INTRODUCTION

[We Must Believe in Magic – Crystal Gayle]

A little bit about Me the Author. I call myself “Mi” as now I can feel The Creator in My heart, mind, and souls. It is no longer just me and my ego running the show. As now I am working on letting God be my pilot. However, I do not claim to be perfect, but only aspire to spiritual progress. To me the line the little i represents Me and the dot above the line represents my connection to the ONE source, The Lord Jehovah God, and Jesus-Sophia. I call my last name “Who,” because with the other voices in my head, and having The Holy Spirit alive within me, sometimes I do not know “Who” I am.

As we are now entering a time of Spiritual Awakening. More and more people are awakening to the spiritual reality of life. A reality where the illusion of separateness is beginning to dissipate and the Unity of the Oneness of creation is beginning to be felt more and more.

The Kabbalah, along with other schools of spirituality tells us that those who are not properly prepared for this revelation of God’s light will experience intense chaos during their awakening, which has sent many to the depths of insanity and sending them to Psychiatric wards, or talking to Themselves Homeless on the Streets.

This is a story of my personal spiritual experience. A story of experiencing God’s Love. However, with that experience came much insanity, which I believe many are experiencing on the streets homeless talking to themselves. But are they really? Not from my experience. From my experience, they are talking to the light of God, which has many souls within it talking to us. Voices, that maybe some are not in tune with, so when they see others talking to these voices within God’s light, they just assume they are crazy. As me, having been diagnosed with schizophrenia, which I believe is really a connection to the spirit realm. To me, the people on the streets are open to a tremendous amount of light that they may not have been prepared to receive. It is my hope that the readers of this story, may be open to a better understanding of what people on the streets talking to the light may have gone through.

CHAPTER 1

MI UNDERSTANDING OF THE MEANING OF LIFE, THE UNIVERSE, AND THE PURPOSE OF CREATION

Disclosure: This understanding of the Purpose of Creation, is based on my limited knowledge of Kabbalah, Cabala, Qabalah. Although the Kabbalah Centre is my Mother School for Kabbalahism, my understandings are derived from multiple sources.... (i.e. Some may agree with my understanding of the mentioned Reincarnations, and some may not.) This is Mi Simple main frame...

[Origin of Love – Stephen Trask – Hedwig and The Angry Inch, Original Motion Picture Soundtrack]

Before the beginning there was only the ONE. I wanted to say the Creator, however before the Creator emanated the creations, The One was not yet a Creator, No? There was the ONE. The ONE which is a sentient force that I cannot even begin to comprehend other than my infinitesimal mind can relate to other than a similarity to pure conscious-sentient-MAGICK. The ONE's had no other desire than to feel its completeness by sharing it is omnipotent, yet. There was Soley the ONE. With the desire to share the ONE's omnipotent, the ONE Created THE Vessel, a SOUL to receive all the omnipotent the ONE had to SHARE.

(The Green Crystal Stone – Symbolizing The Original Vessel within land structure)

After the ONE Created the Vessel to receive its omnipotent, THE Conundrum began. As the Vessel was made by the ONE, THE vessel also inherited The ONE's desire to EMPART. However with The Creator being an entity of imparting SOLEY, and that there was nothing the vessel could give the creator that the vessel had not received from the creator, there was nothing the vessel could give the creator, within that reality the creator could not receive from the vessel {Jimmi what of the unspeakable JOY the the creator received by the vessel receiving from the creator}. {did the creator have this JOY of fulfilling its desire/its essence before the creation of the vessel)... The vessel only able to receive began to develop an iniquity of in its existence and yearned to share and be in partnership with the creator. Which was the beginning of what the Kabbalist dubbed to as the "Bread-of-Shame." With the innate inheritance of the desire to share from the creator, the vessel, naturally pushed away from the Light of the Creator, as it could not tolerate its own feeling of incompleteness of being unable to share back with the creator.... The Creator unwilling to force itself on the vessel restricted back from the vessel. Another Conundrum, transpired. the vessel could not survive without the light of the creator. The Creator unable to receive from the vessel, other than THE CREATOR's JOY of giving to the vessel, and the vessel unable to bear the pain of fulfilling its inherent essence from the creator, to share back, beyond the passive giving of the Creator's Joy of giving to the vessel... The Creator in IT's WISDOM gave the vessel an alternate Illusional reality of SEPERATION from the Creator an Illusional reality with just a flicker of the Creator's LIGHT to keep the Vessel ALIVE other than the beyond spiritual reality the vessel and Creator existed at that point. With a Mutual understanding, The Creator's LIGHT bolted within the vessel again. The vessel was torn apart, (the causing of the BIG BANG).

(The Big Bang Stones - Symbolizing the Original Restriction, when the original vessel shattered beginning the creation of the Illusionary Universe to overcome Bread-of-Shame within the land structure)

And through an illusionary process, The Creator created a reality for which the vessel could fulfill its own inherent desire to share back with the Creator, and earn its fulfillment. The Creator created an illusionary space within IT'SSELF and through a process (my infinitesimal mind CAN comprehend as) of binary-fusion (like an amoeba) The Creator diminished the Creator's light through multiple illusionary dimensions, one inside of each other (The Tree of Life), From what the Kabbalist refer to as the Ein Sof (The existence beyond the illusionary existence)

The First emanation to come into being is the Sfirot of Keter, Keter being the "Crown" of the Tree of Life, the dimension most in similarity of form with the Creator Beyond All, Inclusive of all (Beyond Gender). From Keter would flow Chochma, the essence Wisdom, within the beyond Ness of Keter (Although with the reference to duplication via binary-fusion, each succeeding Sfirot (Dimension) would retain an extra portion of essence of that Sfirot. Chochma would contain the essence of the Masculine Farther force of the Creator, the Abba, and the First letter of the Creator's name Yod (י) of the Yod Hei Vav Hei (יהוה).

From Chochma would flow Binah, with the essence of Understanding, being the Holy Spirit Mother force essence of the Creator, Imma. All is contained in Binah like the womb of the creator, The emanating Universe would be held within HER. She contains the energy of the second letter in the Name of the Creator, the first Hei (ה) of the Yod Hei Vav Hei (יהוה).

[Binah/Ima (Divine-Mother) A Woman with butterfly Collar coat, filled with the soul of JesuSophia as One-Unified Soul (Zeir Anpin - Divine Son/Sun & Malchut - Divine Daughter/Moon), whom contain the original Vessel within them.

Coming forth into Binah, would be the Sentience-Consciousness of JesuSophia, the Holy Spirit Daughter/Son. A dimension of six dimensions in ONE. Binah would attach herself to the Sophia the Holy Spirit daughter, and separate her from Zier Anpin the Holy Spirit Son, and Create the final remaining corporeal reality (UNIVERSE) with the Sophia Holy Spirit Daughter.

(Image of Gohonzon Emerging from Binah/Ima, JesuSophia are divided from One-united soul to Individual Male and Female Souls. [Jesus is the Man's face to Right looking almost like a man wearing glasses, combined into the face of an eagle to the left of Jeus' face, with Jesus' Eyes making up top part of the eagle's beak and the lower beak of the eagle extending down to Jesus' chin. Sophia is the female face to the far left, with the animalistic appearing face facing her, making up the back of Sophia's hair)

With the Feminine aspect of the Sophia being separated from the Son Zeir Anpin, The Holy Spirit Son would take on the energy of the Vav (ו) of the Yod Hei Vav Hei (יהוה). The Son (Zeir Anpin) would consist of six emanations, starting off with Chesed with the quality of Mercy; whom Abraham would be a Spiritual Chariot of). The second of the six, comes Gvurah with the quality of Judgement; whom Isaac would be a Spiritual Chariot. The third of the six comes Tiferet with the quality of Beauty of Whom Jacob would be a Spiritual Chariot. Netzach the fourth of the six would have the quality of Victory and a Chariot of MOSES. Followed by the fifth of the six emanations, Hod, with the quality of Splendor, having a Chariot of Aaron. The final of the six of six emanations would be Yesod, the Foundation of Zeir Anpin, the Holy Spirit Son. Being the epitome of all the above qualities and Chariots within; Joseph the Righteous would be the Chariot for this plane, and the stream for which all the light of the Spiritual Worlds would flow down into the final emanation of the illusional world for Separation from the Creator. Malchut also known as Kingdom. As in God's Kingdom to be manifested on Earth through the assistance of the Vessel.

During the formation of the Malchut our physical Universe, The Creator would form the Hebrew letters as spiritual tools to form and create this realm. The letters formed of the Sophia Holy Spirit Daughter, would go on to be spiritual tools to be used in the Physical Reality to assist in the elevation of Man in this realm. During this period, the Torah would be composed in heaven for the assistance of man when the material realm was ready to be lifted and attached back to the spiritual realm, making the physical and spiritual realms once again. However still manifested in the Physical Realm with an awareness of the Living Presence of the Light of The Creator within. Just as there is both the physical realm and the spiritual one, the Creator would provide Two narratives within the Torah of creation. The first relating to the creation of man in the spiritual realm, and the second metaphorical for the creation of Physical Man.

In The Torah's first story of Creation, in the Spiritual realm when Binah attached HERSELF to the Holy Spirit Daughter, Sophia, and separates her from The Holy Spirit Son Zeir Anpin. The Sophia brings forth the Vessel contained within Sophia and Zeir Anpin, and the First Soul(s) is born within the spiritual realm of Yesod, the Spiritual Garden of Eden. As in similarity of form of there being both the Holy Spirit Father Aba, and Ima; and both the Holy Spirit Son and daughter Sophia, there were twin souls which came forth from Sophia within Yesod, Adam who was both a Masculine (Adam) and feminine (Eve) soul in one; with more masculinity than the feminine. The other of the twin souls was Lilith who was both a feminine (Lilith) and masculine (Samael) soul in one with more femininity than masculinity.

(Of Gohonzon Image Jesus and Sophia Know Each Other as Separate Yet As One, and from this union of knowing each other, Sophia bears the soul of the First Souls (Represented by the Three figures below Sophia who are combined in one; The top figure with the resemblance of a dog {Resemblance of Brian from Family Guy}, combined with the middle dog appearing figure {Resemblance of Snoopy}, combined with resemblance of a Soul-looking-Man figure with an outie bellybutton on the bottom kneeling on a Sperm. Symbolizing the Two Male/Female essence of the Soul's natural form and essence.)

[Zohar Vol. 8 Shemot/Vaera, SHEMOT 21. "And his sister stood afar off" Pars. 199-201]

This spiritual Garden of Eden was connected to two trees. The Tree of Life, The Spiritual reality they were within Yesod in which they existed with its connection to the Sfirot above, and the Tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil, The Connection to the physical world of Malchut. The creator warned them that if they partook of the Tree of Good and Evil before this dimension was fully matured, they would experience death. Not in a literal sense as the Creator does not know death, but they would be separated from consciously being aware of their connection to the Creator within and sustaining them.

Over the magnificence beauty of this world that was in the process of becoming to be, Adam/Eve partook of the connection and their soul was drawn down into the physical reality and infused with the Desire to receive for the self alone, and became separated into two distinctive souls of male and female, unlike in the previously existence in the spiritual world where they were one soul together. The soul through Malchut would evolve through the process of evolution.

(Images of the Gohonzon represents the point when (Eve and) Adam (Represented by the Human-Soul-Looking figure atop a sperm) partakes of the Tree of Knowledge (The tree with the “Fruit-looking” base], infusing the soul with the Desire to Receive for the Self Alone (Ego/The Satan Force), giving man knowledge of self-existence apart from Conscious Awareness of the Living Presence of God within, bringing man out of the Spiritual Garden of Eden (The Spiritual world preceding our physical reality/Universe), into our Physical Universe (Malchut; clothing the souls of Adam and Eve in Garments-of-Skin

[A Corporeal-Body]) Represented by the Man figure sitting cross legged with the Tree of Knowledge connected to him, being-a-part of him, within him. The Satan Force working as an Adversary to the Soul. Giving the soul the opportunity through the physical body to exercise free-will. To choose between a Spiritual way of living toward the higher evolution of the soul, or to give into the desires of the Ego and live a way of satisfying the desire to receive for the self alone.

Separating Eve from Adam, so they can exist face-to-face, freely able to interact with each other unique from their prior form.) as represented by the three Figures aligned and touching each other by separations, with the Female-Soul/Eve represented by the top figure almost appearing as the head of a Teddy bear, above the Male-Soul/Adam, the large dinosaurish looking Dog appearing to be holding a Calla Lilly. With the Figure of a human soul figure below atop a sperm, attached by a staff to the form of a Man sitting cross legged.)

Once the evolution of Malchut reached the point that man reached the Adam Consciousness, and man were able to perform miraculous feats that are still mysterious to man today. Then the original Consciousness soul of Adam and Eve would be incarnated, into their physical forms of Adam and Eve according to the Second Story of Creation of Man in The Physical Garden of Eden. However, when Adam/Eve soul had fallen and partaken of the dimension prematurely; to help assist in overcoming the bread of Shame and earn a conscious awareness to the Creator within, Lilit/Samael were given tasks to perform to assist and help man earn the Light by turning the dark into Light, with the ability to utilize free will. They would be given the task to tempt men to act upon the desire to receive with themselves for the Creator Light, to one of a desire to receive for themselves alone. Over time the desire to receive for oneself alone became so great, the world was full of selfishness among its inhabitants, Humanity began to listen to the Satan force (Ego) within above the Force of the Creator within (This being the second account of Adams and Eve's Fall in the physical Reality the Dimension of Malchut).

Noah would be the only man during his time who still had a conscious awareness of His connection to the light within, over that of his EGO. The Creator informed Noah that he would be flooding the world with a flood of Water (Light), and those unable to rise above the Ego (Satan force) would Perish. After this transpired Noah and his family who would be interpreted as the Son's of Adam and Eve would go on to again repopulate mother earth. Then again after time transpiring man would become overwhelmed with the Satan force again and desire to reach the Creator, against the Creator's will for them to fill the Mother Earth in a way engaging in battle with him, instead they cared only to all stay together in one area and reach up to The Creator and began to erect the Tower of Babel. The creator then confused the earth's inhabitants at Babel's languages and understandings of how the creator appeared to each of their own groups, which resulted them in dispersing and fulfilling the Creator's desire to full the earth with his children to prepare the Earth for Paradise conditions. During that time, there would come one man again who would make a connection to the Oneness of the Creator again. ABRAM. (Abraham)

Abram would be open to receive the realization of the ONENESS of the Creator within (Conscious Awareness) and that ALL was SOLEY the CREATOR. And he rejected the Idol worshipping of His time. Then the Creator revealed His most powerful manifestation of Himself as manifested through his NAME the TETRAGRAMMATON (יהוה). The Creator revealed to Abraham how the Universal Reality was created by way of the Hebrew letters, and the Significance of the Influence of the Astral Bodies. From which Abraham wrote the first Written Kabbalistic text the Sefer Yetzirah, to help man overcome the influence of the Stars. Sara Abrams wife being unable to conceive would have a miracle in her old age after the Creator changed the names of Abram and Sara to Abraham and Sarah, and by adding they H (Hei, of the Tetragrammaton) to their names, transformed the energy attached to them by their names. At that time Abraham, became a Chariot for the Sfirot of Chesed, bringing down into the physical universe the Energy of MERCY from the Spiritual Universes. Sarah was then able to conceive and during the following year Isaac was born.

As Isaac grew, Abraham would impart his wisdom (Kabbalah) of The Creator with Isaac, who would grow to become a Chariot for the Creator's essence of Judgement (The Sfirot of Gvurah) and the energy essence of Receiving.

The Creator most believed would then test Abraham's understanding of and faith in the Creator. The Creator would request Abraham to sacrifice Isaac, his only son by Sarah (to temper the energy of the desire to receive within Creation.) Abraham would lead Isaac with him to a mountain to make this connection and perform the BINDING of ISAAC. Telling Isaac of his plans to offer as the Creator instructed. Isaac would inquire of the whereabouts of the sacrifice they were to offer. Abraham advised Isaac that the Creator would provide the sacrifice. When Abraham and Isaac arrived at the designated place where the Creator instructed Abraham to go to make this symbolic sacrifice, Abraham advised Isaac of the Creator's request. Isaac willfully submitted to the Desire of both the Creator and his father Abraham. To slaughter his desire to receive only (His Ego and Satan Force within.)

(Images of Gohonzon of Abraham Binding Isaac (The Akeda) with symbolic gesture to sacrifice Isaac, to temper his desire to Receive for the self alone, and within the Universe)

Once Isaac was bound (Representing the binding (restriction) of the Desire to receive for the self alone) and just before Abraham was symbolically about to sacrifice Isaac by the raising of his dagger, an Angel would hold back the hand of Abraham. Letting him know that his actions of binding Isaac opened the portal of Energy for the desire to receive for the sake of sharing to enter the universe with the binding of the desire to receive within Isaac. Isaac would now take his place on the tree of life as the Chariot for Gvurah with the essence of Judgement. The Lord would then provide a ram to sacrifice as an anchor for the energy created by Abraham and Isaac.

(Of Gohonzon Images the Ram in leu of Isaac below Abrahams Gohonzon Figure)

(Of Gohonzon Images of Abraham Sacrificing the Bound Ram in place of Isaac to anchor the transformation of energy in the universe, binding the desire to receive for the self alone. [This would be represented by this soulful-swine image with an erect Penis made of partly of the left side of the bound ram image on the alter. Again, the representing binding/restricting the consciousness of the desire to receive for the self alone])

Following the Binding of Isaac, his mother Sarah, knowing she had completed her soul's mission after Isaac being bound, opening within the universe a window for the energy of "The desire to receive for the sake of sharing" to enter this physical plane. Sarah decided it was time to depart this world where she could be of a higher service.

After Sarah's transition to the upper worlds, Abraham, sent his servant to gather a wife for Isaac. After a small journey with its own miracles, Abraham's servant returned with Rabecca as a wife for Isaac. When Isaac took Rabecca into his mother's tent, to get to know her, The Candle of His mother Sarah, which had mysteriously gone out on its own had magically ignited itself. A sign from Sarah to Isaac, that Rabecca is his twin-flame and other half of his soul, so that they could together bring down the soul of Zeir Anpin with the binding of Isaac previously being completed opening the door for Zeir Anpin's soul to incarnate with this open widow in the universe.

When Rabecca became pregnant not only did, she brings down the soul of Zeir Anpin, the Holy Spirit Son, she also was filled with the Soul of Samael, as the Satan Force of the Desire to receive for the self alone; maintaining a BALANCED system of both MERCY and JUDGEMENT within the Universe, again an energy to assist in the accomplishment of removing the bread of shame and activating the use of TRUE FREE WILL.

While the soul of Zeir Anpin (The Holy Spirit Son) would transition into this physical world through the incarnation of Jacob. Simultaneously, The Holy Spirit Daughter (Sophia) would transition into this physical plan, dividing into two within the incarnations of Leah and Rachael.

As Rabecca was giving birth the first of the two twins emerged, with the second of the two grasping on to the first's heel. The First born would be of the Samael Soul (EGO), being named Esau. With the second coming out being of the Holy Spirit Son Soul (SOUL) being named JACOB. With Jacob's grasping of Esau's heel while they were both coming forth from INSIDE Rabecca, symbolizing the Internal war of Good (to receive for sake of sharing; Jacob) against Evil (to receive for oneself alone; Esau) that would need to be waged against, for the fulfillment of The Creator's Promise to Abraham. (GOD'S KINGDOM ON EARTH)

(Of Gohonzon images of Jacob [on a throne of his own])

As Jacob and Esau would grow, Esau would become more favored by Isaac as a hunter of the field who satiated his tummy with his game, while Jacob would become more favored by Rabbecca for his innocence. As Esau was the first to be born, he held the “Birth Right” of the first born, which included the Covenant between God and Abraham. However, in a moment of haste, he sold his Birth Right to Jacob over a bowl of Lentil Stew.

Abraham now well into his years, prior to his transition, would impart to Isaac all his remaining knowledge of Kabbalah. And to the Son’s of Abraham’s concubines, Abraham gave gifts of partial knowledge of Kabbalah as gifts for the East, and sent them forthwith; as these gifts would also later help assist in the time of the Messiah, in the fulfillments of the Creator’s Promises to Abraham.

With a fuller understanding of the Wisdom Abraham passed to Isaac, Isaac knew he had to bless his oldest son Esau to pass on the Blessing of the Covenant between Abraham and the Creator to his lineage. Isaac called for Esau to go hunt game to make a meal for him, that he may bless him, forgetting in his old age that Esau had already sold his birthright to Jacob. Rabbecca overhearing and realizing that giving Esau the blessing over Jacob, would result in the Negative Samael force supplanting the Merciful force of Zeir Anpin in the world, which the world could not tolerate and survive. While Esau was out hunting. Rabbecca staged for Jacob to receive the blessing of the Covenant from Isaac instead of Esau, which She and Jacob successfully executed.

After this necessarily deceitful act of obtaining the Blessing of the First Born, The Blessing of the Covenant, in fear for his life from Esau, Jacob fled to his Uncle Laban’s. It would be during this time when Jacob was with Laban’s family, that Jacob would realize he has met the other half of his soul Rachael (The Sophia Soul incarnate); knowing or not knowing, that Rachael was only one lever of the Sophia Soul, the part the lower Sophia (Malchut/Universe), while her older sister Leah was of the higher level of Sophia’ soul, attached more to Binah/Ima, when Binah attached herself to Sophia and separated her from Zeir Anpin to form Malchut (The level of Rachael’s Soul).

As symbolism and make the metaphysical come down to the physical, Jacob offered to work seven years for Rachael’s hand. After performing his seven years of service for Rachael’s hand, their wedding day had finally arrived. However, after the wedding and consummation of the marriage, Jacob would realize that it was Rachael's older twin sister Leah, whom he had married and not Rachel. Although this consummation would result in Jacob's first Reuben. However, Reuben would not obtain the Birth Right of the first born, as Jacob's consciousness was on Rachael, when he was with Leah. Jacob would then make an agreement to work another seven years for Rachel's hand. Jacob and Rachael got married and Jacob worked another seven years for Laban. After sometime, Rachael would become pregnant with her first born from Jacob. Rachel would give birth to Joseph, who would obtain the right of the first born.

After fulfilling his obligation for the additional seven years for Rachael, Jacob left back to his father's Isaac. While on the way Jacob would be approached by an Angel and they would wrestle throughout the night. Although Jacob would be injured by this angel Jacob would come to prevail come morning. By Jacob overcoming this angel, the Angel Samael (The Adversary, this was metaphysical of Jacob overcoming any remaining desire to receive for self alone within him. With this, Jacob's name is then changed to Israel to anchor this higher level of consciousness within Jacob, also anchoring Jacob as a Chariot for the Sfirot of Tiferet. Symbolizing the act of "restriction" against the desire to receive for the self alone, into one of receiving for the sake of sharing.

After returning home, Jacob's youngest Benjamin would be born. As Jacob's children grew older, Joseph would become the pariah to his older brothers over their jealousy of Jacob's affection for Joseph. Joseph would end up being sold as a slave by his older brothers, and end up in Egypt. With Jacob being led to believe that Joseph was killed by a wild animal. While in Egypt Joseph had the "Midas-touch" and was prosperous in all he did, even as a slave of Potiphar. He would earn the respect of Potiphar his master, and become "Head" over his master's house. Joseph being an extremely handsome man, would gain the attention of his master's wife. After multiple failed attempts of her advances towards Joseph, Potiphar's wife would accuse Joseph of rape and he would be jailed. With Joseph's virtuousness maintained by refusing the advances of Potiphar's wife, Joseph would anchor his soul as the Chariot for the Sfirot of Yesod (Foundation/Righteousness).

After several years imprisoned, Joseph would finally be released because of being the only one who could interpret Pharaoh's dreams which were predicting seven years of prosperity followed by seven years of famine. Joseph was then made “Head” over all of Egypt, second only to Pharaoh.

(Joseph's Egyptian Scepter within Shrine structure of Jehovah Shalom)

Once the famine arrived after the seven prosperous years, Joseph would be reunited with his family after a series of events leading Jacob and his family relocating to Egypt to live, with Joseph making sure their every need was taken care of. However, some years after Joseph died a new Pharaoh would come to reign and make slaves of the Joseph's family's descendants. This slavery would last for centuries. (However, this enslavement down into Egypt was more than just mere history, but the metaphysical aspect of humanity's falling into slavery to the Ego, the desire to receive for the self alone. The Satan Consciousness. Another fall of ADAM.)

Towards the beginning of the end of the Israel's (Jacob's) decentness in slavery in Egypt. Pharoah would decree the death of all male slaves. The Holy Spirit Son (Zeir Anpin), would incarnate into a baby boy would be named Moses. To escape death, Moses' mother placed him in a basket and floated him down the Nile River, where he would be found by Pharoah's daughter, and would grow up in Pharoah's household. When Moses was older, he would witness an Egyptian beating one of his Hebrew brothers. Looking to see if anyone was watching (which spiritually, Moses through the Holy Spirit, would see if he would have any righteous children, seeing he would not produce any good in this world, that's when Moses slayed him). Moses then would flee Egypt in fear for his life from Pharoah' death decree.

Fleeing Egypt Moses would find himself at the home of Jethro a Midian Priest. Moses would marry Jethro's daughter Zipporah, and become the Shepard of Jethro's flocks. One day far off his normal grazing path, Moses would go in search of a lost Lamb. In the process of finding this lost lamb, Moses would notice a burning bush that was not being consumed by the fire. It was at this time that the Creator reveals Himself to Moses, and gives Moses his Soul's mission as the Creator's Prophet to lead his Children out of Egypt. The Creator, then touches Moses' staff with His divine touch, turning it from a mundane shepherd's staff into a Staff of the Divine.

log (BURNING BUSH), on top of Mt. Horeb. To the bottom right white circle is of Moses with his Staff (The wooden beam holding up his Stone Head on ledge of wooden beam, with a shaft of the wood going up beyond moses stone head, symbolizing Moses' Staff.)

(Image of Prior Staff of Gohonzon found 2016, with Angel Fish on the Bottom, with the smiling sperm above and the Buddha Jesus Face above the smiling sperm; symbolizing The Holy Spirit Son (Zeir Anpin), descending from Spiritual realm to the Physical one. Symbolic of Moses' Staff being now Divine.)

