody of any person without a judgment (PC § 1202a; Ca.Cd.Reg. 15 § 3273);
- the Receiving Sergeant of CDCR has no authority to accept delivery of any person without a court order (judgment), and may not imprison any person without affixing the print of the right index finger of the person on the commitment order/judgment (CDCR DOM § 72020.4.1);
- the CDCR Legal Processing Unit cannot process the case and calculate the term without a judgment (CDCR DOM § 72020.5.4.1); and “Unconditional release’ appropriate if ‘there is no jurisdiction to detain the applicant.’” Walberg v. Israel, 776 F.2d 134, 136 (7th Cir. 1985).

CDCR “Inmates” may prove the above true by asking the prison Records Unit to produce an Indictment and a court order/(judgment) (signed by the judge and bearing the inmate’s fingerprint) from CDCR’s records. Not there? Hmmm. Demand release! Go home.

Family and friends may prove the above true by going to the Superior Court in the county of “conviction” and getting from the Clerk a certified copy of the first pleading charging a felony (Indictment or Information) and a copy of the judgment. Not there? Hmmm. Demand their release! If not you, then who?

DAs, Sheriffs and involved CDCR employees being noticed by inmate, family and friends; by simply reading and finding the above to be true, ought immediately to demand the Court release the inmate: or face the consequences for malicious false arrest/imprisonment.

Innocence or guilt is not relevant. The proper Constitutional application of the due process guarantees of lawful arrest, trial and imprisonment is relevant and required by law. When those guarantees are not provided, the remedy is release of the prisoner.

Without One Plea extends our warm regards and encouragement to you. We recognize that many confined individuals in California have been deeply wronged by a criminal justice system that has, in far too many cases, failed to follow the lawful procedures required by the California Constitution, Penal Code, and established court precedent to prosecute and imprison felony cases. Our purpose is to bring clarity, lawful remedy, and hope for freedom to those who have been unlawfully detained and imprisoned. We encourage everyone who is able to seek the truth, to do so. “So then each of us shall give an account of himself to God” Romans 14:12.

At Without One Plea, we are committed to providing each client with the focused attention their case deserves, which is why we accept only a limited number of individuals at a time. Without One Plea prepares and files the preliminary notices, claims, and administrative steps that create the legal basis for monetary liability against the responsible officials and agencies.

On behalf of our clients Without One Plea secures and records commercial liens with the California Secretary of State. These liens are against the responsible public employees, i.e., District Attorneys, Deputy District Attorneys, County Sheriffs and California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation (CDCR) personnel. These liens average in excess of $43 million per client, varying based on the length of unlawful incarceration.

Our process equips clients with everything needed to demonstrate how they were wronged, identify who is responsible, and formally register their lien with the California Secretary of State. These remedies have positioned many of our clients for release, and we stand ready to help you pursue the same opportunity.

Through diligent research, documented evidence, and lawful commercial processes, we help illuminate the defects that make continued imprisonment unlawful. As more clients complete the process, the pressure on the individuals in positions of authority and their agencies/departments increases, presenting additional opportunities for timely release and compensation.

Understanding the Legal Foundation

Unlawful Access

California's Constitution and Penal Code clearly define how felony prosecutions must begin. Under Penal Code (PC) §§ 682, 737, and 951, a felony case must start with either an indictment or an information. These documents form the very foundation for the court's jurisdiction. Without them, no lawful prosecution can begin.

Unfortunately, since the 1950s, district attorneys have frequently initiated prosecutions using unauthorized documents, such as a Felony Complaint—a violation of PC § 115(a). As confirmed by the California Supreme Court in Guillory v. Superior Court (2003) 31 Cal.4th 168, and Dix v. Superior Court (1991) 53 Cal.3d 442, such cases are void from inception. No lawful indictment or information means no lawful trial, no lawful conviction, and no lawful imprisonment.

The Custody Defect

Access Denied

Even where a conviction is claimed, the CDCR must receive the individual lawfully. State and federal law require that a valid court order or judgment of conviction be furnished by the Sheriff before CDCR can accept custody. See PC §§ 1202a, 1207, 1213, 1213.5, and Title 15 CCR § 3273.

For decades, CDCR has violated this process, accepting people from county sheriffs without either a court order or signed judgment of conviction from the presiding judge. Instead, only an 'Abstract of Judgment' signed by the clerk of the court is used. But an abstract is not a judgment—it is merely a summary prepared by a clerk, as confirmed in People v. Mitchell (2001) 25 Cal.4th 181, 186. Without a proper judgment, CDCR's acceptance and imprisonment of the person is unlawful, see CDCR DOM § 72020.1 and § 72020.4.1.

Your Rights and Remedy

Under long-established law, when a person is held without lawful authority, that imprisonment is void and discharge is required. See Ex parte Gibson (1867) 31 Cal. 619 and Walberg v. Israel (7th Cir. 1985) 776 F.2d 134. Without One Plea assists clients in documenting these fatal jurisdictional and custody defects and pursuing their lawful release. Our team uses commercial processes and civil remedies to hold public officials accountable for false arrest/imprisonment, including preparation of claims under the California Tort Claims Act and filing of liens working closely with clients' legal counsel when necessary.

What We Do for You

Our process begins with gathering client documents — typically your Abstract of Judgment, the original Complaint, and completed Without One Plea Agreement. Once received, we prepare and file the necessary notices and claims to compel the responsible individuals and agencies to either produce lawful judgment documents or acknowledge the absence thereof. In the absence of lawful authority, your continued imprisonment cannot stand. This process usually takes approximately 150 days to complete once all materials are received. We also prepare for potential mass tort litigation to expedite broader relief for multiple clients.

A Message of Hope

We understand the weight of what you are enduring. At Without One Plea, we believe truth and persistence will prevail. Our mission is to provide knowledge, process, and faith-driven action to establish justice where it has been denied. Every person is entitled to lawful due process under the guarantees of both the California and United States Constitutions. Innocence or guilt is irrelevant when the process is unlawful. Release is the only lawful remedy.

Taking the Next Step

Please complete the Without One Plea Agreement enclosed with this letter. Include copies of your Abstract of Judgment and your Complaint (if available), and mail them to the address provided above. Because we accept only a limited number of clients at a time, your case will be assigned and completed in the order your materials are received. Our standard processing fee is $5,000, payable through givesendgo.com/F4FWOP or by check to Without One Plea.

This fee covers the substantial preparation, notices, filings, and administrative procedural steps necessary for the process. Once our process is completed, clients will have documented proof of their unlawful imprisonment, identification of the responsible officials, and fully established grounds for release and compensation under Government Code § 820.4 and related authority.

After receiving your processing fee of $5,000, our profit is earned only when you succeed. Without One Plea receives 50% of recovered compensation/damages for client false arrest/imprisonment only after they receive their funds. In other words, we do not profit until our clients are paid, ensuring our incentives remain fully aligned with client freedom and compensation; your lien is monetized.

We encourage every client, once they have taken their first steps toward justice, to consider sponsoring another unlawfully imprisoned person so that the wheels of truth, freedom and accountability continue to turn. Our goal is to ensure that as many people as possible have access to a real and lawful pathway home.

Ask your family and friends to check out withoutoneplea.org for even more information or you can have them contact us directly. We welcome all who are interested to call and speak to us for themselves. Yes, we accept calls from confined persons 9am-5pm PST, M-F.

Thank you for your courage and perseverance.

God bless you,
