ABOUT: Carole is an author, teacher, speaker, singer-songwriter, recording artist, and host of Bible Chicks Podcast. She has written Revitalize, a six-week devotional for women that has reached several thousand readers. Each month, Carole sends her Praise Notes devotional via email and continues to point others to Jesus with her Bible based messages of encouragement. Signup for Carole's devotional and download Carole's Revitalize eBook, both free at CaroleBrewer.com.

On ZOOM, Carole leads worship for online group meetings, teaches private voice students, and presents a monthly voice workshop for the American Council of the Blind. In addition to Carole's Bible-based presentations for women, she sings with her worship team at her home church and presents concerts for Senior centers in her area.

Carole passionately reflects lasting expressions of God's love. Her unique presentations are a seamlessly interwoven blend of dynamic, heartfelt messages and Carole's beautiful songs of worship. Audiences connect with Carole and take with them hope, encouragement, life-transforming truths, and a rekindling of love for our Lord, Jesus Christ.

EDUCATION: Carole has a B.A. in Music, an M.A. in Education, and a CA State teaching credential in Adult Education. She is a graduate of Bible Study Fellowship and has studied with several other Bible groups including Community Bible Study and Women of the Word. Carole also spent several years as a K-12 public school music teacher and special education teacher.

From personal experience, Carole understands the ups and downs women face. Her warmth and humor are evident as she gives answers to our daily needs and challenges, all filtered through God's love letter to us.

"My greatest joy is in helping women feel loved, experience freedom from past hurts, and understand that our true-identity is in Christ! I'm delighted and honored to speak and sing for groups of any size and budget." Blessings, Carole
