VOCABULARY

Vocabulary of delicious terms

Squash is a non-alcoholic concentrated syrup used in beverage making. It is usually fruit-flavoured, made from fruit juice, water, and sugar or a sugar substitute. Modern squashes may also contain food colouring and additional flavouring.

A Cordial is used to describe a tonic, syrup, or non-alcoholic drink that is often considered to be quite sweet. Although, many people consider the term to describe any type of liqueur that has a low alcohol content, or even a medicinal beverage.

A Syrup or sirup is a condiment that is a thick, viscous liquid consisting primarily of a particular juice or extract, which when processed converts it to sugars. Flavored syrups can also be used to make frappes, or to enhance coffee which when made with coffee can have other names such as frappuccino, a word created by Starbucks Corporation to trademark their version.

A Puree is food which has been crushed or beaten so that it forms a thick, smooth liquid

A Smoothie is a thick and creamy beverage made from pureed raw fruit, vegetables, and sometimes dairy products (e.g. milk, yogurt, ice-cream or cottage cheese), typically using a blender.

A Latte is half milk, half Espresso and is generally considered to be the lightest, mildest coffee-based drink, A Latte is where you add steamed milk and a small amount of milk foam to an espresso.

Breve is an espresso with a half and half milk and cream added to it. Latte is creamy with a coffee like taste but breve has a more creamy taste.

Mocha has chocolate and is much stronger. In fact, mocha coffee is usually stronger than cappuccino.

A Frappe is made from ice cream, milk and flavored syrup, usually. It may also contain coffee or coffee flavoring. A Frappe is iced.

Frappuccino is something between coffee and milkshake, a recipe developed and branded by Starbucks the latest years. In a blender you mix cold espresso, ice cubes, milk, ice and sugar.

Granita is a semi-frozen dessert made from sugar, water and various flavorings. Originally from icily, it is available throughout Italy in varying forms.

Gelato is the Italian word for ice cream, derived from the Latin word "gelātus.". Gelato is made with milk, cream, various sugars, and flavoring such as fresh fruit and nut purees.
