The Lovers Lane Killings

Cheryl Lynn Henry
By: Her Sister, Arielle and
Her Father, Bob Henry

Who is My Sister?

"They told me her name was Cheryl; well, I guess it still is. Anyway, they said she was kinda like a leader when she was a little girl. You know, the kind of person that just takes over when something needs to be done and helps everyone to be happy. They said she was nice and had lots and lots of friends and boyfriends. They said the funeral was huge - standing room only - so they must have all been there.

Her mother told me once that Cheryl was jumping up and down on the trash can outside and fell. (I think it was a trash can.) She got hurt real bad. She went to the doctor and was better real soon. Cheryl's dad (he's my dad, too) told me she was jumping on something and her hoop earring caught on something and ripped right out of her ear! I haven't heard any other stories about Cheryl jumping, falling and getting hurt, so she must have gotten better as she grew up. She was 22 when she died.

I've seen pictures of Cheryl and she was really, really pretty. Her hair was naturally blonde - not just blonde, but kinda whitish blonde. And her eyes were

Garland Andrew (Andy) Atkinson
By: His Mother, Ann Fowler

Twenty years ago on Friday, August 24, 1990, I felt like my life had ended. My father called me and said he had terrible news. I said... "It's not about Andy!" He said, "yes". I asked my father if Andy was okay; he responded, "no...he is dead". I was at work and dropped the phone. Moments later, I called my best friend to pick me up. After finding out what had happened, my life, and the lives of many others, changed forever.

Andy was born on September 6, 1968, in Fayetteville, North Carolina. He was a very happy baby; he hardly ever cried. He loved his baths in his tiny baby bathtub. We would put him in his jumper and he would hop on one leg forever, smiling the whole time. One Christmas, he was so excited, because Santa brought him magic tricks. He really liked magic.

As Andy grew older, he excelled in sports; baseball, football and golf. He had great athletic abilities. Music was another one of his favorite things.

Andy had the desire to be a model. He had beautiful blonde hair, green eyes and a smile you could never forget. The Summer before he died, he and group of

CITIZENS AGAINST HOMICIDE

Who We Are

The majority of the board members of Citizens Against Homicide have had a family member murdered. They are surviving the devastating loss of a loved one and still suffer the continued emotional trauma of coping with our criminal justice system. We have joined together to create a voice for the survivors and friends of murder victims.

CAH Objectives

- ◇ Assist families through the complicated criminal justice system.
- ◇ Provide trial and courtroom support to victims.
- ◇ Accompany victims to parole hearings in their endeavor to keep the convicted murderer in prison.
- ◇ Provide information on pending crime legislation.

Protecting Your Own Interests

You can't prepare for the event that makes you a victim. You can only react. You need to know how to deal with the subsequent trial, sentencing and unavoidable parole hearings. CAH helps you take action to protect your own interests.

If you have friends or family who may be in need of our assistance, please pass along the information regarding our organization.

Location for Meetings

We hold monthly meetings on the second Sunday of each month at 302 4th Street, San Rafael, CA. The monthly meeting starts at 10:00 a.m. We encourage anyone interested to attend meetings.

WORDS FROM JAN

You know what they say about the best laid plans of mice and men
Well sometimes I see my life as being exactly like that.

At our last Board meeting we discussed some of CAH'S successes and spoke of the fact that many successes are just small steps toward the big picture success. Thus it was decided that in my monthly "few words" I would try to bring a success story to you even when it is just a small step.

Let me just say that you will have to wait until next month for a success story.

This last month has been nothing more than a continuous string of exhaustive and emotionally trying days. Our family has experienced six deaths in the last 5 weeks, The 80 year old Mom of our daughter-in-law; the 11 month old son of my youngest daughters dear school friend; my 58 year old cousin; the Mom of my niece's dear friend; an long time friend of my niece; My long time friend (since we were 13) co-worker and family member.

