7. $1000 Novice Horse Barrels-Open to any rider, but the horse is restricted by the amount of money won in any barrel racing event, regardless of the owner. A horse to be nominated in this class must not have won over $1,000 in lifetime earnings/winnings in barrel racing as of January 1st of the current year. This is an incentive novice class and you pay a 1-time nomination fee of $25.00 that goes towards year end awards. You must enter the nominated novice horse in the Open 5-D, Senior 4-D, Adult 4-D, or Youth 4-D to get a time. A knocked over barrel will result in a NT for the classes mentioned above, but a +5 second penalty will be added to the Nove class time. In addition to the $25 nomination fee, there will be an additional fee of $8.00 to be paid on each nominated horse at each jackpot entered that will go toward year end awards. All novice horse nominations are scored against each other for points and then you are scored with the class entered for points.

If you win money at an event where money will be paid later, your novice horse earnings will be on the money won, not the money in hand. The person must fill out a declaration stating the number of horses in the class and the amount of the entry fee; then give a reasonable amount expected to win. This amount stands and declaration will be signed by an officer and will stand until the exact amount is posted to the novice horse card.

At the time each horse is entered, the amount of money won by that horse must be stated to the secretary. If money is won at any function other than GCBRA jackpots, it is your obligation to report this money earned to the secretary, for novice horse tracking purposes. If a member is found to have falsified any information given to the secretary, they will be fined $50.00 and lose all points in any novice classes for the entire GCBRA year, but may run that horse in non-novice classes. If a member should lose their points when falsifying information, points will be awarded to the next eligible horse in line. It is ultimately the owner's responsibility to have the accurate amount of lifetime earnings on a novice horse.

A novice horse cannot be entered twice in the same class. Novice horses must be ridden by GCBRA members for points to count.

If the nominated horse exceeds $1000 in the Novice Incentive Barrel Class during that current year, they remain in this class throughout the Association year. The horse with the most points at the end of the year wins the Novice Horse Award. The GCBRA Officers designate the number of places to be awarded at year end.

Points will be awarded to members in a 10-point system.
