

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

A Formal Commitment to the Principles That Guide Us

INTRODUCTION

The United States of Black America pledges are more than words. They are a way to remember who we are, what we stand for, and what we're responsible for.

These pledges can be spoken anywhere—in schools, meetings, or at home. Each time we say them, we're choosing to stay rooted in truth, unity, and purpose.

The adult pledge speaks to protection, discipline, and direction for Foundational Black Americans. The youth pledge lifts up identity, love, and legacy. Both are meant to be spoken with respect as a reminder of our covenant.

USBA PLEDGE (ADULT)

I pledge allegiance

To the United States of Black America,
A nation of sovereign people, born of resilience,
Rooted in the sacrifices of our ancestors,
And grounded in justice, freedom, and truth.

I vow to honor

The dignity of our people,
The brilliance of our culture,
And the promise of our future.

I stand committed

To protect our right to govern ourselves,
To uplift our communities,
And to defend our lineage from all adversaries.

With unwavering faith

In the spirit of mutual respect,
The power of our unity,
And the hope of our children,
I pledge to build, preserve, and protect
A nation where FBA lives thrive.

Forever, for us, and by us.

For generations to come.

USBA PLEDGE (YOUTH)

I pledge allegiance

To the United States of Black America,
A nation where I am free to dream,
Learn the truth,
And grow with pride.

I promise to honor

The ancestors who paved the way,
The people that guide me today,
And the future I help to build.

I will stand strong

For justice, fairness, and kindness,
And do my part to make our community better.

With hope in my heart and power in my voice,

I will rise, lead, and fight for our rights.