The emotions that are involved in each of these deaths all from natural causes cannot be ignored as we all move through our daily lives. We are affected by these losses and most of us reading this Newsletter have already had the worst loss of all - death through murder. One would think after surviving a death due to murder we would not be so overwhelmingly affected by the death through natural causes no matter the age. Yet I can tell you that is not true. All deaths are like a pebble dropped in the pool of water and as the ripples reach out more and more of those ripples reach many. From each of these losses we take a lesson to heart and sometimes that lesson is that we must reach out to others more often than we do. We need to make time for that phone call, drop that note (or e-mail) and keep the lines of communication open at all cost.

I believe this poem says it all about the ones we have lost no matter the how.

AFTERGLOW

I'd like the memory of me to be a happy one.
I'd like to leave an afterglow of smiles when day is gone.
I'd like to leave an echo whispering softly down the ways,
Of happy times, and laughing times, and bright and sunny days.
I'd like the tears of those who grieve to dry before the sun,
Of happy memories that I leave when life is done.

Thank you for letting me share some of my thoughts and feelings with you . .
. . till next month

dark brown. And she was always smiling and laughing - even in videos. I don't look like her much. I look more like my mom and Shane mixed together. Shane is Cheryl's sister, who is still very mad that no one has been caught yet.

I don't remember anything about Cheryl, so other people have told me things. That helps, but they can't talk like her, or walk or laugh like her. I kinda always ask myself, "Who is my sister?"... because I never got to play or shop with her. I never got to go camping or jumping with her. You have to do stuff together to get to know someone.

But, I was only 6 months old when Cheryl died....twenty years ago. There's just one picture of her and me; she's holding me after I was born. I have it in a silver frame on the dresser. I wish there were more to put there or on the walls. There should have been more. There really should have been more.

Arielle

Houston, August 23, 1990 - someone walked into my daughter's life, pulled her out of the car, took her into the woods, tortured her, tied her hands behind her back, cut her jaw and throat...then sexually assaulted her. He covered her lifeless body with old boards...then ran away as fast as he could. Coward!

She was my "blonde bombshell", (a term of endearment from the time she was a little girl) my oldest. She was happy in the days leading up to her last one. Cheryl and my daughter, Shane, were set to move into an apartment together that weekend.

She had a new boyfriend that some considered to be "the one". His name was Andy Atkinson...and he was her date that night. The coward who walked into Cheryl's life, ended Andy's, too. He pulled Andy into the woods, tied him to a tree, viciously slashed his throat...then ran away as fast as he could. Coward!

Houston's media pegged their double murder as the "Lover's Lane Killings". I go numb when I see those words. My heart starts racing and my mouth gets dry. The tears of grief quickly turn into outrage and madness. I hide my pain alone by verbal outbursts. Then I calm myself down by focusing on one thing...one thing only: He'll get his. His day is coming. He will pay for what he did to these young people. He will pay.

I am Cheryl's father. I should have been there to protect my "blonde bombshell". I will never get over the fact that I wasn't. That is the worst part; I wasn't there for my daughter. I wasn't there.

Cheryl Lynn Henry is Arielle's sister. She always will be. They would have been great pals.

If anyone has information about the murders of my daughter, Cheryl and her boyfriend, Andy...please contact Detective Mike Miller - Houston Police Department at (713) 308-3946 or CrimeStoppers (713) 222-TIPS.(8477)

America's Most Wanted will be featuring Cheryl and Andy's story sometime in the next few months. Citizens Against Homicide will provide updates regarding an airing date on their website.

Thank You ~ Bob Henry

Garland Andrew (Andy) Atkinson

his friends went to Myrtle Beach, South Carolina and started a portfolio of pictures with Andy on the beach. The ocean was a beautiful background. When he died, the photographer presented us (Andy's father, Garland, his grandmother and I) with a photo album of these pictures. That album is my most precious possession. He was very handsome.

Andy loved the beach. Once, when he was about ten years old, he went to Wrightsville Beach, North Carolina and, under close supervision and a life preserver, was able to go out in the ocean on a hobi-kat. He thought this was the greatest thing he had ever done.

