The Ancient Secrets of Daniel

But thou, O Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book, even to the time of the end: many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased. (Dan. 12:4)

Introduction from Revelation 17

Revelation 17 introduces Daniel 7 to affirm its place in time. Put on your thinking cap; it's a jigsaw puzzle. Here's the picture: Supernatural kings have seven kingdoms. Each ostensibly has its own king, but the scarlet beast is the most cunning king of all.

Imagine living in ancient Rome. Let's see his vision as John did when the angel told him the scarlet beast was on earth and now it is not, but it is because it still exists. Furthermore, it's about to come up out of the abyss. Not only that, but the scarlet one John sees, the beast that was, and is not, even he is eighth, and is of the seven, and goeth into perdition. (17:11) Now we know that after the seven fall, one of the seven, the scarlet beast, returns to rule an eighth kingdom. Even he is the eighth, and is of the seven.

⁸ `The beast that thou didst see: it was, and it is not; and it is about to come up out of the abyss, and to go away to destruction, and wonder shall those dwelling upon the earth, whose names have not been written upon the scroll of the life from the foundation of the world, beholding the beast that was, and is not, although it is.⁹ `Here [is] the mind that is having wisdom; the seven heads are seven mountains, upon which the woman doth sit,¹⁰ and there are seven kings, the five did fall, and the one is, the other did not yet come, and when he may come, it behoveth him to remain a little time; ¹¹ and the beast that was, and is not, he also is eighth, and out of the seven he is, and to destruction he doth go away.¹² And the ten horns that thou sawest, are ten kings, who a kingdom did not yet receive, but authority as kings the same hour do receive with the beast,¹³ these have one mind, and their own power and authority to the beast they shall give over; (Rev. 17:8-13 YLT)

After Jesus ascended, Michael and his angels clashed with Satan and his, but the dragon lost and was banished to earth. (Rev. 12:9) Cast out in John's time, the scarlet beast was about to come up out of the abyss. (17:8)

And there are seven kings: five are fallen and one is. (17:10a) The king of Rome is sixth, but the scarlet beast is absent. Having lost the battle, soon he'd rise from the sea to force the fall of Rome and snatch it as an illegitimate kingdom of the sixth city a few centuries after her destruction in 476.^e

Introduction

In the mid-eighth century, the dragon built another Roman Empire by a fraud. The “Donation of Constantine” bequeathed the Roman Empire to the church.^f From its hoax the scarlet beast gained an empire through the deceived church and kept it over a thousand years when it finally fell to the seventh king.

In 800 her pope crowned the first “Holy Roman Emperor,” the French King Charlemagne.^g For the first time, in 962 a king of Germania, Otto the Great, co-ruled what was later the “(Holy) Roman Empire of the German Nation,” the (H)REGN, a title that faded with time.^h Of course it was a fabrication.

The red dragon had been king of Babylon but was about to come up to rule an empire of hundreds of fiefs and duchies under Roman popes. The seventh king would conquer Rome: and the other is not yet come; and when he cometh, he must continue a short space. (Rev. 17:10b) In 1806 Napoleon vanquished the (H)REGN but was twice defeated and twice exiled by 1816.ⁱ

In Revelation five conditions identify the next beast, the scarlet one John saw: he’s the eighth ... of the seven [kings]; he returns with ten kings which have received no kingdom as yet [in John’s time]; but they receive power as kings one hour with the beast. These have one mind, and shall give their power and strength unto the beast ... and he goeth into perdition. (in 17:11-13) (The words that put the pieces into place are bracketed.)

From Rome’s hundreds, two European empires were formed. After WW1 twelve nations were created out of them; two were politically neutral.^j In twelve years Hitler rose after the ten kings received their kingdoms by a treaty the same hour with the beast. He left the neutral lands undisturbed.^k The eighth king rose in Hitler to take the ten and defeat many more. He lost the war when Berlin toppled, and the beast was slain (in Dan. 7:11).

Hitler ruled the German Empire out of the Roman Empire of the German Nation. Of the seven, the scarlet beast was king of Babylon but ruled by popes and German kings. Bismarck built a German Empire under Prussia, making Berlin its first capital in 1871. It was called the Second Reich after the (H)REGN.^l

In 1933 Hitler became chancellor of Germany, known as the Third Reich—after Bismarck followed the (H)REGN.^m The red dragon was of the seven ... the eighth king after the ten received their kingdoms as prophesied. He spoke through the man. Now let’s watch him lose his war on earth in Daniel 7:

Wild Beasts!

CHAPTER 1

7 In the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon, Daniel saw a dream and visions of his head as he lay in his bed. Then he wrote down the dream and told the sum of the matter. ² Daniel declared, "I saw in my vision by night, and behold, the four winds of heaven were stirring up the great sea. ³ And four great beasts came up out of the sea, different from one another. ⁴ The first was like a lion and had eagles' wings. Then as I looked its wings were plucked off, and it was lifted up from the ground and made to stand on two feet like a man, and the mind of a man was given to it. ⁵ And behold, another beast, a second one, like a bear. It was raised up on one side. It had three ribs in its mouth between its teeth; and it was told, 'Arise, devour much flesh.' ⁶ After this I looked, and behold, another, like a leopard, with four wings of a bird on its back. And the beast had four heads, and dominion was given to it. ⁷ After this I saw in the night visions, and behold, a fourth beast, terrifying and dreadful and exceedingly strong. It had great iron teeth; it devoured and broke in pieces and stamped what was left with its feet. It was different from all the beasts that were before it, and it had ten horns. ⁸ I considered the horns, and behold, there came up among them another horn, a little one, before which three of the first horns were plucked up by the roots. And behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of a man, and a mouth speaking great things.

⁹ "As I looked,

thrones were placed,
and the Ancient of Days took his seat;
his clothing was white as snow,
and the hair of his head like pure wool;
his throne was fiery flames;
its wheels were burning fire.

¹⁰ A stream of fire issued and came out from before him;
a thousand thousands served him,
and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him;
the court sat in judgment, and the books were opened.