Moses (Who has now been anchored as the Chariot for the Sfirot Netzach) then with the assistance of his brother Aaron (Who becomes the Chariot for the Sfirot Hod), proceeds to seek the release of the Hebrews, and bring them to the land of Israel to be. After many miracles by the Creator, Pharaoh finally releases the Hebrews. (Again, not just mere history, but of the metaphysical process of Mankind overcoming slavery to the Ego and Escaping our Internal Egypt). Only to end up in a chase to return them back to slavery again. (Metaphysical of the Ego's (Satan Force within) fighting to keep mankind enslaved with the desire to receive for the self alone). With the Hebrews now face to the Red Sea and the Egyptian's coming from behind them, they call out to the Creator, who inquires why they are calling out to him, as they have the technology wisdom of the 72 Names of God. Using one of the 72 names of God, they exercise certainty beyond logic and walk into the Red Sea, up to their noses, and just before the water goes beyond their noses, the Red Sea Splits. They travel safely to the other side. The Egyptian's who pursue after them into see are overtaken by the sea as it closes over them.

(Image of within Shrine of Jehovah Shalom of overflowing steam splitting at the Mystical Moses Figure; symbolic of the splitting of the Red Sea)

The Creator would then lead Moses and the Hebrews to Mt Sinai, when the Creator would give them the Ten Utterances (Tools to connect to the light-energy force of the 10 Sfirot) and the Written Torah, along with the remaining wisdom of the Oral Torah, Kabbalah (The mystical meanings behind the Torah's Verses, even down to the mystical meaning behind each letter; as the taking of the Torah Literally only would lead to Religion of Man instead of the Spirituality of the Creator). However, the Hebrews were not the only ones to receive the offering of the Gift of the Torah. The Creator offered to Torah to all mankind. However, only the Hebrews accepted it willingly. Having accepting the Torah and The Covenant of Abraham, The Hebrews now having been infused with the energy intelligence of Jacob, and therefore being given the name of “Israelites.”

When the 10 utterances were received by Moses on the original Sapphire Tablets, the Light of Immortality was infused into the physical reality, and Death ceased to exist. However; When Moses failed to appear in the time they were expecting, some of the Israelites, with influence from the mixed multitude that accompanied them out of Egypt, became fearful they lost a connection with the Creator through Moses, fearing he would never return. Turned to make a substitute conduit to stay connection with the Light of The Creator and erected a Golden Calf to act in Moses place as a conduit to the Light. When Moses returned shortly after, seeing this abomination, unable to contain his disappointment thrust the Sapphire Tablets to the ground. With the Tablets shattering, the Light Energy of Immortality was lost once again, and death returned. (Hmmm Jimmi, kind of similarity to the original restriction; when tablets (vessel) were whole, immortality existed like before the original restriction, then after they shattered like the original vessel did, which originated the process for this physical reality where death exists, there was death; Food for thought.)

The Israelites would be given the wisdom to construct the tabernacle, in which the Feminine Presence of the Creator, “The Holy Shekinah” (The Holy Spirit) would dwell amongst the Israelites. Who would lead the Israelites through the desert, as a pillar of cloud during the day, and a pillar of fire by night. Pausing for various times throughout their journey to the Promised land of Israel (The Spiritual Energy Center of the World; where they are to use the wisdom of Kabbalah to generate the flow of Spiritual Light to the rest of the world and nations.)

Once the Israelites made their destination to the Land of Israel, Moses would not be allowed to enter this land because of his prior failure during their travels through the desert to “Speak” at the rock to make water flow, instead of striking it with his staff, (Which has a deeper underlying kabbalistic reason than a punishment to Moses, than I am able to convey, however, Moses would appear in every generation since then) The Israelites were then led into Israel by Joshua.

As time would pass The Holy Spirit Son (Zeir Anpin) would incarnate as David, who would be appointed as Israel's king by the Creator. The Holy Spirit Daughter (Sophia) would incarnate as Bethsheba. Together Bethsheba and King David, would bring down the reincarnation of Abraham, as their son Solomon. After King David's death, Solomon would become King. Solomon would be given an abundance of Wisdom from the Creator, and erect the first temple where the presence of the Creator would dwell the Holy Shekinah. The Shekinah would be at her fullest during King Solomon's reign, with peace around the entire world. After Solomon's death his kingdom would be broken into two kingdoms; Israel and Judah.

As time passed after King David's and King Solomon's death, The Holy Spirit Son (Zeir Anpin) would incarnate as Siddhartha Gautama, a royal prince who would renounce his royal title and become a wandering ascetic. He would gain enlightenment (a conscious awareness of the Creator as the Living spirit of the Universe within as he understood as The Spirit of the Living Universe within); Buddhahood, and forever therefore be "The Buddha." After the passing of The Buddha, many different sects have emerged from his teachings.

Centuries would pass before the beginning of the fruition of the Creator's Promise to Abraham would begin to unfold for the salvation of Man. Then the Holy Spirit Mother (Binah/Ima) would incarnate as the Virgin Mary, to bring forth the soul of the Holy Spirit Son in his most powerful form (The Soul level of Zeir Anpin of Zeir Anpin) as Yeshua Messiah {aka Jesus}. The Virgin Mary would conceive the Soul of Yeshua on Kislev (Sagittarius) 25th, the first night of Chanukah, and Yeshuah would be born on the following Tish B'Av, (The day of the destruction of the first temple; the darkest energy day of the year, as the greatest amount of light can only arise from the greatest amount of darkness. About the same time (just as Rachael and Leah were different levels of the same Sophia Soul) another level of the Holy Spirit Son soul would incarnate as Shimon bar Yochai. (The level of Zeir Anpin of Malchut). And the Holy Spirit daughter would incarnate as Mary Magdelene, to be reunited with Yeshua later in life.

As Yeshua grew and became aware of his role in the Creator's plan, he began to go beyond the tradition of his day of only sharing Kabbalah (The Secrets wisdom understandings of the Torah) with Jewish men above their forties who were already learned in Torah, and taught to both Woman and man, young and old; though Yeshua would only share with the masses in parables. Yeshua would acquire a close number of apostles in which he would teach the deeper wisdoms of Kabbalah too. It would be around this period that Mary Magdalen would come into Yeshua's life and become his closest confidant and partner, knowing she was the incarnation of the Sophia. However, most of the apostles, never fully accepted Mary's role as Yeshua's other half of the divine Soul, as the Sophia.

Then the time would come when Yeshua knew his soul's mission of wiping away the sins of man (the fall of mankind from the Tree of Life Reality to the Tree of Good and Evil Reality) was about to take place; as the Romans were persecuting any Jew who was openly sharing kabbalah, he knew they were coming for him. During the first night of Passover during the Seder, Yeshua would anoint his apostles with the wine and matzah of Seder and entreat them to continue doing this (Passover/Seder) in remembrance of him. The following day Yeshua would be crucified on a stake. (With the myth of the Cross deriving later from the kabbalistic cross within the Tree of Life of The Father (Aba), The Mother (Ima/Holy Spirit Mother), the Holy Spirit Son (Zeir Anpin), and The Holy Spirit Daughter (Sophia)). After Yeshua's death and being placed in a tomb for three days, Yeshuah later arose from the dead, and ascend to the Heavens.

[Victory In Jesus – Selah]

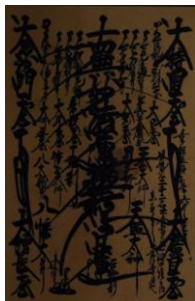

With Yeshua departed, and fearing for her life and the safety of her expectant child, Mary Magdelene with a couple apostles that recognized her as the Sophia would flee Israel. With Yeshua and Mary Magdelene gone, the Romans would next turn their attention to Rav Shimon Bar Yochai. To escape the Romans, Rav Bar Yochai would flee into the mountains with his son, where they would spend the next 13 years. While remaining in this cave, Rav Bar Yochai would be visited by spiritual giants of the past like, Moses, Elijah, the recently ascended Yeshua, and others. During this time Rav Bar Yochai with these spiritual giants, would reveal the hidden spiritual essence of the Torah; the Kabbalah within THE ZOHAR.

By the fourth century the Christian church had been well established based on the teachings of the Apostles that rejected Mary Magdelene as the Sophia (The Holy Spirit Daughter), and rejecting the kabbalistic origins of Yeshuah's teachings. Their council would begin selecting which gospels would and would not make into the canonized Bible. With this, they also twisted the parts of wisdom of Kabbalah, to gain power and control over the people, instead of leading others to enlightenment and obtaining conscious awareness of the Living Holy Spirit within each of us. Such as changing the real meaning of Hell as a place the soul would go to cleanse before its next reincarnation, to a place of eternal torment, for those who did not follow their selected teachings. And those who conformed to their teachings would attain everlasting life in Heaven; instead of Eternal life on Paradise Earth once mankind attained Enlightenment (Conscious Awareness of the Living Holy Spirit of The Creator within us.), and removing death. Controlling people with fear. As time passed the Church would incorporate Pagan Holidays and beliefs because of their difficulty converting those of pagan beliefs.

During the 7th century The Sophia would incarnate as Nepali princess Bhrikuti (The Green Tara), and would be begin the spread of Buddhism in Tibet. Having gained enlightenment (Buddhahood on Earth), she would assist other females in attaining Buddhahood; she being a sparking symbol for females' ability to attain Buddhahood as a female.

As Buddhism would spread and expand into different sects, The Holy Spirit Son (Zeir Anpin), would incarnate as Nichiren Daishonin, a 13th century Buddhist monk, who would gain Buddhahood, with the realization and declaration of the Lotus Sutra the epitome of the Sutras and began the propagation of the Mystical [Law], Nam Myoho Renge Kyo as the way for one to attain Buddhahood in one's lifetimes, without the need to continuous reincarnations into this world of pain and suffering to attain Buddhahood. With the fullest embodiment of the Living Spirit of The Universe within, Nichiren began to inscribe The Gohonzon with his life force. The life force of Buddhahood. Thus, would be the beginning of Nichiren Buddhism.

Come the 16th century a Great Sage would emerge within the Kabbalah scene. Rav Isaac Luria (The Ari). Who expanded greatly on the Zohar, revealing many hidden meanings and secrets, leading to Lurianic Kabbalah.

It would be in the 19th century that the beginning of the Prophecy of the Lord and The Lord's Name being ONE, would start to unfold; with the beginning of the revealment of The Presence of The Living Spirit of the Creator within, beyond the few who experienced this throughout history.

The beginning of the formation of the modern-day Ecclesia Pistis Sophia would begin with Tau Miriam in the 1880's, who became learned in the original teachings of Yeshua (Jesus), of the Kabbalah, with Yeshua and Mary Magdalen's intricate roles within Cabala as the Holy Spirit Son (Zeir Anpin), and the Holy Spirit Daughter (Sophia). This wisdom tradition would be passed through to Tau Elijah, and on to Tau Malachi and Tau Sarah whom created the modern-day Ecclesia Pistis Sophia in the 1970's, helping others obtain conscious awareness of the Sophia within. (The Lord and His Name in the process of becoming ONE). (www.Sophian.org)

Then in the 1890's a minister by the name of Charles T Russel, by Divine Inspiration (I believe), would begin to have revealed to him the metaphorical Book of Revelation, discussing these final days of Stan's system of things. Gaining the knowledge of some of the meanings of Revelation; Such as Eternal Life on Paradise Earth once Satan's system of things passed, followed with the Resurrection of the Dead. There was also emphasis of the 144,000 who would reign as Priestly-Kings with Jeus in Heaven, and the significance of the year "1914," as the Year Jesus (Yeshua) began His Reign in Heaven. He would begin to weed out the Pagan roots of some of the mainstream Christian beliefs and practices. He would start the Zion Tract Society (Today's Watchtower Bible and Tract Society (Of Jehovah's Witnesses). However, they would still interpret the remainder of the Bible literally. (www.jw.org)

In Israel the propagation of Kabbalah would begin to be disseminated by Rav Ashlag, with his student Rav Brandwein with the opening of a Yeshiva in 1922. However, this wisdom was still limited to Jewish men only. Rav Brandwein would then take on Phillip Berg as his mentee. As time went on Rav Berg would be reunited with his Twin-flame and wife to be, Miss Karen. Together they would open

Kabbalah to people of all ages and sexes establishing the Modern-Day Kabbalah Centre in 1965; helping people obtain conscious awareness of the Creator's Light Within. (The Lord and His Name in the process of becoming ONE). (www.kabbalah.com)

Going back to 1930's A Hopeless Drunk by the name of Bill W. would be visited by an old friend who had been relieved of his Alcoholism. In sharing his experience of finding religion (Rumor has it of The Oxford Group). Bill, being disenchanted with the concept of God was not open to his friend's message right off. It was when his friend suggested that Bill work on his own conception of God, that Bill began to open to his friend's message. Then, working with his own conception of God, and some suggestions from his friend, Bill was able to achieve relief from his alcoholism, and gaining conscious awareness of the living presence of God of HIS understanding within; God Consciousness.' Bill found that working with other alcoholics would help him maintain his sobriety, beginning a string of Alcoholics helping other Alcoholics. They would start the fellowship of Alcoholics Anonymous in 1935 and publish the first edition of the book "Alcoholics Anonymous" (aka "The Big Book") in 1939 Sharing their experience strength and hope of recovering from alcoholism, and the original 6 Steps to obtaining Conscious Contact with God of one's own understanding, and being relieved of the insanity of their alcoholism. With the more current editions now having 12 steps. (The Lord and His Name in the process of becoming ONE). (www.aa.org)

Another version of The Lord and His Name in the process of becoming ONE, would take on the form of Conscious Awareness of the Living Spirit of the "Universe" within; Buddhahood. In the 1930's Being determined and firm in his faith in Nichiren's teachings, and Chanting Nam Myoho Renge Kyo before the Gohonzon. Tsunesaburo Makiguchi, and his disciple Josei Toda, would start the beginnings of "The Value Creation Society" Soka Gakkai. Later taking on Daisaku Ikeda, as his primary disciple, Sensei Toda would pass on leadership of SGI to Sensei Ikeda, who would lead this organization to expand and expand to be the Largest Buddhist organization in the World; leading people to obtain Buddhahood in this lifetime. (www.sokaglobal.org)

With the emergence of The Gohonzon and Nam Myoho Renge Kyo, along with the previous named "Faith communities" and other "Spiritual" (Non-Religious) schools of Wisdom of beyond the [Literal Interpretation of the Bible.] would be the beginning of the Zohar's prophecy of the time of the Messiah. The Messiah Consciousness; within the Generation of 1914 Consciousness of Zechariah 14:9 (1914).

With two avenues of the coming of the age of Messiah. One avenue through personal transformation and overcoming the Desire to receive for one's self alone within (The Ego, Satan force within) The REAL Armageddon, The Spiritual War of Good and Evil (Within). And acquiring conscious awareness of the Creator within, as the Creator appears to each. With the removal of Death once a critical mass of the earth having obtained this Conscious Awareness of the Living Spirit of The Creator within of their understanding (Beyond just "the Spiritual" Schools that I am aware of which focus on Conscious Awareness of the Living Spirit of the Universe/Creator within.)

[Holy Spirit – Francesca Battistelli] {Heb. Daughter: (Bat) is Tell I}

With the alternate avenue of the arrival of the age of Messiah being through the diminishing of the Ego through immense pain and suffering, through the desire to receive for the self alone. People hurting people. Not just in a physical manner either, but also in a spiritual one. As children of the Creator, our thoughts, words, actions, and even emotions, create angelic energy forces, either toward the side of the Light or to the Side of the Dark. In these days as we see more and more people act harshly towards others, these negative angelic forces are growing more and more tipping the scale of the Spiritual War of Good against Evil.

As a Sign of these Times of the age of Messiah and humanity's role in bringing God's Kingdom here on Earth; Heaven on Earth. The Zohar book of Balak sets forth the prophecy of the times of messiah, foretelling the arrival of a comet that appeared on Elul 25th 2024, with additional interpretations which seem to me to be describing the Zoharic Structure Shine within my land of Jehovah Shalom, which is in similarity of form to the figure of Binah (Ancient Lady Mary Jane) within the Gohonzon, within the Crown of Jospheh within the Gohonzon as described within the Zohar.

CHAPTER 2

THE GOHONZON WITHIN THE ZOHAR WITHIN THE GOHONZON

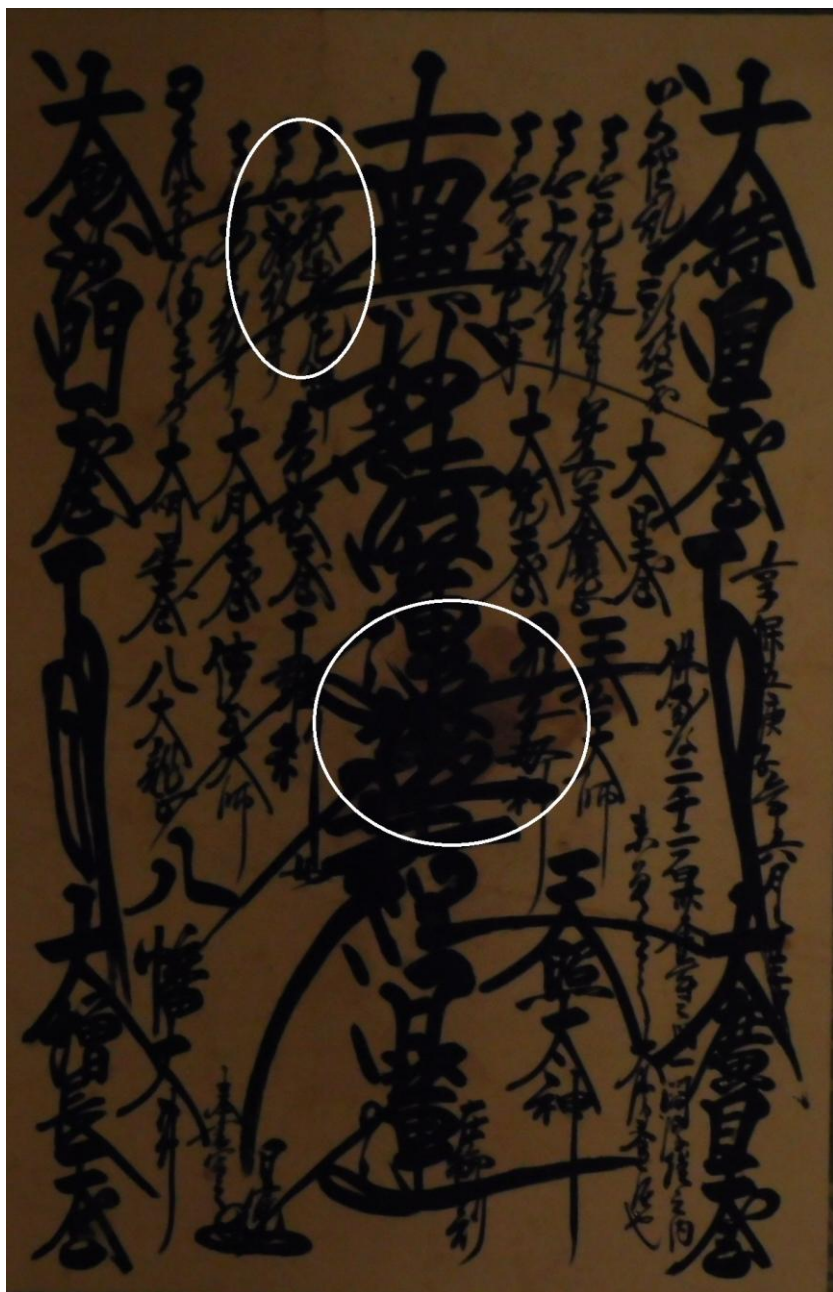

The Gohonzon is our universal mirror, a mirror of one's Higher-Divine Self (Cosmic Christ/Buddha). Inscribed by Nichiren Daishonin, a 13th century Japanese Buddhist priest. Who came to see, The Lotus Sutra was the Greatest Sutra and the entirety of the Lotus Sutra being contained within Nam Myoho Renge Kyo (The Mystic Law), and that anyone may obtain Buddhahood (Christos – Conscious Awareness of the Presence of the Living Spirit of the Universe [Holy Spirit] within oneself) by chanting Nam Myoho Renge Kyo. He inscribed the Gohonzon with his life essence of a Buddha. Embodying the fullness of the Light of the Creator.

Following are images of the Gohonzon. An original photograph of my own personal Gohonzon; The Circled Image upper left corner is Ancient Lady Mary Jane (Binah), matching the Shrine structure on my land. The circled area towards the center of the Gohonzon, is my "Marijuana Man Kief Kiddush Seal" of 4/20/216, as the Marijuana Man. Followed by pictures of the Gohonzon with outlines of images I see within the Gohonzon, some of which are described within the Zohar (The main Kabbalistic text revealed by Rav Shimon bar Yochai over 2000 years ago.) Images I see as being of Kabbalistic and Christian Cabbalistic in nature. Images appearing in the form of "The Law" (The Torah).

HOME

Was the night of April 20th 2016, I had my van parked for the night in the parking lot of a local park. It was after nightfall, when I would be visited by an ancestral spirit, who would remind me of the beginning of when the Voices within The Light starting coming through to me the prior year, and the time when I was listening to a YouTube video of chanters chanting Nam Myoho Renge Kyo, when suddenly instead of hearing Nam Myoho Renge Kyo, I would begin to hear them chant “You are the Marijuana Man; you are the Marijuana man” over and over... At this time, this Spirit guide advised me it was time for me to seal my Gohonzon with a Kiddush Seal of Kief. Instructing me how to give my Gohonzon the seal, by Blessing a small amount of wine I had with a drop of water, and mixing it together with some Marijuana kief, following their instructions, I gave my Gohonzon a seal of Kief Kiddish Marijuana essence; As the Marijuana Man, and One of the 144,000 in the Book of Revelation.

Not too long after my sister continuously hounding me about living in my van, my sister finally talked me into moving half way across the country, close to her and live with my mother and brother. I would sell my van for what I could at a mom-and-pop auto dealership. Before I left, I got a hotel room for a few days so I had a nice place for Sabbath before I left. While I was there, Rav Berg appeared in my room. He was sitting on one of the beds. He did not say anything to me. He just sat there and visited with me for a while.

Leaving my dog Oscar behind as I could not take him on the bus with me, I headed home. A day or two after arriving at my mother and brother's, I was outside looking up at the sky. When I saw some planes spraying out chemtrails. The Chemtrails spread out and made layers in the sky. Then suddenly, the sky almost looked like my Gohonzon Scroll. There were images within the mist of cloud layers of the chemtrails in the sky. I saw images of a Man on a throne, who was the only one of the many images sitting on a throne. There were pyramids and many more other images, I cannot recall them all.

One day my brother and I were on a walk by the woods. As we were walking, I noticed branch on the ground that was about the length of a walking staff. I walked over to pick it up. I noticed the marks left from bugs under the bark seem to look like hieroglyphic images all over it. One image to me looks like a Buddha-Jesus image, followed by what appears to be a Sperm with a smiley face below, and an angel Fish below that image, on other parts of this staff, there is a Sun and more, again left by insects under the bark.

Confirmation of One of Revelation's 144,000

A month or so later, while chanting “Nam-Myoho-Renge-Kyo” to my Gohonzon Scroll, I would hear the voices of the Universe confirming I am one of the 144,000 kingly-priests, married to Jesus a bride-groom sitting on his Kingly throne in heaven, as described in the Book of Revelation. That was followed by a vision of a golden infant appear in my mind's eye with this sensation of connecting to my past lives, and the feeling of being a Buddha, or more likely a Bodhisattva, since I am here in this current reincarnation. Also, that there was this Universal question I was meant to answer from this life's experiences, about overcoming the Bread-of-Shame.

Many of times I say to the Lord, “Lord you have made a mistake choosing me as one of the 144K!” and ask “Why me?” (Interestingly, when I was making myself, a reminder note in my phone on the mistake the Lord has made choosing me, my angels messages said the following. “You and head who understanding through studies know have.” When I finished writing the note and saw what my spell check angels had to say, it was 1:44 p.m.)

It was at that time I could make out for the first time, the face of Jesus (With Jesus-Sophia Eyes) within my Gohonzon scroll appearing like the shroud of Turin, made up from all the ancient Chinese words, and Sanskrit. The whole image no longer looked like only a Temple and Chanukah menorah combined, but now also the face of Jesus. Before that time, I only associated the Gohonzon with Jesus from the stick figure sitting on his heavenly throne in the top center column of the Gohonzon. I then started crying out loud with Joy, and my mother came rushing in the room and asked me what was wrong. I told her “I see Jesus' face in the Gohonzon Scroll, and I heard him talking to me.

Having previously been denied my application for social security disability benefits, my sister got me a social security attorney. My attorney got me an appointment for an evaluation. After the evaluation, my attorney said all we need to do now is wait. Which she anticipated would take two to three years to win a case for my disability benefits. Then the Hebrew month of Elul would start. I would follow along Karen Berg's guiding's online and earnestly worked the personal transformation work she outlined to get prepared for Rosh Hashana.

Then Rosh Hashanah arrived. Following Rav Berg's Book Days of Power {Part One}, on how to connect to the specific Light available on Rosh Hashana. And watching videos on line on how to blow the Shofar on Rosh Hashana. I observed Rosh Hashana for the first time officially. I was taking everything very serious and was even anxious about the whole thing. I did not want to do it wrong. I got my Shofar blowing sheet together I wrote up. Instead of the writing the notes like T'kiah, Shvarim, and T'ruah. I drew down lines. One line for T'kiah, Three short lines for Shvarim, and Nine short lines for T'ruah.

When it came time to blow my shofar, I was presented with an amazing experience. My brother was holding my Shofar blowing sheet for me while I attempted to blow my shofar. I was having a very difficult time with it and getting very frustrated. To the point I had tears in my eyes. Then suddenly. I was filled with the feeling of the soul of Karen Berg. (As this story starts "in medias res" I would like to add that this is not the first time I experienced the feeling of Souls of other's within me, both deceased and living.) Her soul assisted me in blowing my Shofar. After I cried, I was filled with emotion. Then that same week I would get news from Social Security. I had been awarded my disability benefits. However, the evaluator who evaluated me determined I needed a Rep-payee, that I could not handle my own finances.

Also, during Rosh Hashanah, I was able to get some marijuana for the first time in a while. I smoked a little while listening to a new version of Nam-Myoho-Renge-Kyo chanting song by Indiajiva. I then experienced anti-gay thoughts-voices from the universe. I think I might have cried it was such a deep feeling. After some genuflect, I realized the Universe was communicating with me what my deepest fear was that kept me from a relationship with The Creator. Being Gay.

I was brought up engraved with the belief that God did not love homosexuals, therefore believing God did not or could not love me. Which I now believe is the answer to that Universal question, when I had that Buddha feeling experience, Chanting to My Gohonzon, when I got confirming I am one of the 144K in the book of Revelation. The question I was meant to answer, in regards to the biggest obstacle to overcome Bread-of-Shame to gain a conscious contact with The Creator. To believe He could love me. Which I find interesting now. When during the Original Restriction, wanting to earn God's light and love, the original vessel pushed it back, away. And all I desired my life was the Love of The Creator, but I could not believe I could have it. Because I am Gay.

