Why Exhibitors and Sponsors Should Attend

Key Benefits for Exhibitors & Sponsors

- Direct access to decision-makers You're not just meeting attendees, you're meeting the people who influence budgets, select vendors, and implement fraud-prevention strategies across major organizations.
- High-credibility environment IAFCI is a respected global association. Being visible here positions your company as a trusted partner in the fight against financial crime.
- Showcase your technology and expertise Live demos, hands-on conversations, and real-time feedback from practitioners who deal with fraud every day.
- Build relationships that actually convert This conference is known for meaningful networking, not drive-by booth traffic. Attendees come specifically to learn, collaborate, and find solutions.
- Brand exposure before, during, and after the event Sponsors receive multi-channel visibility through signage, digital promotion, printed materials, and IAFCI's communication platforms.
- Stay ahead of industry trends You'll hear directly from investigators, banks, merchants, and law enforcement about the threats they're facing — giving you insight to refine your product roadmap.
- Support the global fraud-prevention community Your presence demonstrates commitment to the mission of reducing financial crime and protecting consumers and businesses.
- Competitive advantage Your competitors will be there. Your absence is noticeable.
