

Self-Analysis of 12 Crucial Leadership Characteristics

How Are You Doing in These Crucial Areas of Successful Leadership? Rate yourself on a scale of 0 to 5. If you are stuck between ratings, for example, a 3 and a 4, mark 3.5.

	Characteristics	Rating
1.	Your ability to analyze any situation objectively, without bias or prejudice, deal with facts, the people, and all the dynamics involved, and know the best course of action for everyone.
2.	Your ability to take charge of your team and inspire them to apply their best efforts to win big every day.
3.	Your ability to make the right decisions for the right reasons, implemented in the right way, at the right time for the best results for all involved.
4.	Your ability to create relationships of trust and loyalty with your team, peers, and leadership.
5.	Your ability to strengthen and refine your performance skills so they set the standard and be an authentic example to your team members.
6.	Your ability to effectively communicate, inspire, and build others to become their best in their roles.
7.	Your ability and willingness to speak truth to power as necessary.
8.	Your ability to work, problem-solve, plan, collaborate, and synergize with others to accomplish vital organization and team objectives.
9.	Your ability to solve perplexing problems by developing winning strategies that consistently achieve your goals.
10.	Your ability to develop team members and teams with solid commitment and the highest performance.
11.	Your ability to help emerging leaders to become great leaders in their own right.
12.	Your ability to create visions of great success inspires unstoppable teams to make changes and achieve great goals and objectives.
	TOTAL

For a free evaluation on your results contact Maikel Bailey at maikel@maikelbailey.com, 801.910.5704. Ask about the team analysis inventory on your leadership characteristics.