If the reptile presents with Yellow Fungus, NTRR cannot accept the reptile into our rescue, as Yellow Fungus is deadly and highly contagious. However, NTRR can take it to its vet on the day it is surrendered and have it humanely euthanized. In such cases NTRR requires a $50 fee to cover the vet cost.

NTRR requires that all animals being surrendered into the rescue come with all of their supplies, including but not limited to: enclosure, lighting, bedding, food, enrichment items, etc. A surrender fee of $25 per animal will be required in full by the time of surrender. This surrender fee will go towards the basic care, food, etc of said animal. If the animal being surrendered is in need of immediate medical attention (as stated by the owner or determined by NTRR Board member) a surrender fee of $50 will be required to be put towards that vet visit.

You agree that you are irrevocably transferring and surrendering to NTRR legal ownership of the reptile(s) on the date of surrender. This gives us complete authority to take whatever actions in our sole judgment are necessary and in the best interest of the reptile(s). NTRR will work to place your reptile(s) into a good home. In an attempt to find a good lifetime home, NTRR works with other rescue groups and may, in the best interest of the reptile(s), place him/her with them. Your signature surrenders all claims and/or rights to the reptile(s) listed on this form and by signing, you are giving NTRR authorization to make judgements regarding this/these reptile(s)' well-being and potential euthanization if the reptile becomes terminally ill or deemed not placeable.

While surrender fees are not required (other than the previously stated instances) we are a 501c3 rescue that is only able to run properly based on donations. All donations are tax deductible and a receipt of donation can be provided upon request. If you are willing and feel generous enough to make a donation to the rescue you can do so via:
