How does the Texas Oilfield Angels help??

Texas Oilfield Angels is an all-volunteer non-profit charitable organization formed by people in the oil and gas industry who felt the need to start a fund for injured or ill oilfield workers and their families. Our motto is "Giving back to the oilfield by helping injured oilfield workers and families."

There are currently 10 directors on the board and at this time we have two event committees consisting of over 45 volunteers. Our donations are set in place to assist any oilfield person or their family, who has a medical need arising from illness or accident, whether work related or not. Our next event will be the 4th Annual Crawfish Boil in May 2019.
