Barriers Encountered	Aisha Hunt left her position at the end of quarter 3. Thankfully our new staff will be car seat tech trained at the end of April so there should not be any gaps in service with other staff serving in the interim. Jozee has now completed her car seat training and has been installing and checking car seats in the hospitals and for other families in the community we get referrals for.
Success Stories	A family was screened for parent support services in the hospital. During the screening, staff noted that the car seat in the room appeared to be a counterfeit Doona. Staff asked permission to look at the seat and found that it didn't have the required stickers or a chest clip. Staff explained the situation to the mother who was upset that she had spent money on a seat that she could not use. Staff provided her with a car seat and the education on how to proper use and install the seat in her vehicle.