The Ancient Secrets

¹¹ “I looked then because of the sound of the great words that the horn was speaking. And as I looked, the beast was killed, and its body destroyed and given over to be burned with fire. ¹² As for the rest of the beasts, their dominion was taken away, but their lives were prolonged for a season and a time.

¹³ “I saw in the night visions, and behold, with the clouds of heaven
there came one like a son of man, and he came to the Ancient of Days and was presented before him.

¹⁴ And to him was given dominion and glory and a kingdom, that all peoples, nations, and languages should serve him;
his dominion is an everlasting dominion,
which shall not pass away, and his kingdom one that shall not be destroyed.

¹⁵ “As for me, Daniel, my spirit within me was anxious, and the visions of my head alarmed me. ¹⁶ I approached one of those who stood there and asked him the truth concerning all this. So he told me and made known to me the interpretation of the things. ¹⁷ ‘These four great beasts are four kings who shall arise out of the earth. ¹⁸ But the saints of the Most High shall receive the kingdom and possess the kingdom forever, forever and ever.’

¹⁹ “Then I desired to know the truth about the fourth beast, which was different from all the rest, exceedingly terrifying, with its teeth of iron and claws of bronze, and which devoured and broke in pieces and stamped what was left with its feet, ²⁰ and about the ten horns that were on its head, and the other horn that came up and before which three of them fell, the horn that had eyes and a mouth that spoke great things, and that seemed greater than its companions. ²¹ As I looked, this horn made war with the saints and prevailed over them, ²² until the Ancient of Days came, and judgment was given for the saints of the Most High, and the time came when the saints possessed the kingdom. (Dan. 7:1-22 ESV) Cont’d.

Wild Beasts!

²³ Thus he said, The fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be diverse from all kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces.

²⁵ And he shall speak great words against the most High, and shall wear out the saints of the most High, and think to change times and laws: and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and the dividing of time.

²⁶ But the judgment shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume and to destroy it unto the end.

²⁸ Hitherto is the end of the matter. As for me Daniel, my cogitations much troubled me, and my countenance changed in me: but I kept the matter in my heart.

(Daniel 7:23-28)

The Sea

The Great Sea appears fourteen times in the Word, clearly the waters of the Mediterranean, the western border of Israel.¹ A vision takes Daniel far from Babylon to the Great Sea, agitated by four winds. The days are perilous as four beasts rise, not just from a sea or many waters, but out of the earth (in 7:17), the floor of the Great Sea—out of hell they rise to their place in time. [The beasts had fallen into the earth and risen out of the sea. (7:3, 17)]

As he lay in bed dreaming, Daniel envisioned its tumultuous waves, and four great beasts came up from the sea, diverse one from another—supernatural kings who work by men. The most formidable beast of the four had ten horns on his head (in 7:20).

The Lion

⁴ The first was like a lion with eagle's wings. As I watched, its wings were pulled off and it was lifted off the ground. It was made to stand upon two feet like a man, and the heart of a human was given to it. (Dan. 7:4 TLV)

The Ancient Secrets

The rampant lion standing on two feet was England's in the 17th century. Others had lions as beasts, but earlier her lion was standing on all fours. The first to adopt the lion on the Great Seal was Richard the Lion Heart in the 12th century.² King James I set its lion upright on two feet in 1603.³ In 1611 he commissioned an official translation of the Holy Bible into the English language.

In the 18th century, her colonies in America were freed from their motherland just as the eagle's wings were pulled from the lion's back. The Revolutionary War was the price of freedom.

Sixty years later in 1837, Queen Victoria was on the throne. The Christian queen chose Benjamin Disraeli as prime minister, the first Jew with an important role in the British government.⁴ PM for two terms, he was her closest confidante till the queen's reclusion after her husband, Albert, died.

When she gained international sovereignty in the Near East, Disraeli named her, "Empress of India."⁵ In 1900 her empire was the largest in history, with one-fourth the land mass on earth and with one-fifth its population.⁶ English became the nations' second language, and the gospel went worldwide.

England's Secretary of State Balfour proposed the British-ruled Palestine for the Jews in 1917. His letter went to Lord Rothschild. April 25, 1920: the "Balfour Declaration of Intent to Establish a Zionist State for the Jews" was made international law by the "Palestine Mandate" at the San Remo Conference in Italy.⁷ Its borders were defined by the Allies until April 1921 when the oil-rich Arabs pressed Great Britain for more land.⁸

Arabs populated 90% of it all, so Churchill partitioned 77% east of the river as Trans-Jordan.⁹ The League of Nations finally provided 23% of the original land grant for the Jews, but the League lacked military power to enforce its decisions.

In 1938 Hitler entered German-speaking European lands. To avoid conflict with the Nazis, in a peace proposal, PM Neville Chamberlain annexed the land surrounding Czechoslovakia and its natural resources to Hitler in the infamous "Munich Pact."¹⁰ But the dictator proved land for peace wasn't what he wanted at all. When he attacked Poland September 1, 1939, Great Britain and France declared war, but it was too late.¹¹ If they'd foreseen what would happen, they would have resisted Germany early on.

Out of Parliament, Winston Churchill, who loved the Jews, could only watch as Britain's "White Paper" suppressed Jewish immigration and limited their land holdings in what had become British Palestine.¹² He was incensed; however, by May 1940, politics changed. The appeasement had failed, and the prime minister resigned. As a result, the king chose Churchill as his replacement to lead Great Britain for the remainder of the war.¹³

Churchill proved his gifts of oratory and diplomacy and won Roosevelt's favor. One hundred sixty-five years of distrust was healed. Congress passed the Lend-Lease Act on March 11, 1941, sending destroyers for the British, Chinese, and Russian forces.¹⁴

When Germany bombed London, newsreels caught Winston walking her streets and lifting people out of the rubble. Above the chaos his courage inspired a nation. He bolstered the Brits who were thrilled by the king's choice, yet after the war, he lost reelection to a socialist with no sympathy for the Jews.