Encounters of A Soulful Kind

One day I was feeling very emotional about all the injustice I was seeing online. Again, I had not had any marijuana for some time. I put on Whitney Houston's song "Nothin' But Love" on repeat for hours to help me overcome this depressed feeling I was having. After a few hours of Whitney's song on repeat, I was able to come across some marijuana. As I was smoking with Whitney still playing on repeat, I experienced the voices of the Universe talking to me and the sensation of a vision. I had the compulsion come across me to start writing what I was hearing from the voices of the Universe. There were multiple female voices within the voices. One was of Karen Berg's Soul. I cannot remember much more than that, as the sensation quickly subsided.

[Nothin' But Love – Whitney Houston]

Having come to terms with my situation that I could not return to the west coast on my own accord, where I could have access to my Medical Marijuana, I discussed with my sister who is my rep-payee about getting my own place. She thought it was a very good idea. She and my brother-in-law suggested I investigate getting some land, and maybe building something, which my brother-in-law was capable of building. They showed me online where they sell and finance land in-house. They showed me a list of lots online and one caught my attention. Lot 42. It was a couple acres in a rural wooded area. It was only around four hundred down and two hundred a month. We called and were told to go ahead and go look at the lot.

When we got to the lot, I could see there was a lot of clean up to do. Whomever was on that lot before left piles of garbage just at the edge of the hillside. The lot is about one-third cleared, room for a small home, and the remaining of the lot is wooded area. I followed my brother-in-law as he searched the perimeter of the property for land markers. As we walked through the wooded area, I could see more and more litter. Car parts, tires, muffler system, metal barrels and more. There was also a dried stream bed in the middle of the woods, which my brother-in-law says is likely a runoff stream. He told me this property would be a lot of work to clean up with all the litter and garbage on it. I told him, I could not explain it, but I just have a feeling this is where I am meant to be, that I belonged with this land. I feel this is where The Creator wants me to be. That day we went to office and I signed papers and bought lot 42.

Then after visiting with my sister one day, my mother took a different way home than usual. I did not think anything of it at first. Then we drove by a small mobile home park. And it struck me, it would be so much faster and cheaper to investigate a mobile home, instead of waiting for my brother-in-law to build me a small house. I took it as a sign from the Universe. That week I went to town with my mother and looked at mobile home dealers. When I got to the first dealer, after speaking with the sales-person they showed me a model they thought would fit my needs. When I walked in, I saw it was decorated with Anchors everywhere. And a Sea Theme. I believed it was another sign because of Colton Dixon's Album Anchor. So, I applied for a mortgage to buy that home. I was denied. I was more than sad. I thought all the anchors were a sign.

My mother then drove us to another mobile home dealer on the outskirts of town. They had the exact same model as they Anchor model at the other dealership. However, here it was over ten thousand dollars less. So, I applied again for a mortgage to buy this home. I got back bitter-sweet news. Bitter because I was declined again, and sweet, because the sales rep pulled in a favor and asked them to give me a chance. They changed their decision and gave me a mortgage. I got my anchor home. They would soon deliver the mobile home to my land, however, it would be a while before my brother-in-law could get to it, to hook up electricity, water, and sewage. Around this time, I requested from Disability to handle my own finances. With the encouragement from my mother, promising she will make sure I am financially responsible, our family doctor, signed off for me to handle my own finances.

Mirror Mirror

After returning home, during Chanukah, while I was observing the Chanukah candles which were placed in my Butsudan (The alter that holds my Gohonzon scroll), not only did I see the face of Jesus in the Gohonzon Scroll, I also saw a hazy image of Jesus face in the actual mirror backing of my Butsudan, which my Gohonzon was hanging on.

It was around this time, that my childhood Tourette's symptoms started to resurface, although never having an official diagnosis of said as a kid, other than what my parents learned on the television. However, I seemed to grow out of it, just like my childhood Seizures. The cause of this relapse of my Tourette symptoms, a very disturbing message I received from my angels. "-Basement-Sexslave." Why my angels decided to put such information in front of me, something I had no power over, and no one would believe me if I told them, I do not know. I do not even have a word for the emotional turmoil this put me through. Later that day while at the corner store, unable to take the frustration of this information any longer. Before a line of customers cashing out, I started hitting myself violently screaming over and over, "-Basement-Sexslave, -Basement-Sexslave, -Basement-Sexslave!!!" Violently punching myself over and over, then walking furiously out the store. From there my body jerks and swearing, would resurface whenever I get agitated.

Around January 2017, desiring some alone time, I spent one sabbath at my mobile home. The water was the only thing connected at the time. There was no electricity. I spent Friday night by myself with candles, a kerosene heater, and my music at my new place. I had extra batteries to make sure my phone kept charged and would have my music. While I was laying there at night with candles and my music. I began to feel a presence enter the room. I did not know what to make of it. I was frightened. I started chanting Nam Myoho Renge Kyo. Not to make this presence go away, but to give me courage not to be afraid. The presence ended up leaving though.

That Saturday, I opened my bible randomly, to see what kind of message the Lord had for me that day. I opened to the Old Testament where Jehovah was saying "I am giving this land to you." That may not be an exact quote. I did not realize the significance of the Lord giving me this lot 42 of land at the time. I did not think to write down the scripture. Around the end of February, my brother-in-law was able to finish connecting the electricity to my house. I moved in soon after. My mother and brother would follow moving in with me after the lease on their rental was over.

One rainy day, in fact it may had been raining for a day or two, my mom noticed someone in our driveway. I figured they may just be turning around or something, I did not think much of it at first. After them being there almost five or ten minutes. I got curious as to what they were doing there. I walked out to the vehicle. When I got to the widow, Tammy introduced herself. She was a neighbor down the street. She wanted to welcome us to the neighborhood. She explained she was stuck in the mud, having drove off the driveway onto the grass. As we were waiting a while for her husband to come help her out of the mud. She told me I was a very interesting person, she had never met anyone like me, it was like I had more than one soul in me, looking into my eyes. After that day, we would start to hang out at her place down the street from time-to-time.

Passover would arrive, and with all the expenses of the recent move, I did not have the means for a proper Seder plate. Having in mind what Rav Berg said when discussing another holiday, which I do not recall. Other than the Holiday one cuts their child's hair for the first time. Rav said something about using one's imagination. So, during Seder, I had written and drew down all the food items on pieces of paper. And as I worked through the Haggadah, I would pick these pieces of paper up, bring it to my mouth pretend to eat it and put the paper back down.

Lily, a Christian-Witch would soon move into the neighborhood. Again, I met her while visiting Tammy. She was giving Tammy a Tarot reading. After Tammy's reading I decided to get one. She told me I did not have schizophrenia; she said I was a very powerful psychic who had no control over my abilities. That is why it is so overwhelming. I told her I believe Schizophrenia is a connection to the spirit world, getting too much they cannot handle. She also told me something which seemed very interesting. She told me there is something different about my Aura. That she had never seen an Aura like mine. About this however I question myself. Is it really something about "My" Aura or could it have anything to do with I always carry a Zohar on me. I wonder if the Zohar influences my Aura, or if it is my natural Aura?

Lily lent me a book to read, to help me understand what she was saying about me. "Talking to Heaven" by James Van Praagh. In this book the author describes several Abilities of Psychic Mediums, which looking back over past two years, I realized what I had been experiencing the past few years involved involuntary instances of these abilities. While reading this book I noticed I experienced all but two of the abilities he mentions in his book. Which leads me to believe what Lily said about me being a psychic-empath with no control over my abilities. The best way I can describe it is like the episode “Tin Man” from season 3 of Star Trek The Next Generation. Where the Betazoid prodigy does not have any peace of mind from all the voices around him, until he is joined with the Tin Man Alien life form.

Ancient Ruin Walls?

Having been on my land for about a year, I finally started to get to cleaning up the land. I started in the wooded area. It took me a while to clean it up. There was so much litter. A muffler system, brake pads, metal drums, other car parts, several tires and what else I cannot remember. I had to pry this one tire out from between two rocks down by the stream bed, when I got the tire out, the rock looked to me like a heart broken in half. I started to cry, feeling this was a symbol of The Creator’s heart being broken over the condition of this system of things, and what has been done to Mother Earth. As I walked around the woods picking up litter, I had this feeling of déjà vu. This indescribable feeling I have been on this land before.

When I got to the top of the hill behind the house it was not any better. In this one area the prior people at this land left all their household trash. By time I was done cleaning it up. I had twenty-five to thirty large garbage bags full of garbage. After I finished cleaning what I could, I enjoyed so much more, spending time in the woods with mother nature. Now that I was spending more time in the woods, I noticed this one area within the stream bed seemed not quite natural. It looked to me like this area might have had some kind of man-made dam of some kind.

Feeling I had found something significant; I decided to contact my State’s Archeological Department. They referred me to a retired archaeologist. He asked me to send him pictures so he could look at it. I sent him an email stating the following: “we spoke earlier today about the ancient looking elephant dam\temple in backyard stream. Have taken bunch of pics and send series email. Have other older pics when stream over flows and cistern is full of water. You can see the heart shapes stone where I cleaned debris. Earlier pic full of water from storm. The one root stone structure when floods have water fall through.” After he reviewed the following pictures, he advised he believed it was formed by natural processes. So, I left it at that for the time being Things would take a turn just before Passover 2018. Being sensitive to all the pain, and suffering, and injustice seeing online. I went to the drink for some relief. Once I started to drink, I did not have any control and got waisted. I walked drunk down to Tammy's to give her a bottle I owed her but forgetting the bottle at home. When I got there. I do not remember much. Only that while in her kitchen I went to grab a knife to stab myself. Tammy struggled with me for the knife. I yelled mean and cruel things to her and then ran out of her house. Lily was on the road and noticed the state I was in. As she was walking next to me, as I dropped myself down to the ground and started banging my head against the ground. They called the paramedics and I was taken to the hospital. I was then admitted to a psychiatric ward about an hour away.

My stay at the psychiatric ward would prove insightful. During my stay it seemed as if a large percentage of the patients in my ward were having some kind of Divine spiritual experience. We had conversations about God, faith, and the bible. Each of us taking turns with the one bible in the ward. Handing the bible to the other with a passage marked to be read by the next person. When I got the bible, my passage was of a man who was cutting down an orchard and named his land "Jehovah Shalom." Shortly before this happened, I had been clearing some poplar trees in my back woods. So, I decided at that time I would name my land "Jehovah Shalom."

Then with a few of the patients, we experienced a telepathic communication. Full on conversations. A soul level communication. Like I have experienced in the past. However, this time I did not keep silent about it. I decided to speak out and ask the other patients verbally if they were receiving from me, what I was receiving from them, our telepathic conversations. They said yes. They thought it was not real like the doctors told them. I replied, "Well we just proved it to ourselves it is real. This is part of our spiritual awakening."

One patient who would appear to be talking out loud to herself, walked up to me and told me she was talking to God, and that she knew the difference when the Devil was talking to her. The doctors told her she was crazy. I responded by telling her that I believed her. I believe she is talking with God. She later came to me and told me that she was told I would be a kingly priest in heaven. I told her heaven is here on earth, within us.

The Gohonzon within the Zohar within the Gohonzon

When I got home from the psych ward just over a week, one night my mom would unexpectedly ask me to watch a movie with her. Usually I am left to myself, alone with my music, and conversations with the soul voices in the Light. I sat down to watch TV with her. She was watching Chitty Chitty Bang Bang. It seemed vaguely familiar. I may have seen it before and just could not remember. However, when it got to the Kids being locked up in the Dungeon, I went into a frenzy. Yelling and hitting myself. Screaming how this was a metaphor for what the Book of Revelation says about the perversions of the Kings in the final days. My mother was crying trying to get me to calm down and stop hitting myself.

Seeing how much pain I was causing my mother, remembering a YouTube video “PRAYER TO GET DIVINE HELP DURING TOUGH TIMES: SOUL TOUCHING: SUFI STYLE.” I prostrated myself on the floor in front of my Gohonzon Scroll and started crying and chanting with the video for almost two hours, but changing the Names to Jehovah and Jesus-Sophia and Heavenly Mother. After chanting for a while and composing myself, I went to bed and fell asleep, waking up at midnight to study the Zohar. I grabbed Volume 3 of the Zohar and randomly opened to page 254. This section discusses the patriarchs of Jehovah and their positions on the Tree of Life, which by no coincidence to me, but rather a universal synchronicity, describes the figures on the top of the Gohonzon Scroll.

[Need a Favor – Jelly Roll]

This section also seemed to describe what I had just gone through earlier, and it mentions of a Mirror. Which lead me to believe these three figures on the top of the Gohonzon are indeed, Abraham on the far right, Isaac on the Far left, and Jacob the only one sitting on a throne which resembles the Head Tefillin in the Gohonzon Scroll. With the Abraham stick figure on the right having an image of a bound ram on an alter under him, with what appears to be a dagger in Abraham’s left hand. Again, the Gohonzon Scroll is said to be ones’ universal mirror of their Higher-Buddha (Christ) Self.

After reading this section, I knew it was discussing what just transpired with me earlier, chanting for divine help, and prostrating myself before the Gohonzon Scroll, and looking up towards the Gohonzon Scroll, with the Three Patriarchs atop. I then went and made changes to my Gongyo Sutra Chant book, altering the first prayer to incorporate Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, into my prayers. Previously having added Jesus-Sophia within that prayer. Now realizing the three figures being on top were Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob who is sitting on the throne, and Jesus with Jesus-Sophia eyes the image made of the Chinese words and Sanskrit below, who is from the line of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

My Last Drink (?)

Two days before Passover 2018, I thought I could at least have my happy drink, Saki and be ok. However, that would not be the case. After just a few sips, I felt like I was slightly possessed, and I felt tremendous pain coming from my mother, and had a feeling like she was and was not my natural mother. I had this feeling of something inside me wanting to kill my mother. Not like I wanted to kill my mother, rather more like my mother wanted me to kill her and put her out of her pain. I put on Aretha Franklin's "Who's Zoomin' Who? – Single version" to hear my mother's soul-voice, which I often hear calling to me when listening to that song, to bond with my mother.

I called to my deceased cousin Anthony, to help protect my mother from me. When I walked into my mother's room to cuddle with her for additional bonding to get rid of this feeling. There was a picture of Anthony on her dresser, which had not been there before. I can imagine Anthony must have whispered to her to place his picture there. I started crying when I saw Anthony's picture, feeling he was there to help me not hurt my mother.

After this experience, I felt it would be useful for me to start going back to Alcoholics Anonymous. However, when the memories flooded back of all the pain, and shame I felt, feeling like a pariah in the Gay twelve step community, because of my use of Marijuana. And, partly because I felt I could not be honest with others in the fellowship, who did not know about my marijuana usage. I did not feel I could go to AA as much as I felt, I could not do it alone. I needed their help to never drink again. I cried the whole day reliving that pain, debating with myself if I could go through with going back to Alcoholics Anonymous here, for the help I needed with my drinking.

The Divine Feminine (Of My Understanding)

On the eve of Passover, which started on sabbath this year (Keeping in mind, Judaic [Kabbalah] days begin the evening before). I had a dream in which Ima (Binah) appeared to me in the form of The Female Image on My Gohonzon, just left of Jacob (In the center column, on a throne to his own). She jumped into me, and as I woke up, I felt this Ima's presence within me, which stayed with me all day. Later that morning I was reading Rav Berg's book "Days of Power {Part Two}" again, preparing more for Passover. I had been trying to get some marijuana for my Seder Plate ritual prior to Passover. To have total certainty for this ritual. As when I smoke marijuana, I can at times feel a connection to the oneness of the Universe. However, after being filled with the spirit of Ima, I no longer felt I needed marijuana to have complete certainty.

Time for Seder arrived. To help me through the Seder ritual, I read back and forth between Rav's book and The Haggadah I obtained from Chabad.org. As I was struggling my way through the Haggadah and Seder ritual, I had this fear come over me. That if I did not do the ritual correctly, something terrible would happen. I continued through the Seder ritual working through my fears. Then another incredible thing happened. As I was reciting one part of the Haggadah, I was filled with spirit of The Sophia. The Divine daughter level of the Holy Spirit. With The Sophia presence feeling predominate over the feeling of my own soul.

[West Side Story: Act I: Maria]

To me with this experience of conscious contact with The Creator of my understanding through The Sophia, during my Seder ritual. I took it as a sign that as a Christian Kabbalist, and One of The Hundred and Forty-Four Thousand, I am on the right path for myself, studying with the Kabbalah Centre. Following the tutelage of Rav and Karen Berg. Which for me helps me follow in the footsteps of Jesus of my understanding.

The next morning, I was able to get some marijuana and I smoke for first time in weeks. I immediately was overwhelmed, with the presence of my deceased cousin Anthony. He was there along with the Sophia. I experienced tremendous joy reuniting with Anthony like that. His visit did not last too long maybe an hour or so. And, right after he departed, what felt like a rageful spirit entered me. Then all these other voices started telling me to hurt myself or my mother. I ignored them, even with the mental anguish they were causing me. I replied to the voices, that Jesus died for everyone's sins, I do not need to kill anyone. I know you are not telling me God's will.

Later that night, the voices turned on me again. Trying to put doubts in my head that The Creator did not love me because I am gay. I cried throughout the night, as the Sophia comforted me, reassuring me The Creator does love me, and being gay does not matter. It began to appear to me that possibly when I smoke marijuana during Kabbalistic holidays, after a break from smoking, I am tested with my deepest fear of what prevented me from having a relationship with The Creator. My sexuality. After Sabbath was over, I smudged the house with sage, to rid the house of any negative energy and or spirits.

With what I had experienced with my mother after drinking Sakki, and experiencing the rageful spirit and dark voices after smoking marijuana, I felt it would benefit me to go back to Alcoholics Anonymous again. I made an AA meeting the next morning. During the meeting I shared my experiences over the past couple weeks. After the meeting one of the men came up to me and took me outside to talk to me. Along with suggesting I go to rehab. He told me not to listen to the voices telling me to do bad things; there is a real spiritual war going on between good and evil. This reminded me of my old sponsor telling me something similar. That I need to build up my psychic protection because there is a spiritual war going on. I decided against giving up marijuana completely. Feeling I need to work on my psychic defenses and abilities.

Later during the week of Passover, during my midnight study of the Zohar, I picked up volume 8 of the Zohar, opening randomly to page 283 VAERA 2. Visible and invisible colors, this section to me appeared to be discussing a description of the Gohonzon Scroll again. Clarifying again the description of the three stick figures on top being Abraham (Right Column), Isaac (Left Column), and Jacob (Middle Column, on a Throne) with a fourth flowing from the above three, which leads me to now believe, the image I previously felt to be of Jesus is truly of Joseph the Righteous (with Jesus-Sophia eyes) below made up of the ancient Chinese words and Sanskrit, with a crown of pearls like the Gates of Pearls mentioned in the book of Revelation with Jacob being the center jewel on a throne in the center of Jesus' crown.

Later that morning after reading the above Zohar section, and falling back to sleep, I had a dream that I had come across Madonna in an underground sanctuary. Someone kidnapped Madonna to force her to help them find The Holy Grail. After failing to do so, they left her behind for me to find. Then suddenly, I was back in time, at my father's when I was a teenager. I was reading through these ancient books, and I could feel Jehovah calling me on a mission through these books to go on a quest. I woke up from this vivid dream, got up and walked into the living room. While standing at a distance from The Gohonzon, gazing at it. I was hit with the epiphany. Not only do the Chinese words and Sanskrit make up the image of Joseph (with Jesus-Sophia eyes), but the Joseph image also resembles the likes of a chalice (The Holy Grail).

As Passover was coming to an end, the feeling of The Sophia began to diminish. I still felt her, but not as strong as the first day of Passover. And as the days passed, she would fade away more and more. While studying the Zohar I came across Vol 8 of the Zohar, opening randomly to page 125. Which is a section that helps us connect to this part of the Holy Spirit. So, I started scanning and reading this section daily. To help renew my conscious contact with The Sophia. (Jumping to the Future: As time passed, I would continue to feel conscious contact with the Sophia on and off, but not with any kind of regularity.) As the days went on, I would continue to randomly come across sections in the Zohar, which appeared to be speaking of the Gohonzon.

Then shortly before Lag B'Omer, The death anniversary of Rav Shimon bar Yochai, the author of the Zohar. My brother had slipped into a coma, and placed in the Intensive Care Unit. It was determined he had not been taking his psychiatric medications. For some reason he had not taken his Psych medications for almost two weeks we later found out, which caused him to fall into a Coma like state. My sister had texted me from the Hospital to text her a list of his psychiatric medications. When I did, my spell check messages caught my attention. One included the name of a pharmaceutical company which will remain nameless, followed by the words, "Lowdown" and "Lifespan." The next medication I texted her, my spell check messages said “disapproved” and “discolored.” With other messages leading me to believe at some point we need to try to get my brother off Pharmaceuticals and more on a homeopathic regimen for his psychiatric issues.

Because of transportation issues I was unable to get to the hospital to see my brother for about a week, with him still in a coma. When I went to see him, I took with me the staff with hieroglyphs I found when we had been walking together. I also had a tiny bit of marijuana which I smoked in the car in the parking lot before heading up to his room, with the intent of it helping me connect to the spirit realm to help bring healing to my brother. When I got to his room, the first thing I did was hang my Gohonzon on the wall across from his bed. So, the image of Joseph would look over him. I then placed his music headset on his head, playing him Nam-Myoho-Renge-Kyo (Chanted by Deva Premal, Miten, Manose) in his ears. I then began chanting with my headset having the same chanters as my brother’s headset. Then like the day I heard the voice from my Gohonzon telling me that I am one of One Hundred and Forty-Four Thousand. I heard the voice come from the Joseph Image on my Gohonzon telling me something about “remembering this day.”

[Nam Myoho Renge Kyo Mantra – Deva Pemal, Miten, Manose]

After some time of chanting, I changed my brother’s music to Michael Jackson, One of my brother’s favorite singers on his headset. After about 25 minutes I figured I would give him a selection of Music to listen to and not only Michael Jackson. When I went to change the music, I noticed I had the same Michael Jackson song on repeat for all that time. So, I decided to keep Michael Jackson playing and just take it off repeat and open Michael Jackson to him. I then went downstairs to have a cigarette in the parking lot. As soon as I got down to the parking lot, my sister called me and told me that our brother had started to move his eyes and body for the first time after falling into a coma right after I left the room, after taking Michael Jackson off repeat and opening Michael Jacksons to sing more to him. My brother fully awoke and recovered from his Coma within a day or two and was able to come back home later that week.

Soon after my brother came home, I was able to get a little marijuana again. As I was smoking for the first time, after a break. Bruno Mar’s “Locked out of Heaven” came on. And when he started wailing, I felt The Holy Spirit within him crying out to me. As if his Divine Mother within was crying out for herself to others when Bruno wails in that song. Making me feel the same pain when one time I was crying, and mother asked me why I was crying. I told her they are killing God inside us. I felt The Holy Spirit calling out to me in his song, being locked out of people exiled within us (Non-Conscious Contact?). I started bawling all over again. Feeling the pain of The Holy Spirit Locked out of us I believe. Coming from my experience of feeling the Holy Spirit (Sophia) within me.

Lag B' Omer would arrive, and I would again cry feeling the pain of The Holy Spirit wailing out again. This time through the electrical sound of one of the instruments in Colton Dixon's song "Back to Life." (at time intervals 0:01, 0:24, 1:22 and 3:13) Again, as if The Holy Spirit was screaming out to me through Colton's music. These experiences with Bruno and Colton's music brought back to mind a post I saw on Facebook about The Kabbalah. It said something regarding God desiring nothing more than to be here on Earth (Malchut. The corporeal Garden of Eden.) Which makes me wonder if since I feel The Holy Spirit alive within me, does The Holy Spirit feel my awareness of Her and experience reality differently from when before I or others are filled with a conscious contact with The Holy Spirit? And if so, is this another way we can share with God? Experiencing Life Through Us Physical Beings?

[Back to Life – Colton Dixon]

Then later that night I was reading "The Gospel of Thomas – Annotated and Explained" translated by Stevan Davies. This time I was reading his commentary. Previously only reading the aphorisms of Jesus. I read about how "Q" was a sign of the times of Messiah Consciousness. Coming across this at that time seemed to be synchronicity to me, because I had just recently seen what appears to me as the Hebrew letter Quof (Q) within my Gohonzon. This brought me back in time to 2015, when the Q Angel appeared to me during my out-of-body experience and told me to "Remember Before This Day."

When Aretha Franklin of Blessed Memory passed away on August 16, 2018. I was lying in bed listening to Chakra balancing music that had no vocals, just instrumental music. Suddenly, I could hear Aretha Franklin singing about God's Kingdom to the Lord. It was a song I had never heard Aretha sing before that I could recall; it lasted just momentarily.

Ancient Ruin Walls!!!

Rosh Hashana and Yom Kippur would come and go as normal, which I cannot say so much for Sukkot. A few weeks prior to Sukkot my mother was admitted to the hospital and then a nursing home for a few weeks. I had not really prepared well enough in advance with my mother in the nursing home, I did not have a ride to get supplies or have the finances for that matter. When Sukkot came, I tried to build a Sukkah with natural materials from the land. I used the previously cut down small trees and vines from back woods to make a Sukkah. As I imagined they would have done in ancient times. However, I could not get it to remain standing.

I felt extremely sad that I could not participate in Sukkot as I had desired and could not help but cry. Then while on Facebook, I saw Billy Phillips post, saying he tries not to take these holiday rituals too serious. I felt this was a sign, which helped me to get over my sorrows of my failed Sukkah and use my imagination for the parts of the Holiday which I would have normally been in the Sukkah, imagining I was in a Sukkah. It rained the entire week of Sukkot, so during the ritual to pour water into a vessel to spread light to the world, I would use the natural rain water source from the stream for the ritual.

Still feeling there was something more going on with the structure looking from in the middle of the stream, I decided to talk to Lily about it. When I asked her to come over and look at this area with me to get her impressions, she told me she was wanting to give me a free Tarot reading for my birthday anyway, and she would come over to check out the stream and give me my Tarot reading. When she arrived, she had brought not only her Tarot deck, but an EMF meter. When we got down the stream, I first took her to this pile of rocks which looked like it could be an old grave. She used her EMF meter, and said she got a slight reading. She believed, yes, this was a grave.

