

Snow Removal Operations Update

February 19, 2026

Winter showed up on a big way! Please be patient with our operators as they do their best to get the roads cleared.

It can take up to 3 days to plow the entire RM, and any roads plowed yesterday will need to be redone as snow continued to fall throughout the day and night. At this time, our operators are opening up roads to ensure access through the RM and once all roads have been opened, crews will return to widen them where needed.

Unfortunately, there will be some snow left in driveways as it is unavoidable when dealing with the amount of snow we've gotten over the last two days. Any custom work requests will not be considered until roads are open and snow removal operations have been completed.

We understand it is frustrating when the roads aren't cleared as quickly as you'd like. Please know our crew is working steadily to cover every route and the safety of our operators and the public comes first.

With the depth and volume of snow, routes will be completed as conditions allow.

Thank you for your patience and stay safe.