The Bear

Following the fall of the Russian Tsar Nicholas II during the February 1917 Revolution, various rival parties vied for power.¹⁵ The Provisional Government stepped in.¹⁶ Soon the fallen bear rose up on one side by responding to three fascist leaders who cried out for a socialist revolution. Their voices framed the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics in 1922.¹⁷

⁵ "And suddenly another beast, a second, like a bear. It was raised up on one side, and had three ribs in its mouth between its teeth. And they said thus to it: 'Arise, devour much flesh!' (Dan. 7:5 NKJV)

Karl Marx (1818-83) and Friedrich Engels (1820-95) were Germans living in England when they wrote and published "The Communist Manifesto" in 1848.¹⁸ After their deaths, its theory grew popular. In twenty-five years, Vladimir Lenin, Josef Stalin, and Leon Trotsky established the USSR by its revolutionary ideas. Lenin spearheaded the Bolshevik October Revolution of 1917, toppling the Provisional Government and making the state its god.¹⁹ Founded on atheism, Marxism shed much blood.

After executing the tsar and his family, Lenin's leadership was undisputed. Trotsky led its Red Army.²⁰ Stalin was general secretary of the Central Committee of the Communist Party until Lenin's death in 1924 when he took his place, and Marxism, despite its promises, dashed all hopes for Russia.²¹

The new premier ordered the execution of the intelligentsia; then sentenced to death ten million political opponents with Jews and Christians. Trotsky, a Jew himself, was exiled but absconded to Mexico where his comrade ordered his assassination in 1940.

The Terrible Beast

Rome was pillaged by the Visigoths in 410 and finally fell to the Vandals in 476. The Huns, the fiercest tribe of all, were paid to stay out but drove the others into the city. Not long after Attila's death in 453, his tribes disbanded, settling in Germania and Austria where they intermarried to raise families.²²

Stephen II, an 8th century pope, gained the Papal States by Pippin the Short of France who warred against the Lombards to win Italia's central cities for Rome.²³ In 800 Leo III was the pope who crowned Charlemagne, Pippin's first son, as the first allegedly Christian emperor who ruled France and the Lombards.²⁴ [Lords of fiefs and kinglets were also "Holy Roman Emperors"—at times with kingless years between them.²⁵]

The pope in 962, John XII, sought protection from jihadists, relying on the more brutal king of Germania Otto the Great to shield Rome's church.²⁶ Otto had no capital or established form of government, often true of "Holy Roman Emperors." German kings shielded the "Holy Roman Empire of the German Nation," or (H)REGN, at intervals for eight hundred forty-four years.

⁷ After this I saw in the night visions, and behold, a fourth beast, terrifying and dreadful and exceedingly strong. It had great iron teeth; it devoured and broke in pieces and stamped what was left with its feet. It was different from all the beasts that were before it, and it had ten horns. (Dan. 7:7) [Its lands were in hundreds of pieces.]

As a rule the only capital of the (H)REGN was Rome, just a façade of a capital whose government was non-existent. Unlike other beasts, the apostates' beast had an amalgamation, hundreds of tiny lands: fiefs, territories, hamlets, and duchies, employing them as mercenaries who would enforce her dogma by military power.²⁷ The oppression endured over people without a nation.

Prior to 1059 emperors chose or deposed popes by disputes, power grabs, corruption, and scandals. Afterward for centuries popes controlled kings, threatening them with excommunication, which they feared would send them to hell. In the meantime true Christians and Jews were sent to prison, tortured, and burned at the stake for having a Bible, preaching the gospel, praying in a native tongue, objecting to the church's orthodoxy, her "right opinion"; in the case of others, simply for being born Jewish.²⁸

Napoleon's victory of 1806 ended the era of the imperialist church. His French Confederation, a watershed in history, was independent of the Vatican. He revolutionized education, revived the arts, and reformed the government. He quickly consolidated its lands, reducing hundreds to one hundred, but the dissolution of the (H)REGN was his greatest impact on history.²⁹ After his defeat at Waterloo by England, Holland, and Prussia, the Council of Vienna further merged the lands to thirty-nine states in 1816.³⁰

In 1871 following the Franco-Prussian War, Berlin became the first capital of the German Empire by its founder, Otto von Bismarck. The "Iron Chancellor" brought the thirty-nine German states under Prussian authority as the German Federation.³¹

The Little Dictator

Five years to the day that a political assassination incited WW1 (1914-18), on June 28, 1919, the Treaty of Versailles was signed to go into effect in January 1920. It split the empires into twelve European nations.³² Two were politically neutral; the rest filled the footprint of the REGN. Ten kings would receive their crowns (in Rev. 17:12), not by war, but by its treaty. As if on cue, in just twelve years, a chancellor rose in Germany (in 7:8).

Gabriel foretold these events centuries before. The kingdom the angel described to Daniel would be Roman, out of which the ten horns rose in central Europe about a century after her church empire fell. A little horn rose after them, a chancellor from a corporal! How could a little horn be greater than the others? The little horn was Hitler, speaking as the mouth of the terrible beast from a hundred thirty years before him. (7:7) And lo, eyes as the eyes of man are in this horn, and a mouth speaking great things. (Dan. 7:8 YLT) After the seventh king, ten kings rose, and after them the dragon spoke as the man in a little horn. (Dan. 7:8, p. 21)

They said the Great War would end all war, but hard times were in the air. For twelve years Germany lived in the ashes and memories of ruined hopes when the Great Depression overcame her. After having lost her sons in the war, poverty deepened her despair. Disheartened, she called out for hope and a future.

Convicted of treason as a political revolutionist, Adolf Hitler was released from prison, serving just eight months of an already lenient five-year sentence.³³ He applied for citizenship and then membership in the National Socialist German Worker's Party, or Nazis. Thirty years after Bismarck, he mesmerized the Germans, captivating their population with his passionate speeches, full of promises, flatteries, and convictions.

In 1930 construction was finished, and Berlin's Pergamon Museum housed the Altar of Zeus, aka the Altar of Satan.³⁴ In 1932 Hitler ran for president. With one-third the vote, he lost; even so, Hindenburg, the incumbent, returned to office in failing health and chose the former corporal as his chancellor, making him commander-in-chief, the second highest office in the land.