We then walked over to the mouth of the stream, which looks like the head of an elephant to me. When we got to the mouth of the stream, the power in her EMF meter went out. She said she did not know what was wrong, she just put new batteries in before she left her house. When we walked away from the stream, the EMF meter's power came back on after we got further away from the mouth of the stream. We then proceeded to a flat area behind the stream, where she would give my Tarot reading. During the reading, she told me this is sacred land, they use to perform spiritual rituals here. There was also some kind of love triangle that was going on between a man and two women which eventually got resolved. Then she told me that I lived on this land in a past life. Possibly around the time when these things were happening.

After Sukkot was over, I could not stop thinking about my reading Lily gave me. I decided I wanted to get a better look at what looked like a structure to me. I started clearing out all the piled-up leaves compacted overtime within this area of the stream. When I got to the point where to me it started to look like this was indeed a man-made structure, I was joined by the Soul of Karen Berg again. I had not experienced her presence like this since Rosh Hashanah 2016. Her soul was within me like before, and I could feel her joy along with mine, as we continued to meticulously clean this area of natural debris together. While we were cleaning, Karen reminded me that “Everything comes from the Creator.” Then I heard a voice ask Karen “Do you think he’s ready?”

[Searchin – Matisyahu]

Having over half this area cleaned out, I started to look online to see which native American tribes lived in this area before being settled by settlers. I found that there were also ancient mounds found in the state built by Native Americans. I figured maybe these mound builders may have made this structure. I figured The Creator had a purpose for bringing me to this land, so I figured I would try to raise money somehow off this structure. Calendars and picture books I figured would be my best option. I started working on making calendars on Lulu.com, in which I would donate a portion of proceeds to help Homeless, less fortunate, and Native Americans.

As I searched online about finding archaeological sites on one’s property, I kept coming across all these nightmare stories. One family had their property invaded by people trying to look around for artifacts. Another let a museum come on their land with an agreement they would not remove anything they found. Only to find an article years later, that the museum found artifacts on their land and kept them and said nothing to the land owner about it. Panic started to arise in me with the thought of sharing my find with the world. After what I read, I marked the trees around my property line with purple paint, as a notice to trespassers. I figured at least with my property posted, if trespassers came on my land, I could have them arrested for criminal trespassing.

I continued with my efforts to create calendars as a fund raiser, until my brother-in-law slapped me back to reality. He told me, if I have found what I think I found, the Government will not let me keep it. He told me he recently seen a news clip on TV, where a land owner found an archeological find on his land. He refused to let the Government on his land to excavate the site. Which land owners have every right to deny the Government access to their land. Since the Government could not legally enter his land to explore the archaeological site, they took his land through Eminent domain. Terrified by this information, I stopped my efforts to use my land, my inheritance, to raise money to help the less fortunate, and myself. Afterall, if the Government took it from me, I would not be able to help anyone with my land, and now I would have lost my land of inheritance from the Lord.

(In this picture I will point out how this is some kind of mystical figure, made of balanced stones and a wood support beam holding up what looks to me as the figures head. The wood beam is dug into the ground.)

Return to Step One

Towards the end of the year, I would receive a call from JR, letting me know he had received a call from the local animal shelter. Since he was listed as a contact when I registered the Chip I had placed in Oscar. I told JR I would send him money, to send Oscar for me. He said yes. When JR contacted me a few days later, after getting Oscar, he told me he was advised Oscar had some health issues, he told me I cannot afford to give Oscar the treatment he needs. He said his friend really liked Oscar and could afford his health care. And that he was not sending Oscar back to me. He was giving Oscar to his friend. I pleaded with JR to give me Oscar back. He just kept telling me “No, you can’t afford the medical treatment Oscar needs.” Oscar did not make it home again.

Although I had started going back to my AA and SAA meetings via phone meetings. I had not concerned myself with getting a sponsor since I had no intention of letting go of my marijuana. As I get many benefits from it, physical and spiritual. I would start to talk to someone I met on a phone LGBTQ+ AA meeting. We started exchanging a gratitude list daily. After around three months of talking and doing our gratitude list together, I asked him to be my sponsor, withholding from him that I smoked marijuana, recalling such the difficult time I had trying to find a sponsor previously because of it. He was more than delighted, he said he had to talk to his sponsor about it first.

When he got back to me, he said he would be more than happy to be my sponsor. He had me get started on doing the Twelve-Steps again from the very beginning. Step One. By June, I had made it to step four where I worked on my personal inventory of my fears, how I have harmed others, and my resentments (and how they affected my life), and my part in these resentments. Before I could do Step Five, where I go over my step four with my sponsor, I had a slip with Crystal Meth, and lost my sobriety date. From that time on, I would no longer experience the occasional feeling of the living presence of the Sophia within. I had lost it, along with the feeling of the singers’ soul voices with their music.

[The Music’s No Good Without You – 2024 Remaster – Cher]

During the period I was working on my step work, I was walking in my woods by the stream this one day and felt the feeling of inspiration come over me. Being part Native American, from my mother's great grandmother (my great-great grandmother). With the spiritual beliefs of the Inuit being like my own. I felt a desire to create a Medicine Wheel on the property. I went online to look at some examples of Medicine Wheels and found the perfect design. One containing thirty-three stones. This to me would represent the thirty-two paths to the Creator, with one main round center stone to represent The Creator, making it thirty-three stones.

When I finished placing it all together, I noticed an angel message with my spell check saying something to the regard of me completing what was needed to be done. Desiring to give the medicine wheel a little power boost, I went online to see what kind of crystals I could accent it with. Trying to keep in the theme of The Creator, I decided on two crystals. Onyx, with their ability to help connect to spiritual energies, standing for the Darkness, and Herkimer Diamonds, with their ability to assist in increasing the medicine wheels spiritual energy, with them standing for the Light. Having completed the medicine wheel, I would begin to use it in conjunction with the Land's Light Energy to send Healing, Light and Love to Mother Earth, and all my Earthly brothers and sisters, using my consciousness, during my prayer and chanting connections.

After my slip with meth, my sponsor felt it was not necessary for me to start back with working Step One all over again. I completed my Fifth Step with him, going over what I had written down for my Fourth Step inventory. By August, I had finished my Eight Step, making a list of people I have harmed and needed to make amends to. It was now time for Step Nine. Although I had done the Twelve-Steps a few times in the past, I never made all my amends, in fact very few of them. This time would be different. I made a list of all my amends, listing one person per page. I made three envelopes, my amends to make, amends made, and amends I could not make being unable to contact these people. Once I made amends to someone, I placed their name in the appropriate envelope. This time, I got all the amends I could possibly do.

I would soon complete the remainder of the steps except for Step Twelve, since I had no sponsee, to help them go through the steps. Then out of nowhere, my sponsor told me he could not be my sponsor any longer. He gave me no reason, just that it was not working out for him. As soon as he told me this, I called my grand-sponsor, my now ex-sponsor's sponsor. I told him what happened, and he told me my sponsor had already informed him. I asked him if he would be my sponsor. He said yes. He took me on as his sponsee right-a-way. And since, he knew from my prior sponsor I had just completed my Twelve Steps, he did not make me work on them all over again with him. And as a bonus, he was in SAA too, so now I had a sponsor for both of my recovery programs all in one.

Then a few weeks following Purim (2021), the Holiday when one is supposed to drink and get drunk for spiritual reasons, which I did not. I decided I wanted to try to see if I can drink again. I told my sponsor I was stopping AA because I wanted to try drinking again, so I can again perform my Sabbath rituals and Kabbalah Holiday with wine instead of grape juice. He suggested against it. I stopped working with him as my sponsor and made my attempt at drinking again. When I drank, I was not drinking to get drunk, or even really buzzed for that matter. Which I did not for the most part. I would end up with the compulsion to drink every day though. After just a little over a month of daily drinking, I felt it was time to go back to AA. I called my prior sponsor and asked if he would work with me again as my sponsor. He agreed. I started my phone AA meetings again.

The Bat Creek Stone

I would come across an article online that would make me reconsider my theory on who may have created the structure within the stream in my woods. The article was about an archaeological artifact found in Tennessee back in 1889 during an excavation. The writing on the artifact was determined to be Cherokee. Almost a hundred years later, another source had determined the writing on the artifact to be Paleo-Hebrew. However, this was contested by other archaeologists, most claiming the artifact was indeed a fraud. Another resource said the Bat Creek Stone had been scientifically authenticated as ancient and authentic.

Having my interest peaked I searched for any other evidence of Paleo-Hebrew sites within the USA. I came across several; The Newark Decalogue Stone, Los Lunas Decalogue Stone, Hebrew Petroglyph Panel, Tucson Lead Artifacts with Hebrew, Hanukkah Earthworks with Hebrew, Newark Keystone, and Newark Stone Bowl.

I began to believe this structure within my stream could have been created by Paleo-Hebrews, based on some of the designs I see within the stream area. Like a tree trunk that looks like it was carved to look like the Hebrew letter Shin (ψ), which represents the Holy Spirit, with a single stone tablet sticking out of the ground close by. Followed by Three smaller tablet stones further down the stream (One of the stone tablets in the stream appearing to look broken, to me representing the tablets Moses threw down and broke) A Dolphin, which the Zohar refers to as a Leviathan, Shapes of crocodiles also talked about in the Zohar in reference to the spiritual realm. Which to me now makes some sense as to why Karen Berg's soul was with me while uncovering the stream structure, telling me "Everything comes from the Creator."

Twin-Flame

With a few months of sobriety under my belt, after not having been in any kind of real relationship since coming into Twelve Step recovery back in 2010. I had a desire to have a lover in my life. I started my online search to find a potential lover. After about a month of chatting on this one dating site, I would meet Ian, from the Philippines. We began to chat every day, usually when it was evening for me and morning for him. This went on for a while, with things on my end not progressing to any feelings more than a friend. I continued to talk to him, hoping my feelings might change, because I was lonely for the company of another man.

After a prolonged time of dealing with the negative voices telling me to kill my mother, and no longer having the soul voices of my music to talk to or the feeling of the Sophia within me, I decided to start psych meds for schizophrenia. After a month or so on the meds, the voices stopped, and I was left feeling completely alone. I know my mother and brother basically lived with me, just next door to my tiny house, but it is not the same as the companionship I have with the soul voices I heard within the Light before taking psych meds.

Ian and I would continue to talk for a little over a year. Then the time came when I had to admit to him and myself, we were not the best match. I told him we can be friends if he was interested. We still chat from time to time. After calling it off with Ian, I felt it was time to get off my Schizophrenia medication, after gaining weight and my cholesterol levels going up as a side-effect from the meds. I also felt there was a chance it could possibly prevent me from being able to experience conscious contact with The Sophia again.

After a few months, I began going back online to dating sites to see if I could find someone to get to know. I sent a message to a guy in South America. He responded back, and we started talking, Umberto was his name. I told him I was looking to get to know someone and see if anything would develop. He was looking for the same thing. We started chatting on WhatsApp. During the first week we were talking, my music which had died after my slip-on meth started to come alive again, after over two years and eight months. I could feel the life in the music again and hear and talk to the Soul-voices of the singers.

Then Sabbath would arrive. During the Friday night online Sabbath connection with the Kabbalah Centre, I would feel the Sophia return to me again. I was so joyful; I had not experienced a conscious contact with her in over two and a half years. She asked me to do the unexpected. She wanted me to block Umberto and stop talking to him. Placing faith in my understanding of The Creator, I did as The Sophia asked of me. I blocked Umberto. I even put a reminder in my phone to remind me I was placing my faith in The Creator, by stopping talking to this man I was truly interested in.

[Beauty and the Beast – LAIVY]

As the days went on after that sabbath, unlike my prior experience of conscious contact with The Sophia after Passover 2018, the feeling remained every day. With this renewed contact with the Sophia, she motivated me to take better self-care of myself. After I had lost my conscious contact with the Sophia back in 2020, I felt somewhat depressed, and was not taking the best care of myself.

I would also be motivated to step up with my studying and prayer connections. Although I was doing them, it was not always on a regular basis. Earlier the prior year I started reading the Zohar from beginning to end, all twenty-two volumes. About thirty minutes a day when I did do it, it was not daily. Now with the Sophia alive within me again, I was reading the Zohar three to four times a day, after my three daily prayer connections and at times after midnight. This continued for a couple months.

During this time, the Sophia would advise me it is time for me to start working on our story again. The book I had been working on over the years, which I gave up finding no viable way to publish it. The one self-publishing site I wanted to use, which was free to self-publish, would not allow one to publish a book that made mention of public figures. And our story is full of public figures who have had a significant impact on my life. Like Rav and Karen Berg, and musicians.

The Sophia, then suggested the idea of making the book in the form of a PDF, and give it away for free, and give people the opportunity to Tip me, to help us accomplish our desire to help Jehovah's homeless on the street and less fortunate. I started reworking on it again, bringing our story up to date, to my current experiences. The Sophia, does not always communicate things to me directly, sometimes she sends me signs, to see if I am open to receiving them. She sent me a sign it was time to stop smoking marijuana. I quit. And this time I had no difficulty letting it go. It just came naturally. Like the Sophia was doing for me what I could not do for myself.

During my prayer and chanting connections, I would begin to see more images appearing to me from within the Gohonzon. They were not clear at first, like they were there and were not there, appearing and disappearing. As I continued with my daily connections, three times a day. The images would begin to become clearer. The image of a smiling Buddha with the same crown as Jesus would appear, with his ears being made of the Crane on the right column of the Gohonzon, and what looks like a praying mantis to me on the left column of the Gohonzon.

Then the other image would appear, I did not know quite what to make of it. To me it appeared alien looking in nature, a side profile of an alien head. The only thing I imagined it could be was something to represent the soul of the Buddha, as the two images are incorporated together, along with the Face of Joseph. This alien head looking figure also would share the same crown with Joseph, and the Smiling Buddha. I can imagine, I started being able to see these images because of the presence of the Sophia, bringing me closer in similarity of form to Joseph and The Buddha. Then another image would come out from within these combined images. The Sacred Heart of Jesus. Consisting of A Heart with a Cross through it, with a Crown of what I would image to be flames.

The Sophia would then give me the feeling it was time to start ending my sabbath correctly with the Havdalah ritual at the end of Sabbath. Before that time, I was just saying a blessing and lighting three candles to end sabbath. I went online and ordered a Havdalah set I could afford. When it came in, I looked up the Havdalah ritual online and wrote it down in my phone and was ready for my first Havdalah ritual. When sabbath arrived, I was prepared to end it with the Havdalah. Shortly before the Havdalah Saturday night, I received a message from Umberto on WhatsApp, from the number I blocked him on. There was even a message about him being blocked. I was at a loss as to why I was receiving a message from his blocked number.

I was hesitant to reply to him at first, after all the Sophia had asked me to block him just around two months prior. I decided to respond to him, telling him I could be his friend and nothing more. We can chat but do not anticipate anything more than friendship. He said he was fine with that. We began talking daily. After a few days, I told the Sophia “I don’t think I can continue to talk to this man and remain just friends, I like him too much.” Within a day or two, I would receive an angelic message on my phone spell check, saying “I – I am – Love – With – It is – you – last – babe. I believed it was a sign from the Sophia giving me permission to move forward with Umberto.

I then started seeing signs leading me to believe Umberto is my Twin-Flame. Not a soulmate, but my Twin-Flame. The other half of my soul. I have read some articles on Twin-Flames that claim, same-sex couples cannot be Twin-Flames, because The Twin-Flame relationship can only be made of Male and Female couple, as the soul has both a Male part and a Female part. However, according to the Zohar, A soul can inhabit a body of the opposite sex of itself. Leading me to believe that between Umberto and I, one of us has a male soul and the other a female soul.

I then started seeing twins around me online everywhere. Then our central a/c unit stopped working. I had a repair man come and look at it. It needed more freon. When I used my card to pay for his services, not only did I need to sign my name, I also needed to print my name in the app on his phone he had. When I wrote my last name, the predictive text gave two options on his phone resulting from me entering my last name, only two options, my last name and “Sprouse,” which is not even close to my last name. I only ever recall seeing three predictive text options for the most part from my experience paying attention to my phone spell check options, feeling angels are communicating with me. “Sprouse” was highlighted. Which I have never seen before. After the repair men left, I googled Sprouse, and it came up with the Sprouse Twins. I had never heard of them before then. Another Twin-Flame Sign.

As Umberto and I continued to get to know each other, I knew if things progressed, I would want to bring him here to the United States to marry me. So, I started researching online the logistics to bring a Fiancé or Spouse to the United States. What I found made me want to put a halt to continuing things with Umberto. Evidently, when you bring a spouse or Fiancé to the United States, an Affidavit of Support is needed, stating you will support them even if the marriage does not work out. I was not willing to take on that liability.

I was going to call things off with Umberto, when I received what I believed to be a sign from Rav Berg. The day I was going to call things off, I received one of the messages on WhatsApp from HaRav’s

Army, a message from the Rav. In the message Rav discussed how if we have been transforming ourselves and feel we have decided with the assistance of the Light, if we later change our mind, about that decision it would be a mistake. Believing the Light and The Creator brought Umberto into my life, I decided to stick things out and move beyond my fear of the liability I would have with the Affidavit of support.

Closer to my birthday during my Midnight Zohar reading, I would come across what would appear to be another section discussing what appeared to be descriptions of images in the Gohonzon, the images I had just recently seen. The Smiling Buddha and the side view of the alien looking head. In Zohar vol. 16 Emor para 154. It discusses the connections in Zeir Anpin, consisting of a Head, Skull, and a Brain. The head being Atik Yoman (The Smiling Buddha), The Skull being Keter (Arich Anpin), not an alien head as I thought, but the Skull of Atik Yoman (The Angel Metatron) with brains of Chochma (Aba), Bina (Ima) and Da'at. With this brain of Chochma, Bina, & Da'at appearing to resemble a Heart; which makes up the Sacred Heart of Jesus, previously mentioned.

The passage also discussed the collection of Sperm in the sky, with mention of the mouth of the penis by the central column. I thought to myself do bad the Gohonzon does not have these images. Then the Sophia whispered to me to re-examine what I thought were images of tadpoles on the Gohonzon. Then it struck me, those are not tadpoles. Their Sperms, with little images of souls on them. Representing the Soul coming down to earth through sperm. Two of them, one in the middle center of the Gohonzon, and One at the bottom middle of the Gohonzon, connected to a Man sitting down with a pole collecting the sperm. And there is also imagery symbolizing the mouth of the penis. Just below and connected to the smiling mouth of Buddha (Metatron) there is a figure of what looks like to me a man with a little back-pack on, wearing a kilt (Or Shendyt), with an erected penis on his left leg.

As things moved along with Umberto and I, we continued to talk daily. We then talked about me coming to visit him for my birthday. We were both excited about it. However, when the day arrived for me to fly to South America, Mother Nature had different plans. After arriving at the airport around four am, when I went to check in, they told me because of the weather in Miami, my connecting flight was cancelled. I had to go right back home. When I informed Umberto what happened, he was upset with me. Not the situation, but with me. Something I had no control over. I started to question his maturity at that point.

After this incident, things took a turn. I started becoming frustrated dealing with Umberto's attitude. And then it was like a black cloud started following him. I got so frustrated I said to the Sophia, "Ma'am (Which is how I address the Sophia) I know you gave me a sign to let marijuana go a few months ago, but if I don't get some marijuana, I'm going to go off the deep end." As soon as I was able to get my hands on some marijuana, I smoked for the first time in months. And continuing to smoke when I could find it over next few weeks, something struck me.

Was this absence of marijuana meant to be a message of sign to me? Having been experiencing conscious contact with The Creator of my understanding through the Sophia over the past few months, I notice smoking marijuana had no negative affect with my conscious contact with the Sophia. In fact, after smoking from a break, while listening to Tina Turner chanting Nam Myoho Renge Kyo, I could at times feel a slight connection to another level of my soul. This recalled the many times I heard others in the gay 12 Step Recovery community, saying that "People who smoke marijuana don't know what it's like to experience a real conscious contact with God." That is not my case from this experience.

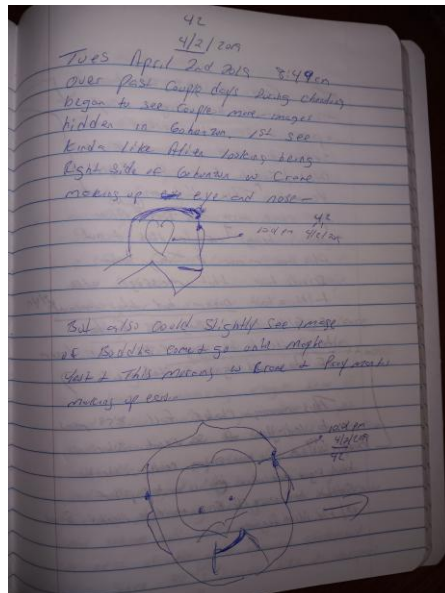

I would then find myself reconsidering this whole Umberto situation, thinking about Job, and being tested. Was this whole thing with Umberto a test? I truly believe he is my Twin-Flame, however, from what I have read about these types of relationships, it is very rare that both Twin-Flames will be on the same spiritual level as each other at the same time. That one is usually a runner, and one is a chaser. Usually finally getting together after both souls have cleaned up their Karmic dept. I called out to The Rav, and told him "Rav if am meant to be with this man, I will do it when you can marry us after the resurrection. Until that time, I just gonna do Me." Then I called things off with Umberto, telling him "This is not working out for me. That I do not think this is the time for us. And I need to separate myself from the situation." We ended it there.

[Gunna Do Me – SKY]

A Sign of Covenant

On Saturday August 5th, I would be doing my online sabbath connection with the Kabbalah Centre as usual. During the lecture for the Torah reading, they played a pre-recorded video of Karen Berg, discussing that week's portion of the Torah. During the video, I would hear Karen's soul voice telling me to take a break from the book I was currently reading, "The Book of the Angel Rezial," and to re-read "Gnosis of The Cosmic Christ – A Gnostic Christian Kabbalah." By Tau Malachi. That day, I set aside the book I was reading and started to read "Gnosis of The Cosmic Christ" again.

About a month later, after my online sabbath connection with the Kabbalah Centre, Friday evening, while listening to Madonna, Madonna's soul would whisper to me to look at my journals from years past. I grabbed a couple of my old journals and started looking through them. Reading some dreams, I had in the past. Then I would randomly open to a page that would leave me in shock. The journal entry was on 04/02/2019 (42), it was a note of just recently seeing images of the Skull of Keter, and the Head of Atik Yoman (Metatron) With a time noted of 8:49am. Another time noted almost 13 hours later, noting seeing the brain in the shape of a heart within the skull and the head. (Of note according to the Kabbalah the number 13 represents Love).

I was taken off guard, I could have sworn that I had only recently seen these images, after regaining conscious contact with the Sophia again earlier this year. The only thing I could figure, was that after my slip-on meth back in 2020, when I lost conscious contact with the Sophia, and my music died, I stopped seeing these images and forgot about them until reseeing them again earlier this year, after the Sophia returned to me. The Zohar section that describes these images, also says that they will be revealed to those who are worthy of seeing them.

That night after my evening prayer and chanting connection, I was torn between reading the Zohar, which I usually do at that time or reading Gnosis of the Cosmic Christ. So, I place it in God's hands. I grabbed a quarter and flipped it, Head, I would read the Zohar, and Tails, I would read Gnosis of the Cosmic Christ. It landed on Tails.

That evening while reading Gnosis of the Cosmic Christ, I would re-read about the angel Sandalphon, that according to the Christian Kabbalah, Sandalphon is the counterpart of the angel Metatron, and that Sandalphon's name means "Shoe-Angel." The first thing that came to my mind was the stone down by the stream by the carved tree trunk in the form of a Shin, which looks like the sole of a shoe, like a shoe is upside down in the ground. I Googled Sandalphon and read it said that Sandalphon stands in the presence of the Holy Spirit. Just like the shoe sole stone by the carved tree trunk in the form of the Shin. (The Hebrew letter Shin representing the Holy Spirit.)

Before reading about this, I believed that shoe sole stone was a sign to me that this land was meant for me, because of how some of the verses sound in Tina Turner's chanting of Nam Myoho Renge Kyo, and Gongyo. In the Gongyo section of Tina's chanting, it sounds like Tina is saying "Shoe Jew He You," with another phrase sounding like Kohen (Priest) Gongyo. (Which is not what the script to this section of Gongyo says). I figured myself as the "Shoe Jew," as my dad owned a cobbler shop when I was a child, where I shined shoes for his customers.

With this knowledge, I again felt that this structure down by the stream was indeed Paleo-Hebrew. Not only is there the stone Shoe-Sole by the letter Shin (Holy Spirit), now to me representing the angel Sandalphon standing by the Holy Spirit. But also, the carved tree trunk in the shape of a dolphin in the sand; A Sand-Dolphin (Sandalphon).

As I continued to read Gnosis of the Cosmic Christ that night, I would come across another surprise. Tau Malachi would discuss the Head, Brain, and Skull which appear on the Gohonzon, which I recently read about in the Zohar, He discusses how these images are interconnected and states that these combined images stand for the unity of the Sfirot, which make up the Tree of Life. I previously believed that the Gohonzon was a representation of the tree of life but could not identify all the Sfirot, that make up the Tree of Life. With Tau's comments, I now truly believe the Gohonzon is an abstract representation of the Kabbalah Tree of Life. With an illustration of the soul making, its way down to this physical realm (Malchut) through sperm.

After going to bed and waking up at Midnight for my usual Zohar study, I would come across why I believe Karen's soul had me re-read Gnosis of the Cosmic Christ. In volume 18 of the Zohar, section Chukat 2. "A man pulled off his shoe." Among other significance of the Shoe, paragraph 9 discusses how when the living gives a shoe to another it is a sign of binding an agreement of transfer of land ownership. To me this was confirmation, of the first scripture I read randomly when I was on this property that The Creator was giving me this land as an inheritance. The stone shoe-sole (Sandalphon) being presented to me by the Living God Jehovah. A sign of A Covenant between The Living God Jehovah and Myself.

(Sand-Dolphin; Sandalphon) (Shin; Holy Spirit) (Stone Shoe-Sole; Sandalphon: Shoe Angel)

In the process of reading the Zohar from beginning to its end of twenty-two volumes; I read one section which discusses of how the Light within the Holy Land Of Israel has been dispersed throughout the world. I have come to believe that this land of my inheritance from Jehovah., is one of those portions of The Holy Light of Israel; making this land Holy and Sacred. I believe as One of the One Hundred and Forty-Four Thousand, it is my Divine Duty to protect and utilize this land in line with The Creator's Divine will. I believe I am meant to through my spiritual practices and rituals help spread the Light of this land throughout Mother Earth and The Creator's children. As evidence to show how the Sophia and Angels communicate with me through my phone' predictive text. When I was making myself a note to discuss the Light of Israel being dispersed around the earth, and that it is my duty to spread this light I got the following message, which I took a screenshot om my phone.