Andy was only a child, but he had a very special first cousin, Timmy Godwin, who was like a brother to him. They grew up together. Timmy named his first son after Andy; Tucker Andrew.

My son was very easy to love; he was compassionate, easy going and loved by many. He will be forever missed. I think of him every day. I have had great difficulty seeing what others have, what I will never have, children and grandchildren.

I am so grateful for Citizens Against Homicide and Cheryl Henry's father, Bob, for bringing public attention to our case. Someone once wrote, "Justice may be delayed, but not denied". It is time to find the monster that ended two beautiful, innocent, young lives. They were just beginning the journey.

Again, if anyone has information that could help us find answers and justice, please contact Detective Mike Miller - Houston Police Department at (713) 308-3946 or Crime Stoppers (713) 222-TIPS.(8477)

Thank You, Ann Fowler

October 23, 2010 - AMERICA'S MOST WANTED (AMW)

Will be featuring Citizens Against Homicide's October 2010 Victim Profiles, Cheryl Henry and Andy Atkinson - ("The Lover's Lane Killings") on Saturday, October 23, 2010 - (Check your local listings for airing time on Fox TV).

CASE UPDATE ~ IVAN "BUD" FOGLESONG

"At the hands of another, not by accident" was the verdict at the Coroner's Inquest held on August 30 and 31, 2010, in Willows, California, for Bud Foglesong. It has been a long three years and we want to thank Citizens Against Homicide for featuring Bud's case in their November 2008 Newsletter. No one expected a family member to be a homicide victim, so no one had the knowledge necessary to secure justice. The advice the Foglesong family received from Jane Alexander, "Get a copy of the Coroner's Report and find someone to champion Bud's case"...started us on the right path.
Holzapfel: Clan Hit: Arson Killing

- This was the headline Tim Crews, Editor and Investigative Reporter of the Sacramento Valley Mirror, wrote after Bud's death. He kept the story alive for three years. On August 9, 2008, after Bud's death was declared an accident, Tim started a series of stories. They were entitled, "How Did Bud Die?"... later changed to "Who Killed Bud?" The family cannot thank Tim Crews enough for becoming Bud's "champion" and working so hard to get Bud's death changed to homicide. Since the District Attorney of Glenn County, Willows, CA is Jan Foglesong's brother, she was unable to find a lawyer to help her. Two years passed before a college friend enlightened another college friend (a criminal lawyer) about Jan's situation. Sandra Bignault immediately contacted Jan, renewed and old friendship and offered to help. She read the case file, saw what we saw, hired the experts and presented the case. We are so grateful for the tenacity to secure the verdict. Sheriff Larry Jones deserves thanks for holding the Coroner's Inquest and sending the case to the Department of Justice (Sacramento) for further investigation. We encourage everyone to follow Bud's motto: "Never, Never Quit".

EMERGENCY PAROLE LETTER

We received this request for a parole and it was too late for the Newsletter but we were able to post in on the website.

On July 8, 1985 Sako Itai was murdered and her mother Shigeko was also shot, but did survive. Their attacker was Sako Itai's husband - Hiroyasu Rody Itai CSC#D-50824.

This is the third parole hearing this victim's family has had to endure. We hope that by checking our website you are able to help with these emergency paroles. We try to send out an emergency notice to all of our families that receive the NL by email. All of your letters are welcomed by the families and we all realize these letters do help. THANK YOU!

Sample Parole Letter on Website

Sample parole opposition letter(s) are available on the CAH website at www.citizensagainsthomicide.com

For your convenience, all you need to do is 'copy and paste' the letter(s) into a Word document, sign your name and mail.

WATCH DATELINE IN OCTOBER

We have received word that DATELINE will be airing the story about Steven Watkins (November 2009 - CAH - Victim Profile).

We do not have a specific date but it is expected to be in October 2010. We will keep you posted - so please go to our website for the most up to date information on this program. We realize that the NL only comes out once a month and there is constant change when it comes to TV airings.
