Correspondence

Work is still in progress with the DeKalb County Community Foundation to restructure funding for the Watershed Coordinator Position and the roles of the SWCD. It may be around the first of the year before an agreement can be reached.

There is a petition drive ongoing to bring back funding to the districts that were removed during the legislative session this spring. A downstate Senator has proposed a bill that would address this issue, this will likely come up in the fall veto session for consideration.

The AISWCD has informed the districts about several initiatives regarding projects/grants they are pursuing; some are near completion and need signatures. These opportunities provide additional workload for the staff and recognition to the efforts of the districts which is one of the goals presented by the AISWCD leadership but they do not replace or provide much additional operations financial support.

Mr. Johnson met with Nicole Juday Rhoads who represents IDEAL industries as their Foundation Chair. Ideal has taken on a project along West Prairie Drive and Borden Ave in Sycamore in which they are creating a walking path with picnic areas etc. to enhance the Wet Detention Basin that is located next to their facilities. The project is called the Connector. They have an interest in making this project a valued asset to the community. We are planning to work with them on some educational components that can be used to enhance the community's connection to water quality from this investment.

The district will be holding a Farmer's Workshop at the John and Linda Begun Farm on August 21st. Dr. Mike Konen, Alexa Skirmont and Dean Johnson will be the presenters.

The Pheasants Forever Banquet has been changed from August 29th to November 19th at Faranda's in DeKalb.

Patty Foster from Foster's Accounting will be conducting the financial review in the next week for the district.