Hitler supervised the nation's emergency powers and used them to subvert his competitors. When the Parliament building burst into flames, it provided the crisis by which he suddenly put its laws, civil rights, education, and culture under Nazi control.³⁵

It didn't take long, just six months later, near the time of Hindenburg's last breath, Hitler merged the roles of president and chancellor³⁶ and created the Third Reich. He put his actions to the vote and won by an overwhelming margin as der führer, "the leader." After pinning runaway inflation on the Jews, he'd vowed, "Change!" and seemed like a hero to them, commanding their confidence.³⁷ What was it about the man that gave him such power and authority over millions who clung to his every word?

After crafting a pledge of personal allegiance, he ordered his army to honor its words as each soldier dedicated his life. The people followed suit en masse as he dismissed the constitutional democracy of a republic to form the Nazi socialist government.³⁸

By Bismarck, the dragon took back the lands he'd broken into hundreds of pieces by the ten kings centuries ago. In 1920 the ten finally received their kingdoms, ten nations for a dragon to regain. Thus he won his wars until at last he lost. (7:7-11)

He would take every one of them (in 17:13), but three of the first horns were plucked up by the roots—(7:8). He uprooted the first three, like pulling up a plant, roots and all. At times they idolized him with their impassioned crowds drowning out any opposition. The ten nations of the prophecy were the following:

Wild Beasts!

1.) Germany's republic fell after President Hindenburg died. From corporal to chancellor to der führer, Hitler put the issue to a vote. 95% of registered voters allegedly cast votes; 88% of the plebiscite approved a dictatorship.³⁹ A soft coup gave a secessionist control over the former Democratic Republic of Germany.

2.) Austria's military conflicts and power transfers made her government weak and vulnerable. Her instability encouraged the malcontents to riot for their native son. Weighing his options, their king conceded without a shot as thousands went to the streets to welcome the arrival of a dictator.⁴⁰

3.) Czechoslovakia was a gift to Hitler from the Munich Pact, signed September 30, 1938, by Italy, Germany, France, and Britain. The agreement infamously gave the Sudetenland, i.e., the German-speaking areas around the nation, to Hitler as "land for peace." With rights to electrical power, coal, and steel, added to the nation's grief, he owned Czechoslovakia in a day.⁴¹

⁸ "I was considering the horns, and there was another horn, a little one, coming up among them, before whom three of the first horns were plucked out by the roots. And there, in this horn, were eyes like the eyes of a man, and a mouth speaking pompous words. (Dan. 7:8 NKJV)

Who has eyes like the eyes of man, and a mouth? A man spoke by the devil whose kings were forces over ten nations. The Germans cheered him, but Belgium fought him.⁴² Hungary reluctantly joined him but later declared war on him. Italy resisted but lost. Three fell without a shot, yet ten horns on its head agreed, and their own power and authority to the beast they shall give over. (Rev. 17:13 YLT) Whoever tried to put an end to it failed.

²⁰ "and the ten horns that were on its head, and the other horn which came up, before which three fell, namely, that horn which had eyes and a mouth which spoke pompous words, whose appearance was greater than his fellows. (Dan. 7:20 NKJV)

Hitler easily plucked Germany, Austria, and Czechoslovakia, and won Poland, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Belgium, Slovenia, France, and Italy. His ten horns empowered him for more.⁴³

The beast prevailed against the saints, but God would give them the kingdom and send him to perdition. (7:18, 22; Rev. 17:8)

The Ancient Secrets

Daniel's saints were Jews—set apart, sanctified, to receive the kingdom for God's glory like the saints in 165 BC (in Dan. 8:24).

The Altar of Pergamon

In 1889 the Altar of Zeus went to Berlin from Pergamon. (Rev. 2:13) Long ago the Romans joined the Greeks to worship there.⁴⁴ Those were the days when Greeks gave human sacrifices on that altar. Rome visited its site when killing Christians was a sport. In 1941 Nazis were murdering Jews in Europe.

Neither the Kaiser of Prussia nor Bismarck his chancellor was the little horn. The prophecy waited for the man who would fulfill all of its words. After his horns received their nations, the terrible beast spoke by Hitler who boasted of a super race while targeting the Jews. A staunch Darwinist, the fascist touted ethnic cleansing as the blasphemous beast he'd received.⁴⁵

On May 22, 1939, Mussolini and Hitler signed an agreement for international defense. The "Pact of Friendship and Alliance" was called the "Pact of Steel."⁴⁶ On September 1, 1939, Nazis invaded Poland, violating the Munich Pact by their act of war while Hirohito of Japan joined the "Friendship Alliance," and the triad formed the "Tripartite Pact," September 27, 1940.⁴⁷ It was purportedly to "... establish and maintain a new order of things calculated to promote the mutual prosperity and welfare of the peoples concerned. ... to extend cooperation to such nations in other spheres of the world as may be inclined to put forth endeavors along lines similar to their own, in order that their ultimate aspirations for world peace may be realized."⁴⁸ Though multitudes believed them, they were liars.

A truculent strategist groomed an army of terrorists, and the ten kings whose nations he'd gain were of one mind. "Change!" appealed to people, no matter what it meant. By his leadership, men committed unspeakable crimes against humanity while the Protestant and Catholic clergy were oblivious to the genocide. They overlooked the apostle's warning not to boast against the Jews. (Rom. 11:18) The Vatican agreed to Nazism by "compromise and conciliation" as a dictator led his troops into a Jewish holocaust and into ruthless warfare, hoping to gain the world.⁴⁹

Germany was one of the largest nations in Europe, yet Hitler convinced his people to shed blood for more land as in the Far

Wild Beasts!

East, Hirohito did the same. The Grand Mufti, founder of radical Islam, colluded with him against Jews.⁵⁰ Mussolini and Hirohito added to the war dead, sixty million souls; one in ten were Jews.