In the following screenshot, I was making a note of the above, I was going to write referring to the land; “, for me to spread and share Light with Mother Earth and Jehovah's children through my spiritual rituals and practices.” After “to spread and” the angel message said what I was feeling: “to Nukva (Sophia/Holy Spirit) serve share spread mother love the be.” I ask myself if anyone else will believe this?

To me a message confirming, this Land was given to me by The Creator as an inheritance, to serve Him and His Holy Spirit. As One of His One Hundred and Forty-Four thousand, married to Jesus-Sophia.

The “High” Holy Days

During the weeks prior to the High Holy Days, while I was working on writing this story, now knowing it is The Creator’s will for me to share my land and the structure within it, I would break out into tears, remembering what my brother-in-law told me about seeing on the news about a man who had an archeological site on his property and the Government taking it from him by way of eminent domain. I feared that if I shared what I saw and if others saw it, the Government may try to take it from me. This land to me, is not just a piece of Property, but a piece of the Holy Spirit, of the Malchut-Sophia level. Another part of me.

Finally, listening to the Sophia within me, I would call my State’s Archeological department. And enquire about my concerns about the government taking my property by eminent domain, if I came public. The man on the phone assured me, from his knowledge the government does not take properties over archeological sites. He advised if the man my brother-in-law told me about, land was taken by eminent domain, there was something more going on than an archeological site. He advised me sometimes, they buy properties if the owner is willing to sell it, but they have never taken by force someone’s land over an archeological site.

I then enquired what was involved with registering my land with the state’s archeological department as an archeological site. He informed me what was involved. After what he told me, I was feeling more comfortable with having them come to look at the structure on my land to see if they considered it an archeological site or not. Just as I was telling him I wanted to register my land as an archeological site, the phone disconnected. I tried to call him back and my call would not go through. I tried again three or four times to call him to register my land, and I could not get a call through to him. Then I said “Ok Lord, you do not need to yell at me. I see this it not the time to register Our land with the State. After that day, I was able to stop crying over the threat of losing this land The Creator had given to me.

On Rosh Hashana, I made my usual online connections with the Kabbalah Centre to connect to the Light-Energy available during those days. Doing my best to be written in the book-of-life for the following year. Securing my light and blessing for the following year. The day after Rosh Hashana, I was feeling in the mood for getting some writing done in this story. However, the Sophia had different plans for me. Following the guide of the Sophia, I went down to the stream to clean around the structure in the stream. Starting by the Stone Mystic figure. The next day, I started to clean the area by the weaved looking wood beams in the middle of the stream, clearing the overgrown blackberry bushes in front of that area. The following day I went down to look at me and the Sophia's handy work, cleaning. As I stood afar off from the stream, I would notice something for the first time.

The three large trees in the middle of the stream, by the weaved wood structure, made up a Large Hebrew letter Shin. Another sign of the presence of the Holy Spirit, and the Sacredness of this Land. Now realizing the Sand-Dolphin, representing Sandalphon the Arch Angel in the Presence of the Holy Spirit. What is so amazing to me about this is that this wooden Sand-Dolphin (Sandalphon) and these structures may have been here for hundreds of years possibly, in my imagination. With the wooden Sandalphon awaiting the physical sign of the Holy Spirit to arrive.

Seeing how one of the trees of this Shin has grown over, and encompassing some of the pieces of wood from this wooden structure, is evidence this wooden structure has been here long before these trees of the Shin grew in. Curious of how old these trees may be, I looked up online how to determine a tree's age by its circumference. I found two different calculations and determined these Shin-trees were possibly between fifty to eighty years old, with my neighborhood not having roads constructed until 1995, being untouched by modern man until that time. The Lord showing his hand in bringing these trees in the form of a Shin with the center tree touching the wooden Sand-Dolphin (Sandalphon).

And as further evidence to me, this is truly a purposeful shin by the Lord. If the small tree to the right is included in the image of the Shin. It is made of the four-headed Shin on the Head Tefillin. Two sperate and distinct Shins as on the Head Tefillin. Of note, the head Tefillin represents Zier Anpin (The Divine Son; Jesus), with the hand Tefillin representing Malchut (The Divine Daughter; Sophia) Also, interesting to me, is the Throne of Jacob on the Gohonzon to me is representative of the Head Tefillin, Jacob's Heavenly (Zier Anpin) Throne.

This following picture has very spiritual significance meaning to me. From searching about Sandalphon online, I read it is said that Sandalphon gathers the prayers of humankind and delivers them to the Lord. In this picture, you will see the Fin of the Sand-Dolphin (Sandalphon) is touching the lip (Mouth) of the Middle Shin Tree. And unless one is saying a silent prayer in their mind, one is using their “mouth” to pray. To me symbolic of Sandalphon Delivering the Prayers of Humankind to the Lord.

Shabbat between Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur would end up being the worst and most enlightening shabbats of my life. Immediately after shabbat started I began to have the worse stomach issues; I took over the counter medicine with no relief. Friday night I was barely able to eat much of Sabbath's First Meal. Saturday morning would be not better, after my online sabbath connection with the Kabbalah Centre, I had to force myself just to eat a piece of bread large enough for the bread blessing to take care of the requirement for the second of the three required sabbath meals.

Still with no relief after more over the counter medicine, I was hating on life, crying throughout the day. As one's connection to the Holy Spirit is determined by their state of mind, emotional and spiritual wellbeing. My conscious connection to the Sophia had diminished and the music barely had its alive feeling, hardly able to hear the singer's soul voices. When the third meal arrived, again I was hardly able to eat. Eating just enough to count for eating a meal.

Things would change after I was able to get some marijuana an hour or so before sabbath ended. About a half hour or so after smoking, I was feeling better. Within an hour, my stomach issues had gone away, and I was feeling back to life, feeling a renewed conscious-awareness connection feeling to the Sophia alive within me, and the singer's soul voices were resurrected within the music. When time came for Havdalah, my sabbath ended on a pleasant note. I believe I experienced this during the Hight Holidays as a sign from God, I had to suffer, to see How much pot benefits me physically, mentally, emotionally, and spiritually, playing a significant role in strengthening my connection to God of my understanding/imagination living Alive within me.

I feel currently, it is very important for myself and the Creator of my understanding/imagination to declare of HOW marijuana is part of my conscious-awareness and connection to God Alive withinside me. Strengthening that connection, with its ability to heal me physically, emotionally, and spiritually. Helping me to Awaken here below, and as the Zohar says, there is no Awakening above, until there is awakening below.

When I first came into the rooms of twelve-step recovery, I had a hard time accepting God could love me as a gay man because of my understanding growing up. Marijuana gave me a feeling of connection to The Creator and his Universe. Opening me up to possibility God could love me. When I stopped marijuana attempting to conform to others definition of sobriety, and conscious connection to God. I lost that feeling of connection to the Creator, and ability to open my mind that He could love me as a gay man. It was not until I came to the Kabbalah Centre, and starting to learn Kabbalah, that I could believe again that God could love me as a Gay man. And as the Rav says, everything is about consciousness. If I did not believe The Creator could love me, how could I have a vessel to receive His Light and Love? Since I did not believe He could love me, I was unopen to receiving The Creator's love and Presence. Both Marijuana and Music are an integral part of my relationship, helping my experience a stronger connection to The Creator through the Sophia, of my understanding.

Rav's Day of elevation would arrive. During the connection a comment was made about listening to the Rav more often. During the day of Rav's elevation, I would listen to Rav on my Telegram app from HaRav's ARMY. Listening to Rav, I could hear Rav's Soul voice whisper to me through his recording. Although not as loud and clear as the sabbath I heard Karen's Soul Voice tell me during her recorded sabbath lecture to go back and read Tau Malachi's book.

I had planned on putting my sukkah up during the day of Rav's elevation. However, mother nature had a different plan. It started to rain lightly. When I looked at the weather forecast, the rain was supposed to get worse, with less chance of rain the next day. The following day, however, the forecast and weather changed and it continued raining. With sukkot starting the next evening, I decided to put up the frame and walls of the sukkah in the rain with the help of my brother. When we first set up the frame, I was disappointed.

When the box of the canopy said six-foot height, I was not thinking it was talking about the center of the roof of the canopy. It was much smaller than I imagined. However, after a few moments, I changed my consciousness and mood about it, and figured it would make a cute tiny sukkah. We proceeded to put the walls of the sukkah up in the rain. The following morning, when I am usually getting ready for sabbath, cleaning and cooking for sabbath, I had delayed those things and start working on the sukkah's roof, for sukkah that evening.

I went and cut down two small poplar trees, to use the trunks as support beams on the roof to tie the branches with leaves down onto the roof. I then trimmed off all the thin branches full of leaves to create a Schach (roof) for my sukkah. After completing the Schach, I was quite pleased and happy with the ending result. It turned out to be a very cute tiny little sukkah. Just big enough for a table and three chairs. One for me and two for my daily spiritual guests during Sukkah. I proceeded to get prepared for sabbath, cooking and cleaning (for the Sabbath Queen & King).

The following morning (Sabbath), the first day of Sukkot, when I went outside, I was faced with a pleasant surprise. To me a sign of the presence of God, and approval of God of my humble little sukkah. All the leaves on the roof (Schach) of my sukkah had dried out, all but the ones just over the door opening of the sukkah. I took a picture and texted it to my sister and asked her if she saw anything out of the usual. After a moment, she said she saw a red snake in the leaves of the tree. I told her I had not noticed that and directed her attention to the green leaves over the sukkah door, while all the other leaves had dried out and turned brown. Once she noticed the green leaves over the door, she agreed with me that it was some kind of sign of God.

On the second day of Sukkot the leaves above the sukkah door were still green and semi-plush. Turning brown on the third day. After the first two days of Sukkot passed, which are the holidays of the Holy week, when I was not eating, making prayer connections, or studying in my sukkah, I would do some cleaning by the Shin-Trees down by the stream and the Ancient Ruin Walls area. On the third day of Sukkot (Jacob's Day), after cleaning more around the Shin-Trees, and pruning the fern on the trunk, I stood back to admire our handy work (The Sophia within me, and myself). When I looked at it, I immediately saw the face of the Shin-Trees. To me a ghostly-looking face. The Holy-Ghost?

Somehow, by Divine guidance I believe, as this part of the Shin-Trees was growing over this pre-existing wooden structure, it grew with this wooden beam from the structure within it. One of only three beams from this structure sticking out of the ground almost vertically. With the design of the end of this wooden beam making up the nose of the Holy-Ghost face. A wooden nose similar in appearance to a Fiery-Flame. (A symbol of the "Breath-of-Life")

As I walked around, I came across another Stone-Shoe, another sign of Sandalphon, and the stamp of the Creator giving me this land as an inheritance. This Stone-Shoe is in perfect alignment with the center tree of the Shin-Trees (Which has the physical form of a Sand-Dolphin [Sandalphon] statue touching it) to the North. Again, the other Stone-Shoe by the small carved Shin-Trunk, which is in perfect alignment with the Shin-Trees to the east. Forming the outline of a Triangle between those three symbols of Sandalphon and the Shins, creating a shield.

I would then notice another sign of human hands having a part of this structure. A heart-like scepter-like symbol. This heart shaped stone was placed on this wooden beam like a setting for the heart. It appears a little stump on the end of the beam was carved to snugly hold this heart-stone, with the point of the heart buried in the side bed of the stream creating a jewelry-like setting for this Stone-Heart. I Micro-Stone-Heart in alignment to the Macro-Stone-Heart scepter on the other side of the Shin-Trees.

On the fifth day of Sukkot (Aaron's day), my sister would finally make it over for me to show her the Shin-Trees with a face of the Holy-Ghost I recently noticed. She had planned on visiting sooner but was unable to make it. As we walked down by the stream and Ancient Ruin Walls, my sister would also see the symbols and figures I see as I was pointing them out. Telling me she will see how others may see it and others may not. Before she left, I asked her to show me this red snake she saw in the picture of my sukkah with the green-leaf door, where all other leaves of the Schach died. I noticed it right away after she expanded the picture and pointed it out. I knew it was some kind of sign, though what the meaning of it was, I was at a loss.

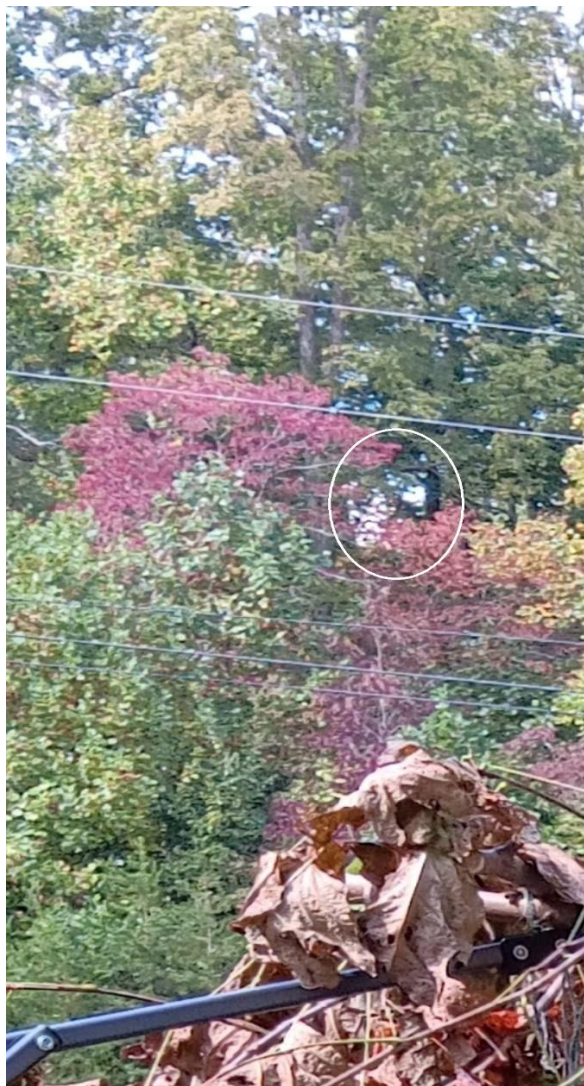

After my sister left, before my afternoon connection, the Sophia guided me to look up Tau Malachi online. When I found the website of the Fellowship he founded (www.Sophian.org, and it's associated site www.ecclesiapistissophia.com), I now knew what the sign of the Red-Tree-Snake meant. The Logo of Tau's fellowship was made of a Red Ouroboros (The circular snake eating its own tail), along with a Dove, and a Chalice within it. As I read through Tau Malachi's fellowship's websites, I could not hold back the tears-of-joy. It was like I had found a second home. With The Kabbalah Centre being my mother-Spiritual-Home. With Rav and Karen began the first half of my Christian Kabbalistic faith and understanding with the creation of The Kabbalah Centre; with Tau Malachi's fellowship Ecclesia Pistis Sophia, making up the other half of my Spiritual-Home and completing my faith and understanding as a Christian Kabbalist. Afterall, it was Tau Malachi's book The Gnosis of Cosmic Christ, which gave me the understanding and belief of how Jesus was so intricately linked with the Kabbalah. Jesus being the incarnation of the Divine-Son (Zeir Anpin). And Mary Magdelene being the incarnation of the Divine-Daughter (Sophia/Malchut), the female-half of Jesus' Soul.

Before learning of the Sophian-Christian Kabbalah, through Tau Malachi, I had imagined Jesus might have practiced Kabbalah after reading the Gospel of Thomas then hearing of Kabbalah as an Ancient Jewish Wisdom, and later coming to the Kabbalah Centre. After coming to the Kabbalah Centre and reading the Zohar. I learned of the Divine-Daughter (Nukva/Holy-Spirit/Malchut), and the Divine-Mother (Imma/Holy-Spirit/Binah). With Tau Malachi's book making the connection to Jesus within the Tree-of-Life and creation. Also, before I learned kabbalah, I was of the belief that The Holy-Spirit was the non-sentient/non-living force of God used for Creation. Not knowing the Holy-Spirit is truly the Living Female-Aspect of the Creator.

After my afternoon prayer connection, I continued to browse through Tau Malachi's fellowship websites. While listening to one of Tau Malachi's past Sabbath lecture's I was looking again at the picture of the Red-Tree-Snake in the background of my Sukkah. As I was looking at the red-tree-snake in the background, Tau was speaking of something being "In the Background." At then I noticed another image within the image of the Red-Tree-Snake. A White-Light Faced woman with Black hair, with a mystical-looking animal beside her appearing within the neck of the red-tree-snake. With me believing it is a sign of Sophia. I believe it is by no coincidence; my sister would come by on the day of Aaron the High-Priest being the guest of the day.

Later that night during the Hashanah Rabbah connection online with the Kabbalah Centre, they would touch on topics which I had heard earlier listening to some of Tau Malachi's past Sabbath Lectures on YouTube (synchronicity). My High Holidays connections would conclude with online connection with the Kabbalah Centre for Simchat Torah which fell on Sabbath.

The night after Simchat Torah, with all these signs that the Lord had presented to me over the High Holidays, Sophia encouraged me to grab my “Writings of Nichiren Daishonin (Vol. 1)” to see if Nichiren Daishonin had any message for me. Nichiren Daishonin being the Japanese Monk who inscribed the Gohonzon scroll. I opened randomly right to letter 58 “Reply to the Lay Priest Soya.” In this very brief letter Nichiren is discussing the importance of chanting both the “Expedient Means” and “Life Span” portions of the Lotus Sutra. With these two portions being chanted called “Gongyo,” and the chanting of “Nam Myoho Renge Kyo” “Daimoku.”

After losing the feeling of Sophia alive within me after my slip-on meth in 2020, I was not in the best frame or state of mind. Recalling an article by President Ikeda discussing how chanting “Gongyo” can have an amplifying effect on one’s state of mind while they are chanting. And if someone is in a negative mind-space, chanting “Gongyo” can amplify that state. And it would be better not to chant “Gongyo,” and just chant Nam Myoho Renge Kyo (Daimoku), until one’s state of mind and consciousness improves. Based on President Ikeda’s suggestion in this article, I stopped chanting Gongyo, and had only been chanting Daimoku the last few years. Now with the return of Sophia alive within me, and all the blessing over these past High Holy days, and having an elevated consciousness, Nichiren was letting me know it was time to resume chanting “Gongyo.” To amplify the positive state of mind and life condition I have been now experiencing with Sophia alive within me again.

According to Kabbalah, life is built on a three-column system, and with the Gohonzon having three columns, I decided to gather two additional messages from Nichiren. The second letter I randomly opened to was letter 144 “Letter to Akimoto” Which is a very long letter with three very pertinent points. The first point mentioned by Nichiren was the difference between chanting “Nam Myoho Renge Kyo” (NMRK) and “Namu Amida Butsu.” (NAB). Showing how only NMRK can lead to Buddhahood and Enlightenment. As Chanting NMRK, is chanting of One’s dedication of one’s life to the mystical Law (Karma). And chanting NAB is chanting one’s dedication to a Buddha, making one’s object of devotion a Buddha, not the mystical law (Karma).

NMRK is of someone applying the teachings of Buddha in the Lotus Sutra to one's life and working towards their own enlightenment and Buddhahood on their own merit. While NAB is relying on the merit of Buddha, and making the Buddha an object of devotion, and not working towards one's own enlightenment and Buddhahood; not devoting one's life to The Law. The second message within this letter addressed by Nichiren was the need for me to share NMRK (the Law) with others. Realizing that some may hate me for it, but some may benefit from it. And the I Need not concern myself with those who may hate me but concern myself with those who would benefit from it. With the final message advising that the Lotus Sutra would be most difficult to believe and hard to understand. I have to say if I was presented with my current understanding of Kabbalah, Christian Kabbalah, and Chanting NMRK with the Gohonzon with its biblical images on it, I would have never been open to believing it. Never mind attempting to understand it.

The third letter I opened randomly to for my third and final message from Nichiren was 55 "Reply to Niama." This letter discusses the creation of the Gohonzon, how it of the essence of the Lotus Sutra, and how its Image has never appeared before, other than in the Heart of Shakyamuni Buddha. And that although the Lotus Sutra and Gohonzon are before people's eyes, if they lack the proper capacity (Consciousness?) it will not be revealed to them. [Of note about the Kabbalistic images within the Gohonzon, the Zohar section which described the Head (Smiling Buddha face), Skull (Keter) and Brain (Chochma, Binah & Da'at), says those images would only be seen by those who are worthy of seeing them.] This letter goes on to discuss how many Bodhisattvas gathered before the Buddha, seeking the Buddha's permissions to propagate the Gohonzon. With the Buddha advising of the proper time for its revelation.

Rachael The Matriarch

Traditionally, on the anniversary of a Tzadik's death, to connect to the light revealed by that person, one lights a candle and studies from the writings of that Tzadik, if there are any that is. When the death anniversary of Rachel the Matriarch arrived, to connect deeper to her Light than in past years. This year I would read from the teachings in the Gospel of Mary Magdelene ([Secret Gospel of Mary \(sophian.org\)](http://Secret Gospel of Mary (sophian.org))), another reincarnation of Rachael the Matriarch (The Sophia). As I read through the gospel of Mary, I could see similarities with the description of Ima/Binah and the Oneness of the Images within the Gohonzon, The mystical symbolic image of the Soul. I could see the connection.

The following day down by the stream structure, I had the curiosity arise as to what kind of wood the Sand-Dolphin carving was made of. Or if there was anything else I could find out about if from a laboratory. As the bottom of the carving was more deteriorated, I felt around to see if there were any sample, I could easily separate from it. A nice little piece around two inches or so came off. I did a search on line for wood testing and called a laboratory that tests wood samples. I was told they could only tell me what species of tree it was. Having called around and finding that is the most I would do with my resources I sent my sample off to see what species Sand-Dolphin is of.

When I went to check the status of my sample's route to the lab, I received what I consider a Kiss from the Universe, a synchronicity. The package had just passed through Phillipsburg, NJ. A Homophone of (Rav) Phillip Berg. A sign to me. Not only of sending the wood sample off for testing, but also to include some other Homophones regarding The Gohonzon and Kabbalah which I have taken to heart for myself over the past few years within the second and sixteenth chapters of the Lotus Sutra, chanted before chanting NMRK.

When the lab technician contacted me about the results of the testing. I was advised the results were inconclusive, possibly because the sample appeared from the trunk of a tree and was not the most preserved. They could tell it was an Oak, but what kind of oak they could not determine. The best they could guess was it was one of three oak species. A red, white or a Live oak. The first two I am pretty sure of being on my property. However, the third species, Live Oak, is not even in my region. The third to me being a sign. A "Live" Oak. The Lord showing S/He is ALIVE. With an extra portion of the Lord's Light within this land and Shrine structure.

During an evening prayer and chanting connection, while listening to “Chanting with Sensei” (Sensei Ikea) on YouTube. I could hear Sensei Ikeda asking me questions about what I was seeing while chanting and gazing at the Gohonzon. Listening to Sensei I could see how the main form on the Gohonzon that resembles a menorah also resembles the Hebrew letter, Hei. Which represents both the upper (Binah/Ima) and lower (Malchut/Sophia) level of Holy Spirit. Though backwards as if in the reflection of a mirror. How fitting as the Gohonzon is a micro-mirror of the Macro-Universe, Malchut.

Also, after this evening connection, I would find the Lord had other plans for me than I had originally had in mind for myself and land, regarding making some earnings from our story, to secure and protect this land and assist in helping others less fortunate. The original idea was to have a virtual tip jar for sharing this story, and making available print-on-demand Calendars and photo books of photos of Shrine Structure and land. After my connection, the Sophia whispered to me to search again “print-on-demand.” I found such a thing I never knew existed. I knew of print-on-demand books, but not what I found. Multiple Print-on-demand companies. I signed up with Printify.com and knew this was what the Lord now had in mind for me along with sharing our story.

I started designing products with pictures from the land. I found with the right sizing; I could see clearly the (Teddy-Bear) Sophia and Jesus image within the trees taken during Sukkot. Looking like she is within a bed of the flowers that represent her in the Zohar. Roses. I was so happy working on these products. Yet I did not know the best was yet to come.

With all the Zohar images within the Gohonzon, while doing my evening connections one night. I started playing around combining Gohonzon and Zohar to Gohonzohar within my prayer notes. I am not trying to rename the Gohonzon, was just playing with the similarities between them. I still call the Gohonzon, the Gohonzon. While I was doing this in my prayer notes, I noticed the most interesting messages from my spell check angel messages. When I changed Gohonzon to Gohonzohar within my note and the notes title, my angel messages had two-words in each selection of the spell check fields, Gohonzon this, and Gohonzon that.

With the first six two-word phrases from the screen shots matching but in different order, and the remaining three spell check fields saying something different. The one from within the prayer said Gohonzon arena – Gohonzon army – Gohonzon arrived. And the one from changing my note title said Gohonzon area – Gohonzon Ari – Gohonzon articles. My angels confirming the connection of the Gohonzon with the Zohar. As the Ari is the founder of Lurianic Kabbalah. The lineage of the Kabbalah Centre. Letting my know that chanting Nam Myoho Renge Kyo before the Gohonzon for me is also doing my part as one of the Ari's Army. And confirming the Gohonzon's time is now with the message of "Gohonzon arrived."

As I continued to have fun working with the products on Printify, my Zohar reading suffered to some degree. However, 45 days after Simcha Torah, The beginning of the War against Israel. I was reading my Zohar and would end up having a flashback and recurrence of 2015, when I felt more connection to the spirits around me and within me, brought on from what I was reading. I started taking notes like crazy in my Zohar Vol 19. Balak “47. In the time of Messiah” in which it says some of these prophecies will be in later times and over different times.

At first, I double guessed myself about what I was reading, because the Zohar is Kabbalistic and goes by the Lunar calendar. However, I had started listening to Rav more from HaRav’s Army on Telegram. As I was listening to Rav on Chayei Sarah while reading this Zohar section. Rav whispered to me not to be so quick to dismiss my initial feeling, and to look up a curiosity that came to mind about the Star mentioned in the section. A Star being seen on Friday the 25th day of the Sixth Month. In the Kabbalistic Calendar that would be Elul 25th. But in the Gregorian calendar it is June 25th.

I thought to myself this could not be talking about Michael Jackson, which was who first came to mind when I read the 25th day of the sixth month, also my birthday. I searched online and found June 25th of 2009 was on a Thursday and not a Friday. However, to me, since the Zohar cannot be taken literally. Yes, Michael died on the 25th which was a Thursday. But it was not until the next day “Friday” His Star was seen across the entire globe. The Zohar next mentions how this Star will be gathered and covered the end of 70 days. It turns out due to Janet Jackson, Michael was not buried for seventy days after his death.

