Wishing you a Very Merry Holiday Season

DEAR FRIENDS OF THE QUACO HISTORICAL & LIBRARY SOCIETY

As we come to the closing of another successful season at the Quaco Museum and Betty Thibodeau Library, I would like to express our sincere gratitude for all of your help, be it in volunteering hours or financial donations. Both play a vital role in the seasonal operation and viability of the Society. Your generosity is what inspires your Board and the volunteers to preserve the local history through exhibits of interest at the museum or our genealogical and library services.

It always fascinates me when descendants return to the Village and we can assist them in 'connecting the missing dots'. Or, new visitors arrive and are completely mystified by the local history. In return, we acquire new friends. After all, "there are no strangers, only friends we haven't met yet".

We would also like to welcome our new Board members Andrea Taylor (Vice President), Heather Shkuratoff, and Daniel Hayden (Members at Large).

Personally, I would like to thank our out-going President Carmel Vivier for keeping us on the right path and Morag Clark, Carmel's right hand for the many hours you have both contributed to the Society and without expecting recognition. We all wish you both the best and hope we haven't seen the last of you.

We look forward to a break over the Holidays and into the new year, and all that 2025 presents to us. Please reach out to any of the Board members about new ideas for exhibits or services we can provide to make your visit more pleasurable and memorable.