Martin Luther discovered the scripture for everlasting life by grace through faith and turned men's blindness into sight, but in later writings, he was blinded by his animus for the Jews. Yet they were blinded for the nations to be saved till the day the Jews regained Jerusalem. Even so, he ignored the letter to the Roman church that Jews can be grafted in again.⁵¹ As unnatural branches we can be cut off from their olive tree—the witness of our faith's Jewish roots. (Romans 11) For generations saints had read Luther's scornful words that abetted their murders in WW2.

In 1942 Hitler led his army against his allies in Moscow, Leningrad, and Stalingrad, murdering perhaps a million Jews on the way.⁵² But the icy Russian winter was more than Nazis could endure; many froze to death in the fields. God is Sovereign over nature and kings, judging men in days of war or peace. (Ecc. 3:8)

On November 9, 1938, Kristallnacht, the “Night of Broken Glass,” authorized Germans to pillage Jewish shops, smash their windows, ruin merchandise, and vandalize their homes, making the Jews pay for the damages. Nazis banned their meetings and burned their synagogues and books, even Bibles.⁵³ The bigotry intensified from name-calling, rock-throwing, and gang beatings to public murders.

Quick like a Leopard!

President Woodrow Wilson made the former Senator from New York Franklin D. Roosevelt his Secretary of the Navy from 1912-20. F.D.R. caught infantile paralysis in 1921 while visiting an orphanage. He was thirty-nine. Determined to persevere though polio had paralyzed half his body, he met the challenge and won the 1932 election.⁵⁴ Across the world, von Hindenburg chose Hitler as chancellor, a role his hero Bismarck had enjoyed.

Eleven years after WW1, the sobering reality of the 1929 Stock Market Crash stifled the Roaring Twenties and yielded to the Great Depression.⁵⁵ The freefall of the economies preceded her Great Drought that lasted nearly ten years.⁵⁶ By the grace of God, aiding her in catastrophes, America became undefeatable.

She had known the grief of WW1, having lost her sons in its battles. In early 1941 no one wanted another foreign war, but her government supported the British Royal Navy, supplying ships in the Atlantic where the conflict was close to home.

Then on December 7, Japan attacked the U.S. naval base in Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. Out of the blue, bombers demolished her fleet in the Pacific, and war rushed in to end her isolationism.⁵⁷ Two thousand four hundred and three died in the harbor where most American ships were anchored.⁵⁸

The next day Roosevelt addressed the houses of Congress. The “Declaration of Intent to Declare War”⁵⁹ was made official December 8 when the Senate voted 82-0 and the House, 388-1.⁶⁰

On December 11 Hitler and Mussolini declared war on the U.S.⁶¹ After the Stock Market Crash, the Great Depression, and the Dustbowl, the president foresaw the way to victory over adversaries who could have consumed the world. Ironically, his hopeful attitude was contagious.

WW1 politics weakened her armed forces. She had recently begun strengthening her air force, but America needed trained troops, artillery, tanks, submarines, ships, machine guns, rifles, bombers, canons, and munitions, as well as uniforms, backpacks, canteens, and k-rations—all the essentials for warfare.

Draft notices flooded post offices, calling men to duty, and long lines formed around recruiting stations. Furniture, clothing, and automobile factories were redesigned to make war products. Nylon wasn’t for stockings now—it was for parachutes.

In 1942 in his “State of the Union” message, the president spoke to Congress and the national radio audience: “Speed will count. Lost ground can always be regained—but time never. Speed will save lives; speed will save this Nation which is in peril; speed will save our freedom and our civilization, and slowness has never been an American characteristic!”⁶²

F.D.R. emphasized “speed” four times, the main asset of the four-winged beast that had already shot through this writer like a high-speed documentary on America at war! God alone knew an eagle became the leopard with four wings of a bird. [Aram.: owph, “bird” {71x}. KJV and YLT see “fowls” flying in the air {42x}; but “fowl” is an archaic translation of the word.]

“In 1940, the U.S. army was smaller than that of Rumania: only 174,000 men in uniform, wearing tin hats and leggings issued during World War I, and carrying rifles designed in 1903.”⁶³ Though entering the conflict two years and three months late, “American industry provided nearly two-thirds of all the Allied military equipment produced during the war.”⁶⁴

Americans sacrificed what seemed essential but now paled in comparison to helping her boys fight for freedom. Hollywood inspired audiences to invest in war bonds and use their ration cards. Unemployed people of color, homemakers, retirees, and the physically and mentally challenged composed the war effort. “The War was won at home” was an adage in every household.

Joash the king sought Elisha for advice to defeat Aram. The prophet told him to strike a bunch of arrows on the ground. He hit dirt three times, angering Elisha. Three times weren’t enough. Five or six times would have destroyed the enemy. The triumph relied on its king’s passion to win. (2 Kg. 13:14-19)

Roosevelt reiterated, “Speed!” and his resonant voice led to America’s most important victory. The leopard’s greatest asset is its speed. The camouflaged beast rose when the eagle became a leopard, rushing to rescue freedom from the jaws and claws of the terrible beast. Her speed propelled America as an opponent of tyranny, redirecting the course of the war when, at its tipping point, her troops were among the heroes who rescued Jews from the death camps of Europe where battle-hardened generals wept for the gaunt survivors.

Roosevelt incited his Republican critics when the Supreme Court agreed to pass his “Executive Order for the Internment of Japanese Citizens.”⁶⁵ He argued it would avert a national crisis, but the country would never forget its national offense.

At the time of Daniel’s vision, none of these nations existed, but twenty-five hundred years later, God used a world war to end His vengeance and favor His chosen people by returning them to their homeland and establishing the nation for His kingdom to come. (See Is. 40:1-5; Jer. 16:16-18)

Leaders publically prayed for the wisdom and strength to win with the help of God. The nation rushed to the war half a world away that conscripted her sons into the greatest conflict in history, but the God of Israel would be with them.

As the Lamb is a Lion, and the serpent is a dragon, the eagle became a leopard though by necessity. Unseen kings and their kingdoms are beasts, metaphoric in their ways and made visible by the leaders and their nations. Though we see them as flesh and blood, the battles are of the spiritual kind.

