

Back's Against The Wall

Akua Tu

Introspection Album ©2009

Chorus

Cause your back's against Wall
You're caught between the devil and the deep blue
No matter where you go on this physical
There's nothing you can do just to save face

Verse 1

Unless you realize what you say out loud
In privacy or out in a crowd
Unless you realize the things you do
Cause either one of the above will come back to you

Bridge 1

I'm not trying to say
You should be of no opinion
But you mustn't cut off the hands that feed you
Life's a funny game,
Sun will shine then it will rain down hard on you
And you know a certain someone would have an umbrella
To keep the rain from falling down

Chorus

Your back's against Wall
You're caught between the devil and the deep blue
No matter where you go on this physical

Verse 2

Unless you empathize with those who are close to you
Take the courage jump into their shoes
Put yourself to one side take off those tinted shades
Because we're all equal, that's how we're made

Bridge 2

Trying to play it cool, being stubborn like a Mule
Won't do you no favours
Try some diplomacy, cause in reality
People remember more negativities than positivities
Envy is not your friend and jealousy won't sustain
The love, the harmony the peace within your soul
So lighten up your load
You've got to let it go, let it go
