Cost of New Building Now Completely Covered

Securing of $71,000 in Agreement with Garvey-Fink-Lincoln Families Guarantees "Debt-Free" Building

Friends of K.S.R. will remember that the Garvey-Fink-Lincoln families granted the School $35,500 on a matching basis last December. The agreement was to raise $71,000 in cash and pledges by April 1.

April 1 saw us well beyond the $71,000 goal, and thus ensures us of dedicating the building free of indebtedness this fall. It will be remembered, of course, that a "debt" still remains in the sense of pledges yet to be paid. But the important factor is that individuals all over the state and beyond have seen the significance of K.S.R., responded to its appeal for new facilities, and have met that need.

Three significant developments came out of this appeal for matching funds:

1. A gift of $10,000 to cover the cost of the stained glass window in the library. This window, along with the accompanying Moses statue, will form one of the most meaningful as well as beautiful symbols on campus. The official seal of K.U., it is used nowhere else on the campus.
2. The increasing number of corporate gifts. As K.S.R. expands, it becomes necessary to broaden our financial base, and it is heartening to see the number of businesses and corporations that are responding to the significance of the School of Religion.

3. The giving represents the concerns of a multiplicity of people, from many walks of life, and from varying levels of income. But—most significant of all—they represent a variety of denominational backgrounds, Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish. In a very real way, this represents the genius of K.S.R., i.e. religion independently supported, relating itself competently and relevantly and adequately to K.U. K.S.R. stands for a strong, unequivocal, and scholarly voice of religion relating itself academically to the university. Hundreds of people are beginning to see the importance of that task. We look forward to the time when it will be thousands.

Following is a list of those who have joined us in the advancement of K.S.R. since the Development Campaign began in 1965. Our appreciation to all whose names appear—and our challenge to those who are not yet but will be included. Join in a similar effort with these people and help us continue to remain a competent, academic, relevant, and church-oriented institution of scholarship and learning at K.U.

And What Now?

The over 500 people whose names appear above represent individuals, businesses, and corporations who have helped K.S.R. complete its first big step toward a goal set long ago. But it is just the first step. Our goal remains the same; a competent and relevant program of teaching religion at Kansas University as provided by church people who recognize the need for such work. For this we need adequate finances for library, furnishings for the new building, endowment for lectureships, visiting professors, etc.

The first step has been made. Now let us go on to the next.