The Ancient Secrets

The scarlet beast devoured and broke in pieces the lands it destroyed by kings that had ruled savages long before receiving kingdoms. The divided nations were vulnerable, an easy catch.

Three beasts, each different from the other (in 7:3), defeated the enemy while Jews were the saints set apart for the glory of God. At the end of it, the beast was slain, and his body destroyed and given to the burning flame (in 7:11). Decades later Hitler's bodyguard said he'd ordered it burned and buried to prevent its discovery.⁶⁶ A similar thing may have occurred in perdition.

Having promised the land to their forefathers, God favored His Jews. ... and judgment was given to the saints of the Most High, and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom. (7:22) The kingdom of David would be established forever by restoring the Jews to the promised land, fulfilling the promises to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob as well as the oracles of the prophets.

Following Roosevelt's death, Japan killed over half as many of the Allies as since the war in the Pacific began. His advisors assured President Truman a land invasion would cost a million lives. Weighing the alternatives, on August 6 he dropped the H-bomb on Hiroshima.⁶⁷ Without a truce in sight, three days later, he targeted Nagasaki, and it was suddenly clear: the leopard was given dominion (in Dan. 7:6). Now watch the dates:

The war began September 1, 1939, when Germany invaded Poland; on the 3rd, Britain and France declared war on Hitler. The Pacific conflict officially ended in a treaty September 2, 1945, on Tokyo Bay. It was September 1 in Washington, D.C.⁶⁸

During the war God sent judgments on the nations by events on Gregorian calendar dates. His numbers were messages to the world. Biblically, "one" and "three" are of God; "six" is of man and judgment; "seven," of completion and perfection; "five," of grace and provision.

David had more than enough stones to fell the giant when he took five; with five loaves, Jesus fed five thousand men besides women and children; five talents went to a servant who doubled them. Each time the provision had plenty left over. God showed the Jews grace and provision by granting them the kingdom, not by their own merit, or else grace is no longer grace. (Rom. 11:6)

Hitler's "Final Solution" sent its first shipment of Jews from German ghettos to concentration camps in late 1941. Europe's first death camp was in Chelmno, Poland, operational December

Wild Beasts!

8, 1941, the day the U.S. declared war on Japan.⁶⁹ The war ended in Europe on May 8, 1945, three years and five months later.

Exactly six years and six months after Kristallnacht, the last death camp, Stutthof, was closed by the Allies on May 9, 1945, after an estimated six million Jews were murdered in Europe.⁷⁰

Israel proves God judges sin. If we sin, we too must repent or be judged as He judged Israel. Historically, God sent His enemies to judge His people, and the judgments were horrible. Their sin was odious to God when He scattered them:

¹⁹ And I scattered them among the heathen, and they were dispersed through the countries: according to their way and according to their doings I judged them. ...

²³ And I will sanctify my great name which was profaned among the heathen, which ye have profaned in the midst of them; And the heathen shall know that I am the LORD, saith the Lord GOD, when I shall be sanctified in you before their eyes. ²⁴ For I will take you from among the heathen, and gather you out of all countries, and will bring you into your own land. (Ezk. 36:18-19, 23-24)

Who gave up Jacob to the looter, and Israel to the plunderers?
Was it not the LORD against whom we have sinned?
in whose ways they would not walk, and whose law they would not obey? (Is. 42:24 ESV)

What's a Head?

The heads on the leopard are its supernatural leaders. Most often rosh described Israel's tribal leaders {349x}. [Aram.: rē'sh is "head," like Heb.: rō'sh, "top, foremost, first."] The leopard is a beast with four heads, unlike the other's ten horns, or kings.

⁶ "After this I looked, and there was another, like a leopard, which had on its back four wings of a bird. The beast also had four heads, and dominion was given to it. (Dan. 7:6 NKJV) – It was the camouflaged beast of prophecy.

Our founders wrote the Constitution creating four equal but separate powers, serving the republic equitably: the president, the speaker of the House of Representatives, the president of the Senate, and the chief justice of the Supreme Court serve in a system of checks and balances by four heads in three branches.⁷¹

The leopard's four heads are in three Articles. In Article 1, the speaker of the House and the president of the Senate are the heads of the lawmaking branch, ensuring both the people and the various states are well served. The Senate and House vote on legislative bills, taxation, and declarations of war. The House can impeach a president but only for bribery, treason, or high crimes and misdemeanors. The Senate holds impeachment trials. All of their services are listed in the ten sections of Article 1.

In Article 2 the president preserves, protects, and defends the Constitution and is commander-in-chief of the armed forces and the national militia. The chief executive commissions officers and, by advice and consent of the Senate, makes treaties and appoints ambassadors, judges, justices of the Supreme Court, and other public ministers. The president grants pardons and reprieves; ensures the laws are properly executed; may issue executive orders, and at times, may convene or adjourn one or both houses of Congress; ratifies or vetoes congressional bills though Congress can override a veto. As chief executive he/she plans foreign policy and makes trade agreements to be ratified by Congress. The particulars are in the four sections of Article 2.

In Article 3 the Supreme Court decides the constitutionality of laws and treaties; tries cases of public ministers, consuls, and ambassadors and those between states or in which the nation has a part. Read more about it in the three sections of Article 3.

Approaching the Throne

¹² `And the ten horns that thou sawest, are ten kings, who a kingdom did not yet receive, but authority as kings the same hour do receive with the beast, ¹³ these have one mind, and their own power and authority to the beast they shall give over; ¹⁴ these with the Lamb shall make war, and the Lamb shall overcome them, because Lord of lords he is, and King of kings, and those with him are called, and choice, and stedfast.' (Rev. 17:12-14)

In the distant future, the apostles saw Him rising to a cloud, but in the mystery of eternity, Daniel was in heaven when he saw his Messiah rising through its clouds after the victory in WW2:

¹³ "I was watching in the night visions,
And behold, One like the Son of Man,

Wild Beasts!

Coming with the clouds of heaven!