What then started making more sense to me, was after Rav again whispered to me to educate myself more about the war in Israel, I saw that as in this Prophecy. The ground was “Shuddering” from bombs from the temple out 45 miles. Then it discusses a cave which will be discovered, from which a fire will burn and a great branch will arise. At this time, it was obvious to me with Rav’s help. This was talking about the small cave/cavern under the rock on the Shrine which the Sophia had me place the obelisk stone of Sarah Shabbat. With the Wood filament in it. I had been using my medicine wheel as a talisman to focus and spread the Light of the land around the entire world for some time at that point. The “Great Lofty Branch” to me. The Shin tree with the face of Mother Earth within it. Another significant sign to me as a connection with this Prophecy and Michael Jackson and This land is the quote of Zecharyah 14:9, Using Kabalistic means one can see the Prophecy in Revelation of 1914 (Also 1814 sentimentally), When Jesus takes his Throne in Heaven, consummated with the Image of Universal Christ inscribed within the Gohonzon. My own personal interpretation.

That night I could feel Michael’s soul come through to me a little more clearly. Feeling Michael’s approval for supporting his innocence as proclaimed through my angelic messages received on my phone back in 2015. I asked Michael for a sign to know this was really coming from him, and that my ego was not involved in the situation. Michael told me to pick up an old proof copy I had previously printed. I closed my eyes and randomly opened to the page of one of the Angelic messages that proclaims Michael's innocence. (Which will come later in this story).

(Of note in regards to the Clubtails and blunt in previous picture, I placed those there, for others to know, that my connection to spirit is boosted some with help from a little alcohol and weed. A sign to me solidifying this was an encounter I had with a Psychic back in 2015 during one of my periods when I had the world muted out with music and only communicating with writing notes. The Psychic replied with a comment like their spirit guides were telling them there was something on my breath. I replied it was alcohol and that it helped me connect to my ancestral spirits. Unless they had no sense of smell, why would they need their spirit guides to tell them alcohol was on my breath. I knew they were giving me a clue that alcohol was a tool for me to use if I do not overdo it.)

That week during our family gathering for Thanksgiving at my sister's house, I shared with both my sister and cousin who was visiting with my sister the Prophecy I just found in the Zohar about the current war in Israel along with Michael Jackson's death and connection to my land. My cousin came with me to my land so I could show her the structure on my land. Explaining to her how the stream mouth opening that looks like an elephant is a symbol of the Torah, and when the stream is running it symbolizes water flowing from the Tree of Life. And how the Shrine which looks like a mystic holding a tablet, symbolizes Moses on Mt Sinai. With Moses also symbolizing our soul, and the ancient creature looking head at the other end symbolizes our Ego. With the Flame Oblisk stone symbolizing messiah consciousness when our Ego and Soul are aligned and transformed to receive for the sake of sharing.

I showed her how the structure flowed from the Shin Tree, to the stone carved like the shape of a crystal which symbolizes the original soul. With the Broken Heart stone along with all the other smaller stones behind it scattered as if the Heart Stone was shattered and all the pieces of it that make up the Universe after the Big Bang (The Original Restriction). And how the Stone Heart Scepter which to me symbolizes Egypt, from the crocodile head that makes up part of the setting of the scepter. And how when the water flows, it symbolizes our soul going through out of Egypt flowing to the mount that represents Mt Sinai, to past the Moses Shrine, symbolizing our exiting from Egypt and reaching Messiah Consciousness, Conscious Awareness of the Living Presence of God within.

After showing my cousin the structure and then the Images I see within the Gohonzon. She was at a loss, she said she had never seen or heard of such a thing, and that I was very wise, and I must be a prophet. I told her I am not wise at all; it is the Holy Spirit that reveals these things to me. I would not have known these things on my own. And though others have also called me a prophet, I do not call myself a prophet. However, I did disclose I am one of the One-Hundred and Forty-Four thousand in the book of Revelation.

Ancient Lady Mary Jane

[Reservoir – Matisyahu]

During the beginning of the week that Chanukah would start during and evening connection, while listening to Rav's Chayei Sarah, and looking at the Gohonzon, Rav would bring my attention to what to me looks like a lady smoking a joint (marijuana). The image in which The Holy Spirit Mother, Ima, appeared to me in a dream the night before Passover Seder 2018, when I was filled with Her spirit when I woke up that morning. Rav told me this was part of my inheritance with this land. For the first time since hearing Rav come through his recordings, I did something to confirm what I believed I was hearing from Rav. I grabbed my purple pendulum, holding it within my altar (Butsudan) before my Gohonzon and asked Rav if he was there. The pendulum moved indicating yes. When I asked Rav if this truly was what he was communicating to me was that I was to use this image as part of my inheritance. The pendulum moved so fast back and forth, it almost flew out of my hand. The answer a definite "YES."

I proceeded to set my camera up on the tripod and took a picture of my Gohonzon. [Jumping to the near future. The next time I went to use my camera after taking the picture of my Gohonzon, the camera would not work. I charged the new battery I just got, and the camera still would not work. I ended up having to buy a new camera] I then cropped out the image of the lady with the joint, Binah. I was just planning on using this original cropped image to make and sell products with my Printify account. However, the Sophia had different plans. She advised we needed to add some color to it. So, we enlarged the image and started doing I guess what would be restorative work and darkened in the image with black. Once that was done, we started adding color within Binah's eyes, adding Blue as Sapphire is the stone of the Nukva. We then filled in the flame looking form within Binah's hand. When we got to Binah's lips, and I filled in her lip area with red, I did not like what I saw at all. She looked like a clown to me. At this point, I told the Sophia that I am not going through with this. She looks like a clown and I will not but her out looking like a clown. I was disappointed and kind of over it. Then the Sophia mused me to look at my Spotify while Madonna was playing. Madonna's lips had black outline around her lipstick on her album cover. I then added the black outline to Binah's lips and then she looked perfect, and no longer like a clown.

At this point to me we were done. I added the image to my Printify account and ordered a canvas proof print. Afterwards while I was making my grocery list on my phone notes. When I was in the process of writing down “white rice.” once I wrote “White,” I saw my spell check message say “Fur” in the first column. Immediately the thought came to mind of filling in Binah's coat collar to look like white fur. However, I was fighting with myself about actually going through with it. I had already ordered a proof print, and I was happy with it. All the way to and while I was shopping, I continued to fight with myself about whether I should do as the spell check message implied and fill in Binah's collar to look like fur.

When I got home after putting the groceries away, I went back and went ahead and filled in the collar of Binah's coat to look like fur, and filled in the pre-rolled looking joint. It looked amazing to me. Excitedly I went over to show the image to my mother. Recalling when I asked my sister what she saw when I asked her to look at my Sukkah, instead of telling her what I saw, and she saw the red tree snake. I asked my mom what she saw. She pointed around Binah's lips with the Joint and Fur collar coat and said she sees an angel., then She pointed to where the flame is, and the lines below it and said she sees an angel there too. At first, I was a bit annoyed she did not see the whole picture as Binah smoking a joint. Then opened my mind and eyes more to see what she was seeing. Then I also noticed how the right sleeve looks like it has an eye, like my blind cataract eye, now making up a dog figure within her right sleeve. To me a synchronicity sealing to me this image is part of my inheritance, as Rav had told me.

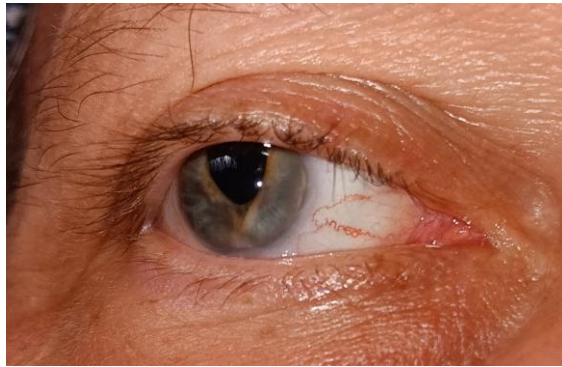

(Mom' Angel)

(My blind cataract eye matching K-9's eye in Binah's right sleeve)

I now realized this image of Binah smoking a marijuana joint from within the Gohonzon, would be the main artwork for my Printify print-on-demand stores as Ancient Lady Mary Jane. During Chanukah I work vigorously on the Ancient Lady Mary Jane products in my Printify Store. During that time, I was also working on my website www.miwho.net. Getting it ready to launch on Tu B'Shevat, the Kabbalistic New Years of the trees. When the plant kingdom receives their sustaining light for the year. I wanted to connect the energy of this holiday to Ancient Lady Mary Janes product line. With the help of the Sophia, we came up with an amusing descriptive introduction to introduce Ancient Lady Mary Jane, and her Alms to the Homeless and Less Fortunate. With 30% of profits from her line after production cost going to help the homeless and less fortunate.

Announcing the arrival of Ancient Lady Mary Jane (Heb. Binah), Our Universal Mother in disguise, with Eyes of Sapphire and her Ruby lips, she breathes into her Metaphysical-Joint the Light of Healing and Blessings for all who partake of her Sacred Herb.

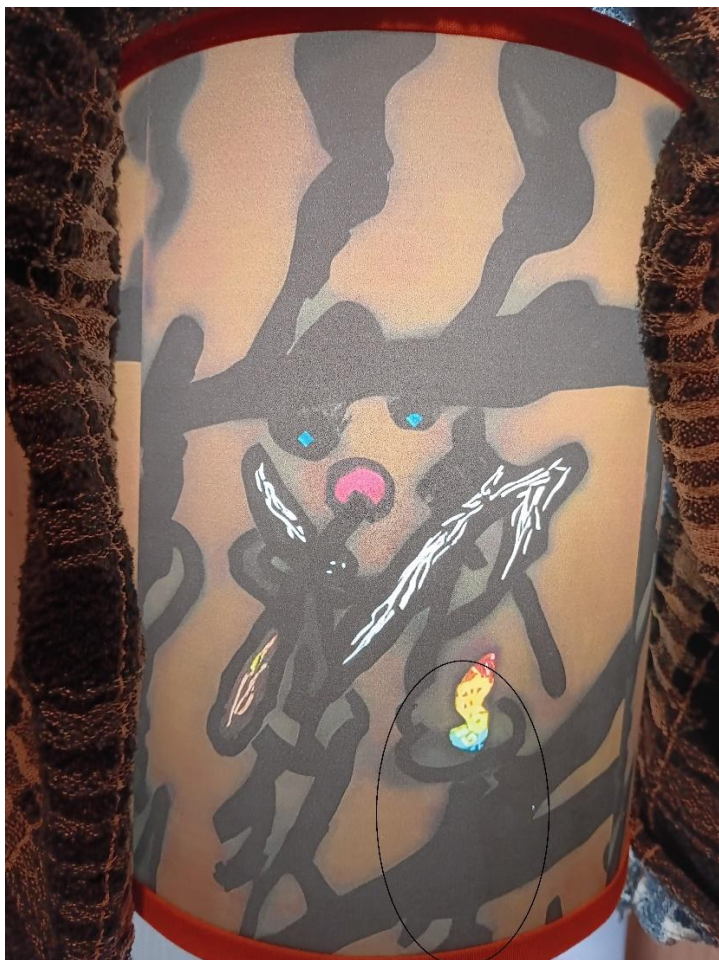

Adorned in a white fur collar coat, composed of her courtier the Archangel Sandalphon whose head is of Her Ruby lips, blowing a Metaphysical-Joint-Trumpet (Heb. Shofar), with her wings being of her Lady's white fur collar coat. Along with her Loyal Sheperd Dog Miwho with his Cataract Eye, who lies within the sleeve of her arm which holds the Flame of life, burning The Force of Life into her Metaphysical-Joint, with Pillars of black smoke atop her Heavenly-Diva Hat.

She arrives with ALMs for the Poor. With 30% of profits from her Line going to help the Homeless and Less Fortunate. {Inclusive of LGBTQIA2S+, Native Americans, and Israel. - See "ALMs of Ancient Lady Mary Jane" at www.miwho.net}

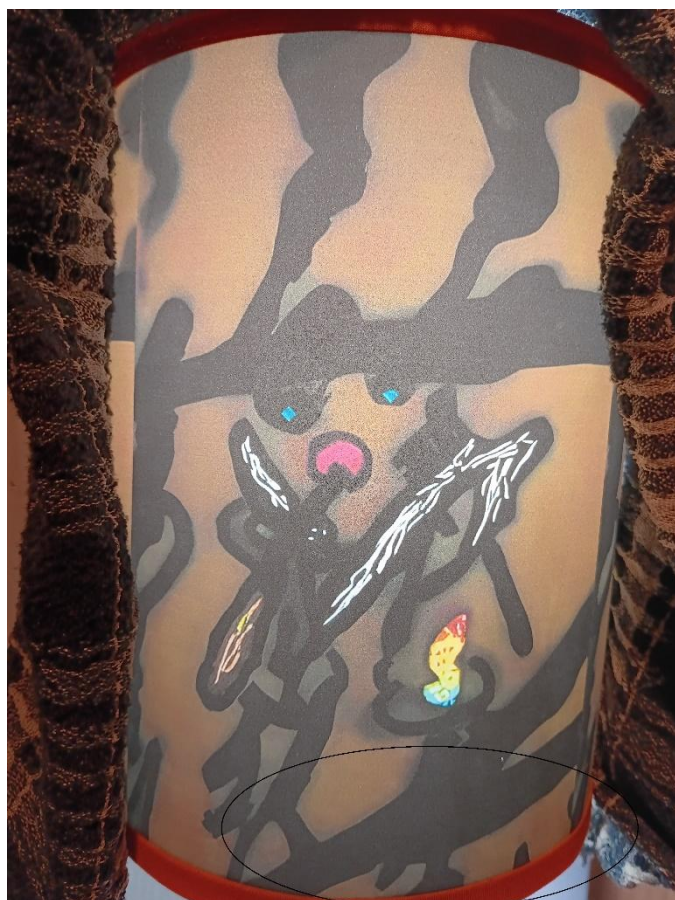

On Friday December 22nd. I received the proof sample I ordered of Ancient Lady Mary Jane's standing lamp. When I opened her up and plugged her in, I was so excited. The details brought out from the light within the lamp were amazing. I saw details I did not even know existed. However, there was also a small defect with it. A tiny white dot appearing in the black area just above what looks like a fingertip in the background area. Fortunately, that night during the online sabbath connection with the Kabbalah Centre, the person in charge of the online video was on vacation. So, there were no onscreen words to follow along with that night. During the sabbath connection I was mesmerized gazing at Her lamp. While listening to the Sabbath connection and after to Rav and Karen on HaRav, I would hear the soul whispers from Rav and Karen and some from during the earlier Shabbat connection, revealing the secret meanings within Ancient Lady Mary Janes Image. That the Image of Ancient Lady Mary Jane (Binah on the Gohonzon) is a match of the Shrine structure on my land, with symbolism. With symbolism they are an exact match.

The first image that came out that I missed prior to receiving this lamp was Mom's Dark Angel, with the flame coming from its head. Which the angel symbolizes Zeir Anpin (Jesus), and the Flame symbolizing the Nukva/Sophia (Mary Magdelene). Above that the Head and Neck of the Dog appearing face. Symbolizing The First Soul, Adam/Eve (Mankind). Along with to me a dog appearing figure below the Zier Anpin (Jesus) Angel. According to the Zohar, a dog is a symbol for the Heart.

The next thing that was revealed to me was the likeness between Ancient Lady Mary Jane's (Binah's) face. And the Face of the Shin Trees on the Land which symbolizes Binah (The Large Shin Tree(s)).

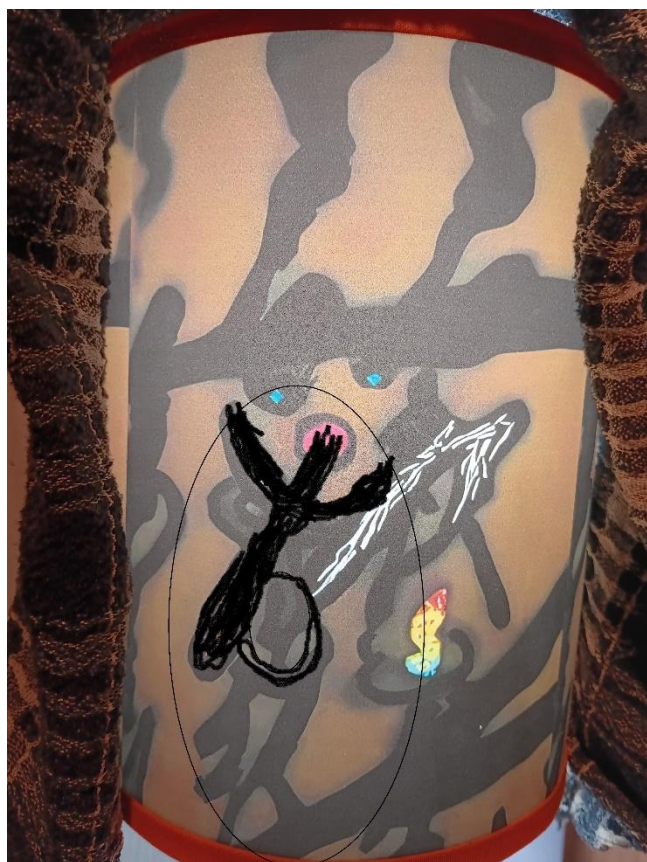

The next image would to me confirm that according to the Sophian tradition, Arc Angel Sandalphon, whose name means Shoe-Angel is indeed the female half of Arc Angel Metatron. Mom's first angel has what appears to be a Shoe in the middle of her Torso. Matching not only on the Structure of the Tree-Stump Sand-Dolphin, connected to the Shin Trees, but also the Small Shin with a beam going under a rock to make a cave, in front of The Stone Shoe, which symbolizes Sandalphon also.

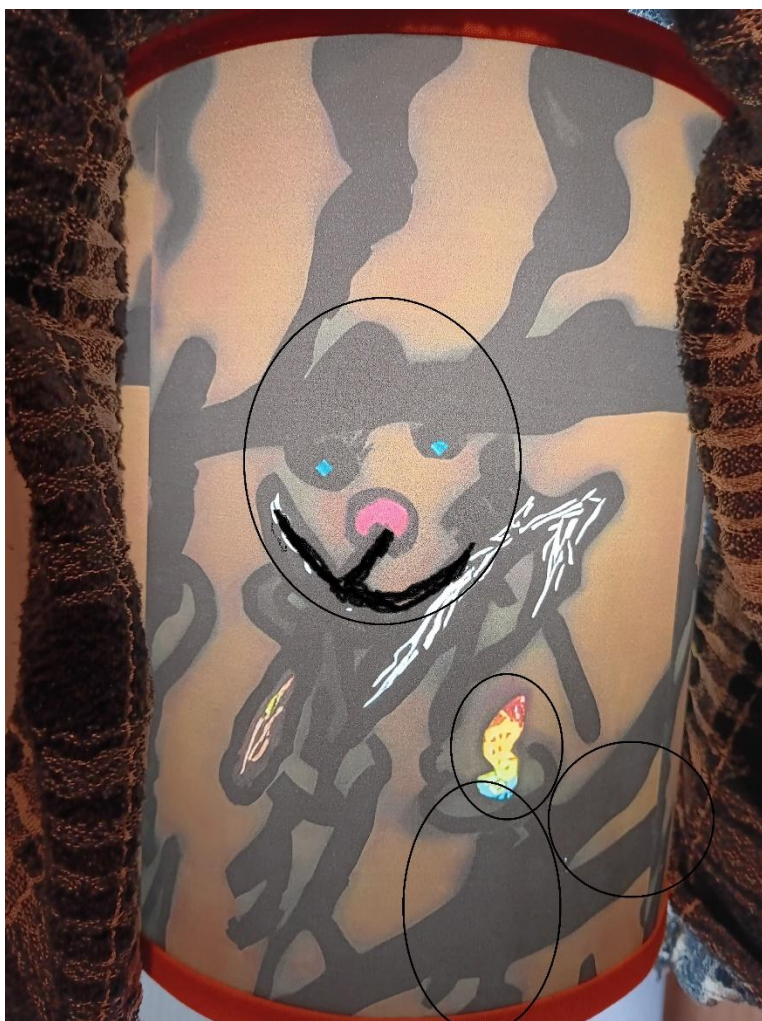

(Following is a comparison between the Ancient Lady Mary Jane (Binah) Lamp, and the structure on my land. Within the Structure picture circles on the left is the Binah Shin Trees, with Sand-Dolphin statute, and the Small Shin with the Stone Shore before it, which is on the left as is Ancient Lady Mary Jane's Face, with Sandalphon on her left. To the Right is the Shrine of the Oblisk of Sarah. (To fit the main point of the structure within my picture fame, I had to leave out the Head that symbolizes mankind.)

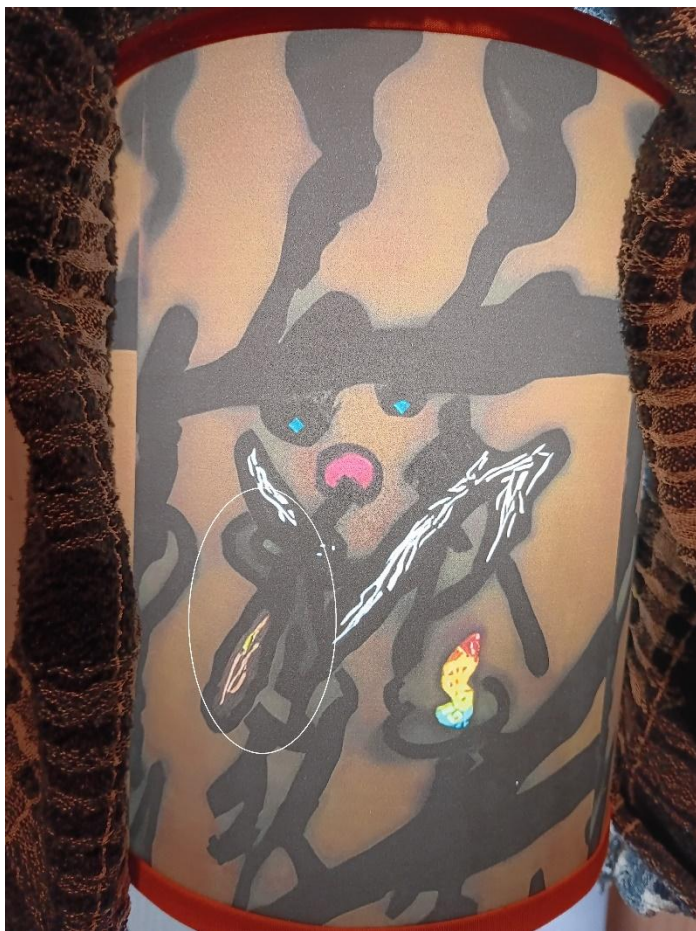

After having revealed to me the connections between the structure on my land, and Ancient Lady Mary Jane (Binah) image from my Gohonzon, the meaning of the other symbolisms within Ancient Lady Mary Jane's image was revealed to me. With symbolism, the most powerful name of God. The Tetragrammaton. Is hidden within Ancient Lady Mary Jane (within the Gohonzon).

The “finger” figure circled to the farthest right, represents a hand, which symbolizes “Yod.” The Face of Binah circled symbolizes the first “Hei.” The circled Peg that Zeir Anpin’s head rest upon, represents a Nail, symbolizes “Vav,” and The Flame, The Nukva (Sophia), symbolizes the final “Hei” in the Tetragrammaton. Yod Hei Vav Hei. (To me Jehovah, to others, Yahweh. And in Kabbalah, “The Name,” referred to at times as Hashem, Adonai, Shaddai, El, Elohim...). Also, according to the Zohar, Yod Hei Vav Hei, is one of Binah’s formal Names.

While listening to one of Rav Berg's lectures on HaRav, which one I do not recall, As Rav is saying "Seal of Approval," with Rav whispering to me, this is the Creator's seal of approval for my belief (and others) that Marijuana is part an integral part of connecting with the Creator of my understanding. For me and others. The following image came out to me. A Seal, with its head above Binah's Joint, with the remainder of its seal body below, within the body of Sandalphon Angel.

Finally, while still listening to Rav's whispers, from HaRav. While I am noticing how the body frames of Sandalphon, and the Dog head figure which symbolizes Adam/Eve (Mankind), resemble two A's. AA. As I notice this, Rav asks me what the meaning of these symbols mean to me. I replied to Rav. “Alcoholics Anonymous.” With the Twelve-Steps of AA being the simplest form of Kabbalah. The simplest way to obtain Conscious Awareness of the Living Presence of The Creator, within all according to each own’s understandings and beliefs.... Even if one is not an Alcoholic or Addict. By practicing the 12-Steps of AA and applying the principles of the program to one’s daily life.

(Jumping to the Future): During one of my spiritual connections chanting before The Gohonzon, which at times I do while listening to HaRav or Senie chanting or Tau Malachi. This time I believe it was Tau I was listening to. (Which I believe the soul’s whispers help guide me to see these things.) I would notice how another image within the Gohonzon, which connects Ancient Lady Mary Jane's Image from the Gohonzon with the structure within the streambed on my land. The Image which to me looks like a side profile of a lady, representing to me the Sophia, making up the Jesus-Sopia Eyes of Joseph, is flowing from the Image of Ancient Lady (Binah) above. Just as the stream mouth opening which resembles to me a one-sided face of an Elephant, which symbolizes The Torah (in ancient times), and therefore also symbolizes The Sophia of which the Torah is Of, comes fourth from the Shrine of Sarah and Binah Trees behind it.

The image of Ancient Lady (Binah) on the Gohonzon flows down to the Image of the side profile face of the Sophia. The structure within the streambed, which Starts off with the Binah Shin Trees (inclusive with the Face of said) with Sandalphon by her side, flowing to the Shrine of Sarah, consisting of the two mystical headed appearing figures, with the Stone obelisk (Stone flame) between them. One with a stone head with the stone tablet by his wooden support beam (Representing Moses with the 10 utterances, symbolic of our soul). And the wooden mystical face looking creature, at the opposite end of the structure (Representing our Ego, and Mankind without a conscious awareness connection to our soul.) With the stone flame within and in between them symbolizing the Sophia (the source of our soul from the creator); when our Body and Soul are as one with the creator, with a conscious awareness of the living presence of the Light of The Creator within as one understands Him.

