Authentic Indian Street Food, Served with a Purpose

Founded by a visionary trio of street food loving accountants, Sakhi is more than a restaurant chain. It's a legacy of passion, purpose, and the unwavering belief in the power of food to transform lives.

The founders first gained acclaim in Australia with Chatkazz, an Indian street food restaurant that earned international recognition, even catching the attention of Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi, who recommended it to the Australian Prime Minister!

Inspired to give back and deeply moved by the struggles of rag-picking women and their bright, resilient daughters, who were destined to follow the same arduous path, Sakhi was born. A platform to uplift these young women, offering opportunities for a better future for them and their families.

Beyond food, Sakhi stands for empowerment, providing sustainable livelihoods, breaking barriers and celebrating friendship.

With a commitment to authentic Indian cuisine, every dish reflects the founders' passion for food and social impact.

Sakhi isn't just about great meals; it's about creating change, one plate at a time.