He came to the Ancient of Days,

And they brought Him near before Him.

¹⁴ Then to Him was given dominion and glory and a kingdom.

That all peoples, nations, and languages should serve Him.

His dominion is an everlasting dominion which shall not pass away,

And His kingdom the one

Which shall never be destroyed. (Dan. 7:13-14 NKJV)

As a result, Israel returned to the land, and the Jews gained Jerusalem. According to Jesus, the gentiles' days are fulfilled (in Lk. 21:24). And now Jews are finding Jesus while we're wondering if it's the end of the age! Before it appears, He declares it:

¹⁷ 'These four great beasts are four kings who shall arise out of the earth. ¹⁸ But the saints of the Most High shall receive the kingdom and possess the kingdom forever, forever and ever.' (Dan. 7:17-18 ESV)

And the rest of the beasts have caused their dominion to pass away: and a prolongation in life is given to them till a season and a time. (7:12 YLT) Their dominion refers to their coming empire, and this was foreknown five hundred years before Christ was born. Their dominion, the UN, would be taken away though they continue as nations. This points to the empire they formed, but which would be taken from them. This has been happening.

In early 1945 Churchill, Stalin, and Roosevelt met in Yalta, Crimea, to plan the UN. Seven weeks after the war, the Allies signed the United Nations Charter on June 26 in a skating rink in Flushing Meadows, NY. Article 80, page 15, recognizes the Balfour Declaration as international law.⁷² What happened to it?

Not long afterward, the UN agreed to change their own international law by granting the Golan Heights to Syria despite her alliance with Hitler in a war that took their sons away. Then on November 29, 1947, UN Resolution 181 gave the Jews a meager part of the original land grant.⁷³ Its General Secretary announced the tally on radio as Jews listened to their RCA Victors at home: "33 yes; 13 against; 10 abstentions."⁷⁴

African and European borders were decided in Italy twenty-five years earlier. In 1947 they increased, but the Jews' borders were reduced.⁷⁵ They acquiesced on May 14, 1948, and Israel was reborn with just 12% of her legal boundaries from 1920.⁷⁶

Hours after her rebirth, Israel faced her first threat when Egyptian planes roared over the celebration at midnight, and her War of Independence began. Like Gideon's, a relatively small, poorly equipped army battled against the sophisticated troops of Egypt, Lebanon, Trans-Jordan, Syria, Saudi Arabia, and Iraq till the war ended in March 1949 with Israel holding her ground.⁷⁷ They had reentered the Promised Land and faced the giants once again with Jacob in their genes and God on their side.

The prophecies of Israel's return were fulfilled though Arabs threatened her, building up their arms and announcing their war plans to the world. The Six Day War began in June 1967 with a pre-emptive strike by the Jews. Israel regained the West Bank [Samaria]; the Golan Heights [Mt. Hermon], and Jerusalem. She restored the oil-rich Sinai to Egypt for peace.⁷⁸ (See Lk. 21:24)

Great Britain reduced her empire, supposedly, to heal her post-war nation. She should have learned a lesson from Queen Victoria and Churchill who blessed the Jews, but now the UK includes only England, Scotland, Wales, and Northern Ireland.⁷⁹

Russia took Eastern Europe till in 1991 she lost her empire. Socialism had bankrupted it; communism had stolen its people's natural rights to faith, speech, press, self-defense, and assembly. Marxism collapsed.⁸⁰

A Deceiver's Diversity

He recalls the vision, but Daniel wants to hear more about the last beast. The heavenly man sounds redundant, but is he? (7:23-27) The fourth beast would return: ²³ The fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdom ... diverse from all kingdoms ... and shall devour the whole earth. ²⁴ And the ten horns out of this kingdom are ten kings that shall arise: and another shall rise after them; and he shall be diverse from the first. (7:23-24) The first to rise after the ten was greater than the rest; but another shall rise after them, diverse from the first. Was it by coincidence that the first to be cursed was also the first king after the flood—the king of Babel, as well as the first king to rule an illegitimate empire?

In January 1945 Roosevelt, Stalin, and Churchill developed a plan to create the United Nations. Had they imagined its beast would succeed them as the Fourth Reich? The Allies signed its charter, written by Alger Hiss in early June.⁸¹ Berlin fell, and the dragon gave his power, his throne, and great authority to the leopard, the bear, and the lion. Receiving its strength from Satan, unlike other kingdoms, the fourth beast shall devour the whole earth (7:23) ... and power was given him over all kindreds, and tongues and nations. And all who dwell upon the earth shall worship him, whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world. (Rev. 13:7b-8)

Out of the German Empire [out of this kingdom], the ten kings return in the union of the next beast (in Rev. 13:2). Then another rises after the ten, diverse from the first. The key that unlocks the mystery in the prophecy is the one that shall be diverse from the first. The first that rose after the ten horns was a little horn who spoke as the terrible beast. He was slain and gave his throne to the next beast, made by the other three. [The charter calls for peace-loving nations to join her, but most of her nations are at war yet agree to eliminate Israel. Whose beast is this?]

After the beast in Revelation 13 rises with ten horns, another rises, but not as the first—not as Hitler in the little horn that rose after the ten and not as the beast inside him. Next rising after ten rise in the EU, he has neither seven heads and ten horns nor iron teeth and brass claws, but is a dragon with horns like a lamb.

And he shall subdue three kings—namely, the three that got his throne. Rising from perdition (as of Rev. 17:11) with horns like a lamb (in Rev. 13:11), he seems weaker than the first (after Dan. 7:11). Then how does he subdue the three? By his words.

To differentiate between the times of the beasts, the writing turns to poetry [in some versions] and future tense for us to find the elusive one, always the dragon. He's hard to spot, winding his way through history like a serpent, trying to hide while being unveiled by keys that connect the pieces.

The dragon would rise after the ten horns again, but diverse from the first that rose after them though he was the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed (in Rev. 13:12). With horns like a lamb, another rises after them (see Rev. 13:11), and he shall be diverse from the first (in Dan. 7:24). He is a duplicitous man.