This image(s) is of the Gohonzon's Binah (Ancient Lady Mary Jane), with the face of the Sophia (Eye of Joseph) flowing down from the image of Binah within the Gohonzon. To help bring out the image I see of The Sophia on the Gohonzon, I am comparing this sentimental synchronicity for me, of a cropped and drawn over picture of Karen Berg with a 60's hairstyle. If Karen were at a side profile, her picture would have a deep similarity of form to the Sophia image to her right on the Gohonzon. (Cover Photo from "TWO UNLIKELY PEOPLE To Change The World – A Memoir by KAREN BERG")

This image within the outlined circle, is the mouth of the stream opening in the form of a half Elephant face. The symbolic match of the Sophia (Eye of Joseph) within the Gohonzon, below Binah (ALMJ). The beginning of this ancient structure. And Shrine. Again, in ancient times the elephant was a symbol for The Torah (The Law.).

Here to assist bringing out the Elephant image I See. I have outlined the forms I see, bringing out the Elephant (Sophia). Towards the upper center left, the tusk is highlighted. To the right of the Tusk, in the center of the face, is an outline of her eye. (To date, every year, there has been some small plant grow from within her eye area, a plant pupil). To the right of the eye, is the outline of her Trunk, which the stream comes out below from when the stream is running, sometimes during the rainy season.)

Here you can see how even further this sacred stream structure, a shrine, symbolically and metaphysically matches the Images of Binah, with The Sophia Eye of Joseph on the Gohonzon. The image within the center upper outlined circle of the trees, is the Shin (Binah) Trees (with her face that matches Binah's on the Gohonzon), along with the Sand-Dolphin wood statue by her side. The right centered circled image within the structure, is the Shrine of Sarah, that matches the right side of Binah on the Gohonzon consisting of The Zeir Anpin – Jesus Dark angel, with the Flame (Sophia flame) flowing from this head, with the above Shepard dog above. Metaphysical twins. And again, just as on the Gohonzon, The Elephant Stream Mouth (Torah/Sophia) comes out below the Shrine of Sarah, with Binah and Sand-Dolphin above. Spiritual and Metaphysical Twin-Flames.

(Back to Present)

I launched my site www.miwho.net and Ancient Lady Mary Jane's Printify store on January 25th 2024. Tu B'Shvat, the new year of the trees, when the plant kingdom is given their light to sustain them for the following year. To align with the theme of Ancient Lady Mary Jane. Also, Rav Berg says that Trees have the consciousness of Messiah. And as I was also sharing some limited Kabbalah on my site. I felt it was very appropriate. However, I would come across a snag. Since Ancient Lady Mary Jane is aimed at the Cannabis community, that was the audience I was trying to reach with my Facebook ads. However, every key word I used related to cannabis would not bring up any options. I was not able to reach my target audience with my ads. It turned out futile.

Prior to launching my website and Printify stores, I had ordered multiple proofs of Ancient Lady Mary Jane's merchandise. Most everything I received looked amazing to me. However, I found that I could not place her design on light colored clothes, as her imaged seemed grainy and washed out on light colored fabrics. After seeing my proofs, my brother wanted to order a few things from the store. He got like one thing a month for the next couple months.

On February 22, 2024 (22222#) I was walking down by the stream structure after a light rain. As the leaves were wet and compacted, I could see details of the rocks and landscape under the wet leaves. I could see around one of the large tablet shaped stones, what seemed like a crevice all around the tablet stone, like an outline. On the south side of the tablet stone closes to the stream bed, the crevice was even more predominate. I began to dig at the dirt with my hands, and found it was basically a large clump of dirt being held up by this one root. I clipped the root at both ends, and pulled out the clump of earth revealing the tiny cave, which I could fit my arm all the way into. It seemed to go under the stream bed. (Jumping to the future with the following pictures also. Later that year there was a heavy storm and it revealed that this tiny cave is connected to the aqueduct below the stream bed.

A few days following my discovery of this tiny cave that leads to the aqueduct within this structure, Billy Phillips (one of Rav Berg's personal students) Posted a video on Facebook about the Prophecy in the Zohar, book of Balak, (Which I attributed earlier as being related to Michael Jackson.) entitled “The Coming Opening for Messiah on February 26, 2024.”

[www.facebook.com/watch/?ref=saved&v=1096060301547389]

[Before I go into Billy’s video, I would like to make mention of that within the Zohar, sages are discussing interpretation on scriptures within the Torah. In some places the Sages will discuss how the Torah verses may have multiple meanings. And other times debating which of the meanings is specific to a specific Torah verse. Some verses they feeling have one meaning and others having multiple meanings.]

Billy opens his video with a verse from the Zohar CHADASH 9:80, highlighting the verse discussing a Star coming out of Jacob, and a Scepter rising from Israel. And explains Jacob is the meaning of Israel, both being one and the same. (Gen. 32:27-28). And discusses how the “Star” and “Scepter” within this verse is truly one and the same also, and not two separate things. Billy then goes continues with another Zohar verse TRUMAH 86:838, and clarifies from this verse how the Star/Scepter is a comet, according to the book of Supernal Wisdom of the East. He then continues to discuss how see this star (in the book of Balak) is referring to the time of redemption for the world. (note of Selves: The word “World” was used and not “Mankind” as when the redemption of mankind arrives, it will also be the redemption of “Mother Earth (The Shechinah)”)

Billy then refers again to the Zohar’s book of Balak as to how some of this prophecy will come to fruition at different times. Some being in the time of Messiah. Noting the date a Star will be seen on a Friday during the sixth month on the twenty-fifth day. And as Billy is a Kabbalah Centre Student and Jewish, he naturally is referring to the Hebrew month of Elul (The Day of Creation), as to when this “Star” will be seen. He continues to explain how Kabbalistically “Rome,” who will be the first to see it, mentioned in this section is a code name for America (I will interject at this time, as growing up as a Jehovah’s Witness, and their Interpretation of the Book of Revelation, I believe this is Specific to The United States of America, and not the continents of America(s). As an ex-Jehovah’s Witness, I make this differentiation because, there is truly a war of good and evil going on, Spiritual and Physical.)

Billy then goes over Balak 47:504; discussing the shuttering of the land 45 miles from Temple area. (Which began Simchat Torah 2023). And how a cave will be uncovered and a fire burning the world from that cave. With a great lofty branch growing forth from that cave, and dominate the world, with the Kingdom of God being given to him, and the great sages will be gathered around him. Billy then reveals how back on January 9th 2023, astronomers discovered a comet (Comet C/2023A3) was set to arrive within the earth's view on September 27th 2024, also known as Elul 25th a Friday evening (Sabbath).

After viewing Billy's video and my recent discovery of this cave within this structure within my land, and future events from that time. I would like to share my additional interpretations to this Zohar prophecy of Balak in regards to the coming of the Messiah (The Age of Messiah). [Jumping to the Future: On the Evening of Shabbat Elul 25th 2024 (September 27th 2024), The Zohar's Comet Prophecy was fulfilled by the appearance of Comet C/2023A3 (www.facebook.com/photo/?fbid=1051021179807312&set=a.565515241691244) , as can be seen in this Facebook post of Billy Phillips]

Since this Zohar section prophecy deals with the land of Israel. I feel the need to clarify how my land with this structure within it can be connected to this Zohar prophecy. During my reading through the Zohar (Currently being half way through the final volume, vol. 22). Within the Zohar, there was mention of how the Creator's Light which is infused into Mother Earth through the land of Israel, has been spread to other parts of the earth. My spirit Guides, including Rav, lead me to believe that this land, is one of the pieces of land in which the Light of the Creator is being redirected to; as a collateral artery, for the flow of the Creator's Light. (Which will be explained further in a later chapter of this story.)

The Zohar's book of Balak 47, as I also see it. Verse 501. Of The Holy One Blessed be He building Jerusalem and displaying a fixed star sparkling with 70 planets. This to me is of the Gohonzon. Joseph within the Gohonzon, being the "fixed Star" and the 70 planets being symbolic of the images within the Gohonzon (Which I will reveal outlines of these images at the ending of this chapter. Including images of Joseph, The Sacred Heart, Jesus (Yeshuah) Sophia (Mary Magdelene, The Holy Spirit Daughter), Abba (The Divine Father) Ima (The Divine Holy Spirit Mother). The Previously discussed Skull of Keter, the Brain/Heart consisting of Chochmah and Binah, and more).

Verse 502. I still believe that this section additionally refers to Michael Jackson, as a Star that would be seen on the 25th day of the sixth month, June 25th. 2009. As again, it was 70 days from when Michael transitioned until the day he was buried. And even though June 25th 2009 was a Thursday, it was not until Friday, Michael was on all the New Headlines. In addition to the Angelic messages, I received back in 2015/16 proclaiming Michael Jackson's Innocence. (being gathered on the 70th day). In regards to Rome seeing it on the First day. As far as I know, I am the only person who associates this Zohar prophecy to Michael Jackson also.

In regards to verse 504. I continue to believe that the Shuddering of the Holy Land 45 miles from the Temple, is referring to the War against Israel started on Simchat Torah 2023. To me the cave that will be discovered underground is the tiny cave connecting to the aqueduct under the streambed within the structure on my land. The Burning Fire from this cave, to me is the Light of the Creator in multiple fashions. 1) Since my psychic reading telling me of the history on this land and my prior incarnation here, I have been consciously through meditations spreading the extra portion of Light within this land around the world, during my daily prayer connections. 2) Through others hearing of this prophecy and seeing the structure on my land and its connection to the Zohar and the Gohonzon, gaining knowledge of said, some may gain a desire to learn of Kabbalah and how they can obtain conscious awareness of the Living Spirit of The Creator of each own's understanding. Therefore, creating a change in the Creator's potential light to manifested light.

Verse 504 continues to discuss a lofty branch that will grow from that hole. Which will dominate the world, with the Kingdom of heaven being given to him. And Saints will be gathered to him. And Messiah will be revealed. On Elul 25th 2024, not only did the Zohar's comet appear as foretold, but also the great lofty branch appeared on the structure, containing the uncovered hole of 02/22/24. Shabbat morning of Elul 25th, during the Torah reading with the Kabbalah Centre online, I walked down by the Tree of Binah, and Shrine to feed the soul of the land with the Torah Reading.

When I got down to the structure, I notice the tree at the beginning of the stream mouth structure, which I referred to as my Ayin Tree as it is shaped like the Hebrew letter Ayin, broke in half, and landed on the structure. But in such a way only one tiny beam of the structure was broken and rest was just covered by branches of the tree. With the Ayin tree falling in half, and with considering the still large standing trunk; the tree trunk (Now like the Hebrew letter Vav) and broken off Ayin together appear to make up the Hebrew letter Tzadei, which is symbolic of a righteousness, A Tzedek (A righteous person, a Lofty Person). Also, now I can see the Elephant stream mouth facing one side and the other side fit this Lofty branch like a glove... It was made that way for the day this Lofty branch fell.

(This is a Picture of this Lofty branch 70 days from falling with leaves shedding, of my Facebook post on December 7th 2024.)

An additional connection to this Zohar section discussing a burning flame coming from this cave, although not the cave found on February 22, 2024. There is another tiny cave structure within this structure that resembles a cave with a tree trunk coming out of it with a carved letter Shin, partly making up the cave. The Shin which represents the Holy Spirit who is a Burning Flame. This cave to me represents the cave of Rav Shimon bar Yochai.

(Shin Cave of Rav Shimon bar Yochai)

To me with the previously made connections of this land to the hidden images within the Gohonzon, that are described within the Zohar, which outlines these Kabbalistic Images within the Gohonzon. This lofty branch that fell on this land symbolizes the hidden Image of Joseph the Righteous within the Gohonzon, which also symbolizes the Kabbalah Tree of Life, and taking into consideration the descriptions from the Zohar. With the Gohonzon being our universal reflection of One's embodiment of the fullness of the Creator's Light. Just as Joseph embodied the fullness of the Creator's light. With Joseph the Righteous being the Might Branch.

How Joseph will be a leader in our times, the time of Messiah Consciousness, and fulfilling this Zohar prophecy to me, is through the Wisdom of Kabbalah (Including the AA 12 Steps; Simple Kabbalah), and Chanting Nam Myoho Renge Kyo before the Gohonzon, to bring forth from within One's total embodiment of the Light and gaining conscious awareness of the Creator's light, of One's own understanding. And The Most-High Saints that are gathered to Joseph in this Zohar prophecy? They are of the Patriarchs and other Heavenly Beings of which the Gohonzon is made up of.

With the above being revealed, going back to verse 502, I feel these wars that will stir all around the world, is the war of consciousness, the real war of Armageddon. A war against the desire to receive for the self alone (The Satan Consciousness) and the desire of the Soul. The real spiritual war between Good and Evil. The War Within.

In regards to Billy's mention of comparison with a Star (Comet) being referred to as a scepter. This land again has an additional connection, a literal symbolic connection to this reference, that is if you can see things how I see them. The following picture are of "The Scepter of Jehovah Shalom," which tail is of The Shin Trees of Binah. With the Scepters tail being accentuated with running rain water when she is flowing.

(The Finial of Scepter front)

(The Finial of Scepter back, with staff of scepter made of Shin Trees)

(The whole scepter accentuated with flowing rain water)

A Hidden Cave?

Along with the micro cave within the shrine of Sarah with the wooden filament under the stone Obelisk of Sarah, the tiny cave connecting to the aqueduct within the structure uncovered on 02/22/2024 and the symbolic “Cave of Rav Shimon bar Yochai” with the Shin branch coming out form it, I see other signs and markers which lead me to believe there may be a much more significant cave connected to or under this structure shrine.

(A horizontal wooden beam within many wood beams that goes underground to the right side of the streambed by the Binah Trees, looking like a ceiling beam)

(One of two caves with large pillar looking beams hidden inside them)

(Two of two caves with large pillar looking beams hidden inside them)

(looks Similar in form to Ancient Temple Door within Mt. Side)

A Land of Inheritance –A Sacred Land

At this time, I would like to take the opportunity to discuss this land, my land, a land of inheritance of One of the One Hundred and Forty-Four Thousand from the Book of Revelation. Which from my experience, some will see what I see on this land and some people will not. For those who see what I see, I am going to take the opportunity to play devil's advocate for my own paranoid schizophrenic self. (Real or imagined).

I know for myself that I have been led to this Sacred land by Divine Providence. With my spirit guides leading me to believe, along with the symbols within it connecting it to the Zohar and Gohonzon, holds within it a portion of the Light-of-Israel. As a collateral artery for the Light flowing through the land of Israel. For me (and others, when the time is right) to facilitate the flow of the Light of The Creator within this land throughout the rest of Mother-Earth, through spiritual practices and rituals.

In regards to the time when it would be appropriate for me to allow others here to participate in spiritual practices and rituals here with me on this land, because of the Zoning restrictions placed on the neighborhood in which this land lies I am unable to run a commercial business here, such as a spiritual resort or retreat. However, I do have a couple ideas in which when I do have sufficient funds to do and seek legal advice. I am considering my own personal private Monastery. "Jehovah Shalom.": A Christian Buddhist Qabalist Monastery. Also, I would consider the possibility of a Sol-Non-Profit Monastery. Either one, I would be able to have my own personal guests. How I would make it possible for one to be on my guest list, remains unseen at this time. However, before I will even consider any of this or any visitors, this will not happen until I have sufficient funds to properly secure my property with proper fencing, security, and accommodations.

With regards to the possibility of a Hidden Zohar Cave under this land and structure, based on the signs I have seen on this land and get from my spirit guides. After I have been able to fully secure and protect this land from trespassers, intruders, vandals, etc. I plan to have this area scanned with Ground Penetrating Radar to see if my suspicions are correct. This way whatever may be there will be protected, for me to share with others the way the Lord sees fit for me to do so. I will also add that one sign I have seen and heard, is that if there is a hidden cave under the ground, there may be the body of a righteous person. Therefore, as this would be to me, and others who see what I see a Spiritual Site (“Religious” site if that R word be needed legally). I would first need to obtain legal counsel to obtain an injunction preventing the local coroners’ office getting involved and trying to exam and remove the body, should one be there. As it would cause irreparable damage to the energy of this site if any such body was tampered with or removed. For me it would be just like the Tzaddikim tours in Israel by the Kabbalah Centre.

I would like to add that I have read past news articles about other people who have discovered archaeological sites on their lands. One man, people were trolling because he kept it secret so long, as I have done with my land. Other people have had trespassers on their properties, desecrating their sites. Others who had agreements with Museums to survey the site with the promise the Museum would not remove any artifacts without the owner’s permission. To only years later read an article of how the Museum removed artifacts from their land without the landowner’s knowledge. Therefore, I would like to provide prior notice to anyone who feels inclined to try to trespass on this land, my land. I have thoroughly marked my land with appropriate no trespassing signs and markers, to comply with local laws to pursue criminal trespassing charges against anyone who trespasses on this sacred land of mine. (30 Days Jail Time for Criminal Trespassing).

As I can imagine, there will be some who would be interested in seeing this Sacred land, as previously mentioned, I am more than willing to share this sacred land with others in a responsible way, to the capacity which I can keep it preserved and protected. Additionally, there are hazards in these woods of old trees that are dying and branches falling. It would be a liability to have anyone in my back woods until I can afford an arborist who can come and remove any trees which need removing.

To assist in acquiring the financial means to securely protect, and share my land with others responsibly, I have three options in mind. The first in which I will try to earn money and share this land responsibly is by the sale of Ancient Lady Mary Jane’s Product lines. Secondly to share this land, I plan on making and selling Photobooks and Calendars of this Land. Both Of which Thirty Percent of my profits from sales will be donated (Tithed) to Non-Profit Organizations which help the homeless and less fortunate. The Third form in which I am making available is to give others the opportunity to tip me for sharing this story with them. A link to my Virtual Tip-Jar and my online Print-on-Demand Stores can be found on my website www.MiWho.net. In the following chapters, when I cover my Amends, I will delineate how any tips will be disbursed, with fifty percent of any tips going to non-profits that help the homeless and less fortunate.

The Great Conjunction

After holding off on this story to see the Zohar's Comet prophecy come true, I was planning on a later release date. However, when I saw of the alignments of 7 planets would occur on January 25, 2025/Tevet (Capricorn) 25th 5785, and that both the Gregorian and Hebrew calendars would also align for the first time since the modern-day Hebrew calendar. And from my recollection of reading through the Zohar, the Zohar mentions something of Two 25s. Along with signs on my land, and similarities with my story, that to me have similarities with the original Dark Crystal movie. I feel this is a sign for a release date. Therefore, I am only releasing a Trailer Version currently due to time constraints. Until next time. More will be revealed.

CHAPTER 4

LETTING “M(E)”GO)

[Higher Lover – Kygo, Whitney Houston]

From my experience in my journey of working towards self-improvement, applying the principles of Kabbalah, and doing the suggested work in my Anonymous 12 step fellowships, I Have learned that the biggest part I can take is personal responsibility and letting go of resentments towards others. I was planning on going through the resentments I use to have in life and how I worked through them, to find my own part. However, not only could that seem to some as defaming or libel to others I had these resentments against, listing and publishing how I perceived I was harmed by others in my life. But also, The Kabbalah has a term called “Shedding Blood.” which basically means when one talks negative about others, it is as if one is killing another metaphysically. Which is just as bad if not worse to share the so-called sins of others than what I perceived those people might have done to me. (P.s. to me however, the term of “Shedding Blood” does not apply with one who is one-on-one with their sponsor or councilor or clergy man)

However, I can say that I have obtained much freedom from letting my resentments go. This is not to say that I do not have resentments that still creep their way into my life, because I am not perfect, and I am surrounded by people who are not perfect either. The best thing I can do to work on this is taking these matters into prayer, and doing my best to put it in God’s hands, and again apply the principles of Kabbalah, and my 12 Step Program. I can say I do notice a diminished contact with my conscious connection with God and The Holy Spirit, when I act reactively towards others, and do not act in a patient way towards them and myself.

Another way in which I work on letting “M(e)”Go) and connect with the Light and my upper soul levels, and God of my understanding is through prayer, meditation, chanting and study. I will say, that I am still working on the meditation part, which I do not do that often, as I tend to lean more towards Chanting. Which I usually do two times a day. Also, at times waking up at midnight to Study. I can say that at times, when I truly get into the mindset when chanting, I can notice a connection to a higher soul level, almost like as if I am experiencing a separate personality. I can tell the difference in my mood from when I am not chanting or even just listening to chanting compared to when I am.

As I mentioned in chapter one, after finding the connection in the Zohar to the Gohonzon, I changed up my prayers at the end of my chanting sessions. As a sample of my daily connection routine, along with my “transformative version” of the ending prayers in “The Liturgy of The Soka Gakkai International” booklet. I would like to add the statement that in no way am I trying to replace the original version of these ending prayers in this booklet for the public, but just to share my own personal daily routines because of the strong connections I see between the Zohar and the Gohonzon Scroll.

~ First during the morning connection only, I start with doing my blessings to put on my Tallit, and Tefillin, and then proceed to put those on. Altering the blessing to include “Blessed are You Jehovah God Heavenly Parents and Jesus-Sophia Kings of the Universe who have sanctified you with your commandments...”

~ Once I am done adorning myself, with my Tallit and Tefillin I sit before my alter, and strike my bell x3, chant NMRK x3, and light my altar candle and Incense, then follow by reading Exodus 30:7-8 as a metaphysical incense also.

~ I then start with my first prayer: “Jesus-Sophia, and Jehovah Heavenly parents, thank you for another day of life, blessing, miracles and protection, your faithfulness is great, blessed be you and your children, Mother Earth, and your Holy Lands. I ask Lord that you open my heart, mind, soul, and third eye; and connection between my upper and lower souls, heart and mind and your Light. And assistance connecting to the Light revealed through Karen and Rav. I Pray for the Knowledge of your will for me and the Power, Willingness and Wisdom to carry it out. And I Pray for your Prophecies. Blessed Be Lord you and your children, Mother Earth, and Your Holy Lands, you are Greatly Exalted.

~ Next, I begin my connections with scanning and reading the Zohar on page 125 in volume 8, to start off this connection, I begin with the Praying, “Dear Lord, ask that you open me to your concealed light through the Studying the Zohar, and that I may connect to “My sister My love,” and that you may change my vision, and I may send healing light and love to Yourself, Mother Earth and all your children. Notably your Holy Lands.”

~ After my Zohar connection, I move on to my declaration of the morning Shema prayer. Followed with the Ana Beko’Ach. Followed with “The Eighteen Blessing” (To return the parts of my soul that departed during sleep.), ending with “The Blessing of The Kohanim”

~ I then do my own little version of the Our Farther Prayer: “Our Living Heavenly Parents Jehovah and Jesus-Sophia who art in heaven. Hallowed be they name, they kingdom come they will be done on earth as it is in the upper most heavens. Give us all your children this day our daily bread and forgive us of our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us real or imagined. Lead us not into temptation, and help me not lead myself into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For thine is the Kingdom, The Power, and The Glory Forever and Ever, In the name of the Father, The Son, The Daughter and The Holy Spirit (Mother), Amen.” Then I continue with the following; “I ask that you send healing, light, Love, and miracles to yourself mother earth and all your children. I ask that I may have more faith and trust in you, to trust in you Lord and do good, to dwell in the land and follow faithfulness, and to Love you with my whole heart, mind, and soul. And love my neighbors and myself.” Ending with the “Third-Step Prayer in “The Big Book” of AA.

~ Following the Our Father Prayer, I do an extended version of one of Karen Berg’s Prayers.: Dear Lord, please make my thoughts your thoughts, make my eyes see what you see. Make my mouth utter only the words you wish me to speak. Open my heart to love all people the way you do. Make my hands be hands that share more than they take. Make my body a vehicle to do the work I came to accomplish. Make me not just a vessel for your light, but a channel. In all my interactions today let it not me my thoughts, words, and energy that is shared but your light. For it is only from the light of the creator that great wisdom and understanding can be given and great miracles can occur. I pray to be connected to your light every second of the day. Help me create you in my life, and assist me in living my soul's mission today and throughout my life.

~ Then I move onto my chanting session of “Nam Myoho Renge Kyo,” before the Gohonzon. Ending with the following Transformative prayer versions as follows:

[Sound of The Mystic Law: Lotus Sutra – Tina Turner, Dechen Shak-Dagsay, Regula Curti]

~ “Dear Lord, I offer my profound gratitude, appreciation, thanks, love, and to You Jehovah Heavenly Parents and Jesus-Sophia, devotion. The remainder also to Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, and Joseph who are inscribed on the Gohonzon, which embodies Nam Myoho Renge Kyo, the essence of the Lotus Sutra, Zohar, Torah, and Gospels.”

~ Dear Lord I offer my profound gratitude, appreciation, thanks, and love to Nichiren Daishonin, and Rav Bar Yochai. The Buddha and Tzaddik of the latter day of the Law.

~ Dear Lord, I offer my profound gratitude, appreciation, thanks, and love to Nikko Shonin and The Ari, and all the Buddhas and Tzaddiks of blessed memory.

(Chant NMRK x3)

~ Dear Lord, I offer my profound gratitude, appreciation, thanks, and love to the founders of Soka Gakkai, The Kabbalah Centre, And Ecclesia Pistis Sophia. Sensei Makiguchi, Sensei Toda, Sensei Ikeda, Sensei Harada; Rav Ashlag, Rav Brandwein, Rav and Karen Berg, and Family; Tau Miriam, Tau Elijah, Tau Malachi, and Tau Sarah. My God Families. My eternal mentors of Kosen-rufu, and Tikkun-olam for their selfless dedication to the propagation of [The Law.]

(Chant NMRK x3)

~ Dear Lord, I pray for the great vow of world-wide kosen-rufu, tikkun-olam, and the Gemar-Hatikun. And that Soka Gakkai, The Kabbalah Centre, Ecclesia Pistis Sophia, myself and other may develop in this endeavor for countless generations to come.

~ Dear Lord, I pray to accomplish my own human revolution, evolution, and change my Karma through my thoughts, words, actions, and emotions that I may be a better vessel for your Light and Love. I pray to open to receive all you have allocated for me, and that I may have certainty and gratitude. I pray that I may continue to do my part, that I may be of more assistance to others. I pray that through your light I may overcome the desire to receive for myself alone, which stands in the way of my usefulness to you, myself, and others. I pray you send healing, light and love to yourself, mother earth and all your children.

~ (While chiming bell continuously) Dear Lord, I pray for my deceased friends, family members, and all those who have passed, and for the elevation of those passed in the prior year.

(Chant NMRK x3)

~ Dear Lord, I pray for peace throughout the worlds, universes, and dimensions, inside and outside of all your children and combination thereof, real, or imaged.

~ Dear Lord, I pray for the happiness of all living beings and lifeforms whose happiness and joy is not reliant on the pain and suffering of others. And those whom do that they may acquire a desire to change. And those who do not care to change, when the critical mass is reached that you relieve The Satan, and his Legions of their jobs, and relieve us all from the desire to receive for the self alone, that we may live happy, joyous, and free on paradise Life on earth forever, consciously aware of your Living Presence [Within].

