

To My Valentine

In youth its bud with passions high
Carefree romance, moonlit sky
In hopes and dreams together planned
To put asunder let not man
What God did join hath grown to be
A lovely flower for all to see
And love together these two will hold
On foot sure path and rocky road
Lo, even when this life has passed
Their love forevermore shall last
Ne'er fades the bloom when two are one
From morning bright to setting sun.

February 14, 1998