With another religious empire diverse from the first he once had, he deceives the world for its worship in Revelation. He may even deceive the saints by his false prophet who does miracles in his sight. The dragon who looks like a lamb is the father of lies.

The Ancient Secrets

But God requires His righteousness at work in us by faith—not our own, nor that of the liar who appears as an angel of light.

At last the ten kings return to the beast whose bruise was healed by his assumed enemies. Once again the ten give him their power, having his mindset. (Rev. 17:15-18). Not plucking up three by the roots like the first, he subdues [abases] three kings:

The ten horns' crowns were restored after WW2. The fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdom (in 7:23) means the fourth beast that rose after them in Daniel gives his power, his throne, and great authority to the next beast (in Rev.13:2-3) for a fourth kingdom to devour the world. As the next beast rises, the ten horns rise on it; then another rises after them, diverse from the first. It has two horns like a lamb but speaks as a dragon (in Rev. 13:11).

The ancient insurrectionist that was slain, Satan, subdues the three beasts as the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed (in 13:12). When the beast in 13 healed the dragon's capital, he rose out of the bottomless pit—and the world was in awe!

Centuries ago he stomped the lands to pieces, but the fourth kingdom devours the whole earth, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces too! His Third Reich was Germany; his fourth devours the world as the UN but is destroyed forever (in 7:26).

The beast with the dragon's throne will have the microphone until the beast with two horns like a lamb stands in his presence with all his authority; then he takes the mike and subdues the three kings before him.

Divisions, Divisions!

Bestial forms can be altered. [Aram.: sh⁶nâ², “diverse” {5x}, most often is “change/alter.” {16x}] The beast that is diverse is changed. He was slain and his body destroyed. Another example of a repeated prophecy is in chapter 11 when the abomination of desolation reappears. Jesus foretold its return (in Mat. 24:15-28), referring to Daniel's words (in Dan. 11:31; 12:11). The enemy enters the temple again as the abomination of desolation when once more Jerusalem receives him before Yeshua returns.

Wild Beasts!

A few mistranslated words are in the best Bible versions. One is ciphrah, or “book.” It is rolled together as a scroll (in Is. 34:4). Unknown in the days of King James I, Psalm 139 should also have ciphrah as “scroll”: ¹⁵*My substance was not hid from thee, when I was made in secret, curiously wrought in the lowest parts of the earth.* ¹⁶*Thine eyes did see my substance, yet being imperfect; and in thy [scroll] all my members were written, which in continuance were fashioned, when as yet there was none of them.* (from Ps. 139) Its script is figuratively the double-helix of DNA, the scroll only its Author could have written.

²⁵ And he shall speak great words against the most High, and shall wear out the saints of the most High, and think to change times and laws; and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and the dividing of time. (Dan. 7:25) [This is about the beast in Rev. 13:1-2, 5-10.]

Time, times, and half a time [in many versions] is literally, time, times, and a division of a time. (Dan. 7:25 YLT) [Aram.: p^elag, “split”] In KJV and Geneva Bible of 1599, it reads, the dividing of time {1x} as it is in the Authorized KJV {1x} and in the Complete Word Study OT {1x}. It is otherwise used for the dividing of the earth and its watercourses {4x}. Unequally split, they are not halves as often translated. Times here are years but could be decades, centuries, or millennia, numbered quantities of time. Time, times, and a division of a time (in Dan. 7:25) arrive as all liars are drawn together by a mark till the tribulation ends, and the elect ascend to Jesus in the air when His wrath falls.

Biblical Hebrew months are thirty days long. The number of times is more than three, but 1,260 days or forty-two months are not associated with times here. Unlike time, times and half a time as forty-two [30-day] months, or 1,260 days; it is time, times, and the dividing of a time, making an unequal division to shorten its times: And except those days be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for the elect's sake, those days shall be shortened. (Mat. 24:22) The elect are delivered from the hand of the beast in fewer than his forty-two month reign (in Rev. 13:5).

At the end of Daniel 7, the kingdom is given to the people of the saints—the inheritance of Messiah, a promise to Abraham—the gentiles, believers of all nations, not just their own (in 7:18). The gifts and the calling of God are without repentance (in Rom.

The Ancient Secrets

11:28-29). Together as one body with many different members, gentiles are the people of the saints. (Gen. 18:18-19; 22:18; 26:4-5; Eph. 2:19) As people of the saints, we are also called to be saints:

Jerusalem reveals the story of God's kingdom, from the day Abram met with Melchizedek near her walls (in Gen. 14:18-20). In December 1997 President Donald J. Trump recognized the city of Jerusalem as the official capital of Israel. Yeshua said,

They will fall by the edge of the sword and be led captive among all nations, and Jerusalem will be trampled underfoot by the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles are fulfilled. (Lk. 21:24 ESV)

God gathers all nations that divide His land to Armageddon. Whether nations are blessed or cursed depends on how they treat Israel because God chose the land and the people as His own (in Is. 51:4, 14:25; Jer. 2:7, 16:18; Ezk. 36:1-11, 38:16; Jl. 1:6, 3:2).

Gentiles are grafted into the olive tree by faith in the God of Israel. Joined to Jacob's Savior, we pray, "Thy kingdom come," hoping for Yeshua's promise to return for His Bride. That's how important this is. Moses asked, "Who is on the LORD's side?"

Gainsaying is a curious word in the KJV and YLT. [The Greek, antilēgō, means "to speak against in order to gain advantage for one's self." It sounds like anti-Semitism. (Lk. 21:15; Ti. 1:9; Acts 10:29, etc.)] By manipulating or distorting the meanings of His words we sin.

... cursed be every one that curseth thee, and blessed be he that blesseth thee. (Gen. 27:29) – His words to Jacob

—not only to the adherent of the law but also to the one who shares the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all, ¹⁷ as it is written, "I have made you the father of many nations"—in the presence of the God in whom he believed, who gives life to the dead and calls into existence the things that do not exist. (Rom. 4:16b-17 ESV) [The law [Torah] is a teacher in Gal. 3:24]