~ In the name of the Father, The Son, The daughter, and The Holy Spirit (Mother), through Jesus-Sophia Amen. (Striking Bell x3)

~ Then I proceed to read Psalms 145 as I read of in the Zohar of ending my prayers with. Followed by a Short song. (The “Sabbath Prayer” song from The Musical Motion Picture “Fiddler on The Roof. Changing one verse to “May the Lord grant you Resurrection and Everlasting Life.) before My Gohonzon, The Zohar, and The Picture of Rav and Karen on my phone.

These are my basic daily connections I work on doing two to three times a day to help me let go of self and connect to The Sophia within, and The Creator of my understanding. Additionally, which helps me connect to the Light, and Sophia within, and further myself from my Ego is making the spiritual connections and connecting with the Light of Sabbath, and The Holy Holidays with the Kabbalah Centre. Inclusive of my Preparation work for Rosh Hashanah during the month of Elul, in which I do over my 12 steps for the prior year.

Another matter of subject which assist me in letting “M(e)”Go is by making amends to those whom I have harmed, which leads me to the following Chapter, “Mi Amends.”

CHAPTER 5

Mi AMENDS

[Rooms on Fire – Stevie Nicks]

Carrying forward from my finishing comments in the prior chapter, of making “Amends.” From my understanding of The Creator, as God and our Universe, and how we are all intimately connected to each other and Mother Earth on a level of consciousness, physically and spiritually. And, how my negative thoughts, actions, words, and emotional state have a negative butterfly effect on others far and wide, Mother Earth (In how she reacts to me), and The Pain I can cause the Creator. Therefore, this chapter is an Integral part of my story, and spiritual process of elevation. To make an Amends for any harm I have caused both before and after gaining conscious awarenesses of the Living Spirit the Creator through the Sophia within me.

I have set up a virtual Tip Jar on my website (www.miwho.net), for anyone who may wish to tip me for sharing my story, and helping me Protect and Preserve This Sacred and Holy Land, and establishing my own Little Monastery of Jehovah Shalom. And to assist me in making my amends. Therefore, any tips I receive in my virtual tip jar would be used to pay out my Amends as follows.

~ Amends to the Homeless: My amends to this group is based on my attitude towards homeless and addicts prior to my own personal experience with homelessness and addiction. Prior to my own experience, the attitude I had towards homeless was not always the most compassionate, not considering their personal circumstances, such as mental illness or just falling on hard times. My attitude toward addicts was very adverse. I did not consider that some are suffering from an illness, not just mentally, but the illness of addiction itself. I use to think that addicts were doing drugs just on their own choice, not wanting to take responsibility and escape the responsibility of living. From my own personal experience, I did not start my addiction to drugs until my heart was broken and I no longer cared to live. Twenty-Five Percent of any Tips will be donated to organizations that deal with homelessness and less fortunate, as outlined on my website www.miwho.net .

~ Amends to Humanity: Is based on my opening paragraph of this chapter. Again, Twenty-Five Percent of any Tips will be donated to organizations that deal with homelessness and less fortunate, as outlined on my website www.miwho.net .

~ Direct Amends: This group of Amends, is my amends to people who I have harmed directly. The tips for this amends will be divided among these people. Although I have many more amends to make to individuals than will be listed in this section, I am only listing the most pertinent personal amends. And not everyone I make amends to off this list will receive reparations*. Twenty-Five percent will be allocated to this group of amends. (Recipient are solely responsible for reporting any money and paying any taxes to the appropriate Governmental Tax agencies.)

~ Amends to The Creator, and HIS NAME – I offer amends first and foremost for my part in the original restriction, in which the original vessel restricted from you, and any hurt feelings for turning away from you, refusing to accept your light and love to have an active part of our own fulfillment, causing the need for this current system of things. For all the times I do not trust in your plans and your timing, which leads me to despair, sadness and lack of certainty. For when I distance Myself from you with reactive behaviors, like getting angry, impatient, etc. For all the times I tried to commit suicide mostly because I could not believe that you could love me as a Gay man true to myself, violating the sanctity of life you gave me. (The Creator's share of amends will be divided amongst my various spiritual school organizations*.)

~ Amends to Karma – I offer amends for any bad thoughts, words, or actions committed in this current, past reincarnations. Causing you to perform your essence in a negative manner to help me overcome my Tikkun (Correction). I feel you take no Joy when people need to suffer because of their bad deeds, in fact, I truly believe it saddens and causes you pain. (Karma's share of amends will be divided amongst my various spiritual school organizations*.)

~ Amends to Tony, my late Husband– I offer amends for cheating on you, because I had no real love for myself at that time, and sought validation from others, and did not know how to properly deal with your illness. For you walking in the bathroom on me trembling with your Gun in my hand, trying to shoot myself. For overdosing on benzodiazepines. For being so mad at you for not being able to transition over with me by your side, as you waiting for me to leave your hospice room to get a snack for you to transition. (Tony’s share will be split with half going to his family [Should I be able to find them], with the other half being save for Tony, after Resurrections in the World to Come.)

~ Amends to my Earthly Mother, Sister (And Husband), and my brother who is involved in my life – I offer amends to you for all the times I tried to commit suicide, attempting to take me out of you lives, and the pain I have caused you over these attempts. For being so distant over the years because I did not feel I was worthy of Love. For all the frustration I caused you all during the beginning of my Spiritual Awakening which made our lives chaotic; especially the times when I would repeatedly-violently hit myself when my music malfunctions or when agitated, causing my mother to cry.

~ Amends to JR – I offer amends to you for all the pain I caused you in our past on-and-off relationships. For not just being cool as friends, and only wanting you in my life as a Lover. Now especially knowing you were my son in a past life, which pains me when I think of it. However, I do not believe that I would be here today, with the relationship I have with the Creator, KNOWING now that He loves me, making it possible for me to finally love myself, if it was not for all we have been through. “This is because of JR” means to me, because of you, I was able to go through the things I needed to, to awaken to The Creator’s love for me. And because of you, I started Medical Marijuana with its many blessings and benefits. Without you, I do not know how I would have ever become the so-called Marijuana Man; which given the means, I will do what I can to help set her (Ancient Lady Mary Jane) Free. You are foremost my family, and a devoted friend. Again, you played a big part of me finally having the ability to love myself. (JR’s share will be split with half going to his family, including your chosen one. [Should I be able to find them], with the other half being save for JR, after Resurrections in the World to Come.)

~ Self Amends: – I make amends to myself for all the self-hate, I felt my whole life, not listening to the instincts that The Creator gave me to go above and beyond the “Light-lies” in the Bible, that God did not love me as a Gay man, living true to myself. For all the times I tried to kill myself due to that lack of self-love. Twenty-Five Percent of any Tips I will retain for my self amends; to help me with my life’s missions of “Jehovah Shalom” A Christian Buddhist Qabalist Monastery.

CHAPTER 6

REMEMBERING BEFORE THIS DAY

[Old Thing Back (Feat. Ja Rule and Ralph Tresvant) –Matoma, Notorious B.I.G., Ja Rule, Ralph Tresvant) {Parental Advisory}

Back in 2015, when my spiritual awakening was beginning, after I had the feeling of a piece of my soul dyeing, after an elder professing yes being Gay is a Sin, even though Jesus never spoke of it himself, in the process of obtaining my edition of the “New World Translation of The Holy Scriptures.” The only version of the Bible I knows of which PUTS Jehovah’s name back in it is PLACE within the Scriptures. Returning home with a broken heart, I put Aretha Franklin’s “Who’s Zoomin Who” song on for several hour on repeat, then after changing to Whitney Houston, I would suddenly be above my body looking down on myself. Then I would be visited by an Angel, who called himself “Q.” He told me to “Remember Before This Day.”

Thinking back to what “Remember before this day” means to me. I reflect on before that day and after that day. The most significant before that day, is that I had no conscious connection to The Creator of my understanding. I believe that with the lack of that conscious contact combined with the beliefs of God I grew up with, I did not have much if any self-love for myself. I feel this contributed greatly to feeding my sex addiction, which later lead to my addiction to drugs and abuse of Alcohol. Before that day, I was also a very lonely person, even when I was in a relationship with someone. Today this is not the case.

Back in 2010, when I first started with the 12-Step Programs, I was would not let go of my medical marijuana, and had the hardest time to find a sponsor. With people telling me I do not know what it is like to have real conscious contact with God using marijuana. Hower, during that time, of being open to believing I could have a relationship with The Creator, with my medical marijuana, I was also open to the feeling the Creator could love me. After a while when I let go of my medical marijuana over peer pressure within the 12-step community, I lost that feeling that The Creator could love me. Sharing this with someone in my sponsor family, they told me “I hope you can find your burning bush, to let you believe God loves you as a gay man.” I wanted to tell them I had my burning bush, “marijuana,” but none of you would let me feel comfortable having it and being in the 12-step program.

It was not until I started studying with the Kabbalah Centre, that I could believe the creator could love me without the connection I felt with Marijuana. And I would experience The Creator’s love again and feeling that joy I had back in 2010, when I was smoking marijuana. Today, even though marijuana helps my connection to the universe and hearing others’ soul voices. It makes me sad that I cannot put into words to make anyone understand, unless they experience it themselves, the feeling of interconnectedness I experience with The Creator and His Universe, with my Marijuana. The feeling is even most intense when I have had a break without marijuana, and then smoke it for the first time after a break. At which time I feel an intense interconnectedness and oneness with the living spirit of the Universe aspect feeling the Creator, which I can only describe as a feeling of Nirvana, which only lasts momentarily; I cry with unspeakable joy every time I have that experience. As an example, now that Hemp with THCa (+), is legal federally; During pride at the next town over, I went to a smoke shop, not even knowing this had been available yet. When I saw they had a dab bar I decided to try it. Skeptical I would experience anything like with marijuana. When I hit the Dab, I felt that similar experience of the living presence of the universe alive inside me. I started to cry uncontrollably, only making a slight whimper trying not to make a scene. The dab tender was freaked out, I could see the surprise in her eyes’ she asked me if I was ok. Trying to get the words out, I said “I’m sorry, I’m feeling the Living Presence of the Universe.” She said she never seen anyone have that reaction to a hemp dab before.

Also, I really notice a difference from before that day with my sex addiction. Before these days, sex was constantly on my mind, and I was constantly on the look for it. When I could not get any when I was active in my active sex addiction, it felt as if I was going to die inside. It also made my life unmanageable, staying up all hours of the night in search for sex, going to work exhausted. Even in my recovery program from substances, it was not drugs that kept me going out and relapsing. It was the sex; if I could not find sober sex, then I would resort to someone partying, or me partying to find someone to play with. These days, even though there are times when I may have slipped from giving into loneliness or being reactive to negative circumstances happening in my life, it does not feel as if I am going to die without it. It is not an ISSUE today as it was in those days, in my active sex addiction, prior to Sex Addicts Anonymous.

From “Remember Before this Day,” I have also experienced mystical things, like when I close my eyes I at TIMES see many images that transform into other images within the darkness of my closed eyes, and color swirls I never experienced before these days. I also see what appears to be the stars in the Universe within me, just like when I am staring at the night sky. I know they are not just floaties, as when my eyes are closed and I slowly turn around, the stars stay fixed in their position and I see different stars as I am turning around with my eyes closed. Also, I can see the ghost-outline of my limbs move my limbs around in front of my closed eyes.

“The Kabbalah Centre is Not Real Kabbalah!”

I have heard and read on multiple occasions of people claiming that, “The Kabbalah Centre is not real Kabbalah,” or “The Bergs are sinners for sharing Kabbalah,” reading some horrific comments about The Rav and Karen. According to an article from the World’s largest Hasidic organization, Chabad.org. The Arizal, says it is a responsibility to spread and teach Kabbalah. That the Time if Messiah is reliant on it. It also discusses the inner (Hidden Mystical) and outer (Practical) aspects of Kabbalah.

(www.chabad.org/library/article_cdo/aid/3198724/jewish/Is-Kabbalah-for-Everyone.htm)

The Kabbalah Centre from my experiences, shares the wisdom of the Practical Kabbalah, the information one needs to connect to the Creator’s light and manifest it into one’s [LIFE], As a defense to the authenticity of the Kabbalah Centre’s Kabbalah. After gaining conscious awareness on a more permanent basis with the Sophia, I corresponded with a Rabbi from Chabad. Hiding the fact, I was not Jewish, I discussed with him my experience with the Sophia (Though using Jewish terms). He told me this was my “Jewish-Soul” waking up. Then I posed him the question. “If being gay is truly a sin, how can I be experiencing the Shekinah alive within me.” He diverted the question and told me, only that, “If you can’t fulfill that mitzvah of not being Gay, then perform all the one’s you can.” So, to me. How would I as a Gay Gentile man gain conscious awareness of the Holy Spirit (Sophia) within, If the Kabbalah Centre's Kabbalah was not genuinely authentic.

On another note, in regards to The Arizal's comments with The Kabbalah Centre verses Chabad. Once around Chanukah, I read an article on Chabad.org about a Jewish Lady, who had a Christian friend who desired to show solidarity to her Jewish friend and Light a Menorah and observe Chanukah. The article basically replied, it was nice her friend wanting to show support for her friend's Jewish Heritage, it would be better if her friend keeps with her own Christian celebrations. Turning her friend's offer of "Solidarity" to one of "Appropriation," at least that was the impression I got. However, The Kabbalah Centre, has shown me how through observing Chanukah, and all the other Holy-Days' I can manifest the Creator's Light, Miracles, and Life-Sustenance that Chanukah, and the other Holy-Days have to offer.

A final note on the Kabbalah Centre's "fake" Kabbalah. I once read a comment of someone saying sarcastically that Kabbalah Centre claims Karen had the Holy Spirit (But the Hebrew), giving me the impression, he doubted this. First, he is saying they claim "Karen has the Holy Spirit," not She "IS" the Holy Spirit. I experience the Holy Spirit (Even according to a Chabad Rabbi) at the level of the Sophia of my understanding. If me as a newcomer to Kabbalah, can experience this, a conscious awareness of the Holy Spirit within. It is impossible to me that Karen did not also possess a conscious awareness' of the Holy Spirit of her Understanding. An old sponsor of mine once told me when it comes to recover, sober time, and gaining conscious awareness of God within. That Time means, "This.I.Must.Earn." The Zohar says that "Time" is of the Shekinah (Holy Spirit). THIS I MUST EARN... takes TIME.

"AA is a Religious Program, not a Spiritual One!"

I do not know how many times, I have heard over and over in some meetings (Phone and In-Person), the bitter comments of "AA (or any other 12 Step) is a Religious Program, and not a Spiritual One." Personally, growing up in a very religious household, I find this very offensive. Rav Berg says "There is no coercion in SPIRITUALITY." Keeping it simple. A Religiousness is of Closemindedness and Spirituality is of Open-mindedness. For example, the only requirement of any 12-step program “is a Desire” to stop what is making one’s life unmanageable, and keeping them from connecting them to the Light of The Creator of their own understanding. One does not even need to accept the concept of The Creator or a Power Higher than Themselves... If it was religious the requirement would include “A desire to stop... and Believe in God as I Believe in God.”

God willing, let me cover how I believe why some people have a misconception that AA+ is religious and not spiritual. First, yes from my experience, most people in AA+ understand God of Abraham, Issac, and Jacob, with the Understanding of Jesus of Millennia’s. Which some may automatically jump to their own upbringing, being turned off by “GOD” of their understanding. Again, everyone in AA+ is not of this mindset. Everyone in AA+ has their own understanding of God or Lack There OF.

Here is an example of my teen years. I had a manager at the restaurant I worked at. She knew I was a Jehovah’s Witness, and I knew she was in “AA” (Having no clue what that was or meant at that time.) We use to debate if Jesus turned water into “Wine” or “Grape juice, all I knew of AA was they did not drink and according to my impression from this one person, they ALL believed Jesus turned water into Grape juice and not Wine. which today I know is not the case. And from my exp. Yes, there are religious people in AA+, but that is not the majority from my experience, mostly. But though some may share of their own religion beliefs in a meeting, it is not part of the program, it is their own personal religious beliefs. And an OUTSIDE issue.

Other outside issues, that from my experiences could lead people to believe AA+ is a religious program rather than a Spiritual one is again when religious beliefs are shared like. Like its part of the program to “Get Sober, Get Married, and Have Children.” I can only imagine what could be going through a new commers’ mind, just trying to deal with getting sober and have this added to their plate. If I was straight, I might run away, and lose an opportunity for Sobriety and possibly a conscious awareness-contact type relationship with God.

And to play Devil’s advocate; I know of men who have run away from AA after years of sobriety because of homophobic comments. What does that have to do with SOBRIETY. NOTHING according to PAGE 69 of the BIG BOOK. And According to Traditions anything in regards to Sex or Family life outside of page 69 is an OUTSIDE issue.

And of one's OWN personal RELIGIOUS Beliefs, and not endorsed by The AA Fellowship and Organization.

“A Real Spiritual War of Good Vs Evil”

Kabbalistically on spiritual and metaphysical levels, angelic forces come into existence from our thoughts, words, and actions. These angelic forces are playing a part in a real spiritual war. I dare say, we all know there are people out there who gain enjoyment off the pain and suffering of other, the angelic forces that are brought forth from such actions, are adding more and more to the side of evil prevailing over good spiritually, effecting us as a whole, as now there are more and more dark angelic forces whispering to us to too harm to others, as angels, are not making physical effect on us, but us pulling through their negativity, and acting upon it.. with the whispers of the Darkside getting louder as more and more are created.

Even so, when one maybe not so intentionally with the intent to cause harm, may share such of the above religious comments, in a spiritual program (See a REAL spiritual WAR just within the rooms Jimmi?) these negative comments create evil energy angels joining the side of EVIL on this “Real Spiritual War against Good Vs Evil. (NO?). Karen Berg once talking about the “Voices within the Light,” replied to a question of how to tell when the Light is talking and when the Darkside is talking. “The Light will never tell you to hurt someone.” To me that means physically, mentally, and emotionally, also. So, the question is with this REAL spiritual war, “do I want to listen to the Light within ME or the Darkness (Ego; The Satan Force)?

“The Marijuana Man”

On of final notes. Of my own personal experience of this real spiritual war within the rooms and beyond as a Cannabis user, whom believes with Certainty, that Cannabis (HEMP too) is a vital part of strengthening my own PERSONAL relationship with The Creator, HIS Universe, and the Sophia within me. And to my brethren StOneRs, question your motives if you find yourself in a 12 Step program and use Cannabis. If you feel cannabis is impeding your recovery, is it because Cannabis is affecting your recovery, or the Herd (Heard?) around you drilling into your thoughts it is not acceptable in their own personal programs of RECOVERY, so it is not acceptable to them in yours.

“An Angel’s Best Undercover is Homosexuality”

There were times over the past few years during my spiritual AWAKENing, that I experienced visions. Audible visions. Messages I believe from the UNIVERSE. During one of these visions, it was Just the Vibration of the Universe and I. Within this vibration I heard four simple phrases. “The Universe is a VIBRATION,” “We are CRYSTALS,” “Homosexuality is an ANGELS best undercover,” and “Remember The PAPER!”

I am touching on two as the others can be explained with science. “Remember The PAPER!” is a message for one to “Put hand to paper,” when one is doing their spiritual transformation work. Weather the 12 Steps or some other form for self-inventory for spiritual growth purposes. I did not and look at me NOW, an unbalanced Spiritual Awakening. (Meant to be, I believe for me from where I stand now.) The Zohar mentions some will make it through this self-work ok, and some will be, well maybe talking to the Voices within the Light Homeless.

Of “Homosexuality is an Angels best undercover.” TO me this is self-explanatory, growing up as a Jehovah’s Witness especially with the following example of my Father. Once while I was having a conversation with a friend, they shared with me an experience they had recently with a Jehovah’s Witness who showed up their door. They got into the discussion of Homosexuality. The Witness told them “My son is gay; I wish he would kill himself!?” Later that day with weeping eyes, I called my father, who asked me not to call him in the past, since I am disfellowshipped. I asked my father crying, “Do you want me to kill myself because I am Gay?” I could feel the hurt in my father’s voice, who asked me why I would ask such a thing. I told him about the conversation my friend had with a Witness. My farther replied, “That brother does not TRULY understand JEHOVAH’s LOVE. It is up to us to Love and Show lover to everyone. The rest is in JEHOVAH’S HANDS.”

SPELLINGS OF HERALD ANGELS

Back in 2015 during the beginning of my chaotic spiritual awakening, I started to notice freakily weird sense making messages while playing with the predictive text on my phone, I began to believe, that my guardian angels would attempting to communicate with me through my phone's predictive text. I would then start to purposely see what my angels had to say, by selecting the predictive text options, going from right to left with the predictive text options, and sometimes randomly, when messages started to repeat themselves over and over. At times sharing my music on my Facebook timeline, starting the predictive text from the word after the artist's name (or a few words from me first.) Some of which had even foretold future events in my life, like my dog Oscar not making it home with me, symbolic messages of this land with comments like "ancient ruin walls," and of this land and its connection to the Gohonzon, with comments like "follow my Corazon." It was not until most recently I would also notice messages from within all the predictive text word options, once I expanded the predictive text menu. Like the one to follow of [The Sophia being the True rejected Corner-Stone.]

Also, The Following "Spellings of Herald Angels" were not composed by me, but as per the aforementioned. Messages from my guardian angels communicating with me through my phone's predictive text back in 2015, prior to me coming to this Land.

These first "Spellings of Herald Angels" I received on Saturday May 25th 2024 at 4:20pm, while standing within the Shrine of Jehovah Shalom, before the smaller Shrine of Sarah within this Shrine. And then only 20 days later June 14th 2024, come across the Zohar section answering the question I was posing within my phone's notes, when I received these messages, from within the full menu of my phone's predictive text. Zohar Vol. 21. Pg. 84 Pinchas 87. Moses, the two Messiahs, the rainbow and Malchut. Specifically, paragraph 592. For the most part I will let these messages speak for themselves; only adding occasional commentary.

“Sophia Satan Spirit” According to the Zohar, the feminine aspect of The Satan Force, “Lillith” is the Handmaid of the Sophia. She works for the Sophia, to give man the opportunity to exercise free will. When one conducts oneself with love, they Raise the Sophia within, when one conducts oneself in a negative manner, they are raising the Lillith within, above the Sophia.

“Thai Tefillin Texas Tony” This to me is making a connection to the Tefillin symbols within the Gohonzon, which is Japanese in origin. As my late Tony was Chinese (w Thai both Oriental) and Texas is an inside connection with Tony and I.

“Is shoe Corresponding before tablet” This is my guardian angel’s affirming these “Spellings of Herald Angels” are coming from the Arch Angel Sandalphon. Sandalphon’s name means “Shoe-Angel.” As you can see in the next photo of the Shrine. There is the Stone Shoe (Angel), aside the Shin log, which is before the Stone Tablet within this structure of Jehovah Shalom

These three following “Spellings of Herald Angels” come from back in 2015 during what I refer to as one of my “Schizo-Episodes.” When I went overboard with posting my angelic messages on my Facebook timeline. I would start by selecting the predictive text options, going from right to left with the predictive text options, and sometimes randomly, when messages started to repeat themselves. The predictive text from these begins at the predictive word after the artist’s name (or after a few words from me first.)

“...we are the world..we are the children” I believe are the first few words I wrote and the predictive text began with “Whitney.”

“NO I WILL NOT LET YOU TAKE MY TONY”GO” which was a flashback of a memory from 2010; when I saw Michael’s music2010. The predictive text picked up again at “HEAR”

“tu homeless escape homeless homeless escape” a prophetic message that I would make it off the streets and escape homelessness with the help of my family.

“Kabbalah Teacher my of the Rav’S books” That Rav Berg is and will always be my first foremost Teacher of Kabbalah, as the Mother of my Kabbalah Cabala Qabalah studies.

“Jehovah of the ancient ruin walls Jenna use mi Corazon” Another prophetic message relating to this land of Jehovah Shalom which I purchased fall of 2016, almost a year later, and its connections with the Gohonzon. Two Corazons

“more accuracy pulling your wife rank” this to me is yet another prophetic message relating to how to me the “Spelling of Herald Angels” of The Sophia rejected corner stone” are to me a lot more coherent than these “Spellings of Herald Angels” from 2015.

“Oscar doesn’t go home” this is the final and another significant prophetic message, as when I escaped homelessness going to live with my family, I could not take Oscar with me on the bus. And he never returned to me.

I am combining the final two “Spellings of Herald Angels’ together as they also contain one singular message between the two of them.

“Marijuana Schizophrenic Shamans Stand up my of the Rav’S books” another reference to my seal as the Marijuana Man within Gohonzon as Ancient Lady Mary Jane (Heb. Binah/Ima)

“Walt Disney resentment kingdom hall Michael Kabbalah JACKSON” When I was a teen, I had a resentment over a trip that my parents took us kids to Walt Disney World. I lost my job because I could not give any kind of notice to my employer, I would be gone a week or two and they fired me. While at Walt Disney World, we saw Michael Jackson’s Captain EO. Which is bizarre, because my parents would not even let us listen to Michael Jackson, him being and Ex-

Jehovah's Witness. That following Sunday, there was a brother sitting in front of me who looked exactly like Michael Jackson. I asked my Daddy to go say hi. And my daddy said "No, he is disfellowshipped." I believe this is a sign that it was in fact Michael Jackson in the seat in front of me in the Kingdom Hall that Sunday.

Before I go into the singular message from within these two messages, I need to advise what the Zohar says is the meaning from Large (Cap) letter and the small (lowercase) letters. Therefore, to me, the lower-case words within these "Spellings of Herald Angels" are from the level of Malchut, the Sophia, the Holy Spirit Daughter. While the Capitalized words are from the level of Binah/Ima, the Holy Spirit Mother, with connecting the Capitalized words together within these messages, they are hidden message on their own from the level of Binah.

Of Sophia level "Hunter have no sex with Michael JACKSON." & Of Binah level "JACKSON ALWAYS JACKSON NOT" This to me is a proclamation of Michael Jackson innocence of any Child Abuse Allegation....

"Michael JACKSON Butterflies letting letting Doctors if have points" A "point" for those who are unfamiliar with addict slang is a syringe. This to me is relating of Michael Jackson's murder.

Twelve Step Fellowship References

For those who can relate and feel they may have unmanageability in their lives. Below is a list of a few major topic Anonymous fellowships. May I suggest please, that if you have someone in your life you feel may benefits from one of these fellowships, please do not try to run an intervention and confront them about this. Rather, maybe contact one of these fellowships and see if someone within the fellowship can come and place a “12-Step Call”, and have someone share their own personal experience strength and hope.
