PUBLIC NOTICE

EVERY DAY, NEBRASKA EXAMINER journalists work tirelessly to hold government officials to account and report on how state policies affect Nebraskans – and there could hardly be a time when such journalism is more crucial. Guiding our newsroom is a simple command: Dogged. Principled. Dedicated to Nebraska news. Nebraskans want accountability from their elected officials and government. They want to know whether their tax dollars are being well-spent, whether state agencies and local governments are responsive to the people and whether officials, programs and policies are working for the common good. The Nebraska Examiner is a nonprofit, independent news source committed to providing news, scoops and reports important to our state. 10ctf

Memorial Day - May 25 - Remember & Honor

Honor Veterans This Memorial Day

Memorial Day often is celebrated with the excitement of a long weekend and the prospect of firing up the grill for a backyard barbecue. But Memorial Day also is a time to reflect on the men and women who gave their lives to defend American freedom. Memorial Day was established to honor individuals who died while serving the United States in the Armed Forces. Memorial Day is a time to reflect on the sacrifices of the fallen heroes who dedicated and lost their lives in the pursuit of service. The following are some ways to honor those sacrifices this Memorial Day.

- Observe the National Moment of Remembrance. The National Moment of Remembrance is an annual one-minute moment of silence that takes place at 3 p.m. local time on Memorial Day. Established by Congress in 2000, this unifying moment encourages Americans to pause their activities and reflect on the high cost of freedom. The time is significant, as it is a period when most people are enjoying Memorial Day festivities that were made possible by the sacrifices of Armed Forces personnel.
- Honor the American flag. Memorial Day features a unique flag protocol. To properly honor the fallen, the flag should be flown at half-staff until noon. Afterwards, it should be raised to the top of the staff for the remainder of the day, according to the Veterans of Foreign Wars organization. The transition marks the nation's mourning in the morning hours and then the legacy of fallen veterans later in the afternoon.

- Coordinate flag placement for cemeteries. Organizations like Flags for Fallen Vets and scouting groups make an effort to place small American flags at the grave sites of deceased veterans. Many cemeteries feature sections exclusively for veterans. Similarly, families can visit cemeteries and leave a penny or a stone on the headstone of a veteran, which shows others that someone visited to pay their respects.
- Talk to the next generation. To ensure that the memories of fallen soldiers do not fade into obscurity, living veterans can speak with youth about their service experiences and those of their fallen friends. Schools or local municipalities can organize speaking engagements.

Memorial Day is much more than sales at the furniture store or a day spent manning the grill. It is a day to remember and honor service members who never made it home to see their great country again. Ensuring that their efforts are remembered, and giving thanks to all veterans, is a great way to commemorate Memorial Day.

NATIONAL BEEF MONTH

Bring Your Burger-Making Skills To The Next Level This Summer

Hamburgers are a staple of summer menus in millions of homes. Whether you're hosting friends on Memorial Day weekend or simply looking for a hearty midweek meal, burgers and summertime cooking go hand in hand. Hamburgers are a straightforward dish that are often prepared on a grill. But burgers also can be prepared on a stovetop, which can add a new flavor profile to this beloved summertime staple. Those looking to do just that can try this recipe for "Beef Burgers With Onions, Spinach, Ketchup, and Blue Cheese" from Lines+Angles.

Beef Burgers With Onions, Spinach, Ketchup, and Blue Cheese

Makes 4 Servings

For the sauce:

- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 1 small red onion, peeled and finely diced
- 1 to 2 cloves garlic, peeled and finely diced
- 1 tablespoon honey
- 1 tablespoon brown sugar
- 8 ounces tomato puree
- 3 1/2 tablespoons tomato passata

- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1 tablespoon apple cider vinegar
- 1 tablespoon whiskey
- 1/2 teaspoon salt or to taste
- 1/8 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper or taste
- 1/2 teaspoon paprika, or to taste
- 1/4 teaspoon chili powder, or to taste

For the sauce: Heat the oil in a pan and lightly sauté the diced onion and garlic. Stir in the honey and sugar and simmer briefly. Mix in the tomato puree, passata, Worcestershire sauce, vinegar, and whiskey. Simmer until thickened. Season the sauce with salt, pepper, paprika, and chilli powder to taste.

For the burgers: Place the beef in a bowl, add the onions, salt, pepper, mustard, Worcestershire sauce, and chili sauce, and mix well. Shape into 4 burgers. Preheat a griddle pan. Lightly oil the pan and grill the burgers for 8 to 10 minutes, turning once. During the last minute of cooking, top the burgers with cheese and allow to melt. Remove the burgers from the pan and set aside. Halve the burger buns horizontally and toast in the pan, cut-side down, for 1 minute, then remove.

Layer the bottom half of each bun with spinach and sprinkle with crispy onions. Place the burgers on top, drizzle with tomato sauce and cover with the top bun halves. Fix with a skewer if desired and serve with the remaining sauce separately.

BUILT BY BEEF

A French Standard Offers a Unique Way to Prepare Beef

Beef is a versatile ingredient that's popular in countries across the globe. There's no shortage of ways to prepare this favorite protein source. French chefs utilize beef in various recipes, and one popular dish is Beef Bourguignon. This stew works well as a comfort food, and has become a standard of French cuisines over the last century and a half and made widely popular in the United States when Julia Child first adapted the recipe. Those who want try their hand at cooking beef in the French fashion can look to this recipe for "Beef Bourguignon" from Lines+Angles.

Beef Bourguignon

Makes 6 servings

- 1^{1/2} tablespoons sunflower oil
- 7 ounces diced smoked bacon
- 2^{1/4} lbs. beef steak, chuck, cut into 2^{1/2}-centimeter cubes
- 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 2 tablespoons unsalted butter
- 1 onion
- 3 carrots, peeled
- 14 ounces button onions, or small round shallots, peeled
- 2 finely chopped garlic cloves
- 1 tablespoon tomato passata

- 3 cups good quality red wine (e.g., from Burgundy)
- 1^{2/3} cups beef stock
- 3 bay leaves
- 4 to 5 sprigs young thyme, plus extra for garnishing
- 1 small bunch chives, snipped
- Salt
- Freshly ground black peppercorns

1. Preheat the oven to 275 F.
2. Heat the sunflower oil in a large, wide saute pan or casserole dish set over a moderate heat until hot. Add the bacon and fry until golden and crisp, 7 to 8 minutes. Remove from the pan to a plate lined with paper towels.
3. Dust the chuck steak with the flour, shaking off the excess. Season with salt and pepper before browning in the pan, in batches, over a moderately high heat. Remove from the pan to a bowl.
4. Return the pan to a medium heat. Add the butter, let it melt, and then stir in the onion, carrot, pearl onions, and a pinch of salt.
5. Saute for 8 to 10 minutes until colored. Add the garlic and tomato passata, and cook for a further minute.
6. Return the beef to the pan and deglaze with the wine, scraping the base to release any stuck-on bits.
7. Stir in the stock, bay leaves and thyme sprigs, and bring to a boil. Once boiling, transfer to the oven.
8. Braise for about 90 minutes to 2 hours, stirring occasionally, until the beef is tender and easy to pull apart.
9. Remove from the oven and season to taste with plenty of salt and pepper. Serve from the pan with a garnish of snipped chives and some thyme sprigs.
