NEW LIFE FOR OLD BUILDINGS

The old Bula Missionary Baptist Church in Copeland will be transformed into the Frances Hodge Memorial Garden. Demolition of the condemned building takes place in early November and plans are being made for a community park on the site with acknowledgement of the burials there. If you would like to help or donate, contact Marya at 695-2905.

The old Bank of Everglades building has been completely refurbished and opened as the "Everglades Historic Bed & Breakfast with Spa" by Patty Bowen and her daughter Taylor Caple. For info, phone them at 695-0013 or stop in to have a look at the wonderful job they've done.

Commiserations

We are sorry to report the passing of Max Schultz whose wife Jean serves on our Board and has organized the Everglades Homes Tour, among her many other community activities.

MONROE STATION

Monroe Station, on US-41 at the end of the Loop Road, was built in 1928 after the Tamiami Trail was constructed. It was one of six way-side stops between the Dade County border and East Naples that sold gas and snacks. A patrolman on a motorbike was based at each one and drove around to make sure cars were not stranded.

Eventually, Monroe Station became a restaurant rented from the Collier Corporation. It was a popular spot for hunters in the adjacent glades and for tourists traveling along the Trail.

The building is now owned by Big Cypress National Preserve who have plans to restore it. It was listed in 2000 on the National Register of Historic Places, which is administered by the National Park Service.

Our speaker on Friday, December 9, is Bob DeGross, Chief of Interpretation and Public Affairs for the Preserve, who has studied the history of Monroe Station. His presentation delves into the history of the Trail as well as the building itself.

Join us at 5:00 p.m. in the Everglades Community Church Fellowship Hall for light refreshments before Bob starts his talk at 5:30 p.m. Everyone is welcome to this free event.

If you have memories of stopping at the station, we will have a nostalgia session after the formal presentation. For info, phone Marya at 695-2905.
