Medicare Open Enrollment is from October 15-December 7, we at Elkhorn Valley Family Medicine would like to inform the community that we will once again not be accepting BCBS Medicare Advantage for the calendar year 2026. This is not to be confused with regular BCBS insurance which we will continue to accept as we have in the past.

We encourage everyone with Medicare who is considering changing to a Medicare Advantage Plan to discuss this decision not only with your insurance provider but please include your healthcare team as there are a number of hospitals and physician practices in the state which do not accept certain Medicare Advantage Plans.

5 tips for healthier baking

Baking is a beloved pastime for many people. During the COVID-19 pandemic, many people turned to baking as a way to not only while away the hours, but to have a tangible product they could enjoy after all of their efforts. Baking certainly can produce delicious results, but oftentimes baked goods are not the healthiest fare.

Many baked goods are high in sugar and fat. The World Health Organization considers it urgent to reduce the extreme consumption of sugars and other fast-absorbing carbohydrates which tend to be found in baked goods to curb rising rates of obesity and type 2 diabetes. According to recent data published by the WHO, 13 percent of the world's adult population are clinically obese and 39 percent of adults age 18 or older were found to be overweight.

Overweight and obesity are tied to the consumption of fat-rich, high-calorie foods, including baked goods. Those who want to bake, but bake more healthfully, can make certain modifications to keep health a priority.

1. Replace butter and cream. Look for recipes that feature healthier monounsaturated and polyunsaturated oils instead of butter and cream, which are high in saturated fat.
2. Prepare bite-sized desserts. Portion sizes should be carefully monitored to ensure one doesn't go overboard with baked goods. This is easily achieved by creating miniature or bite-sized items that can help reduce the tendency to take a big slice of cake or bread.
3. Incorporate healthy ingredients. Balance out baked goods by improving the nutrient profile. Try adding shredded or pureed apple, banana, carrot, and pumpkin to recipes to boost moisture, flavor and nutrition. These ingredients also can be used to replace some of the butter or oil in the recipe, according to EatRight.org.
4. Try alternative flours. Rather than white flour, consider whole-wheat flour as a substitution. Also, chickpea or almond flour can boost protein without adding carbohydrates.
5. Reduce the sugar. Many recipes call for much more sugar than is needed for the finished item to be tasty. Experiment with reducing the amount of sugar. Opt for "healthier" sugars, such as honey or maple syrup whenever possible.

Minor substitutions can make baking a bit healthier so it fits in with a well-rounded diet

Avera Health Will End Participation in Aetna Medicare Advantage Network

Avera Health will end participation as an in-network provider with Aetna Medicare Advantage on Dec. 31, 2025, due to ongoing issues that negatively affect the patient experience.

Among issues that are creating difficulties for patients include denials and reduced reimbursement of necessary services and care.

Avera Health has informed patients who carry Aetna Medicare Advantage coverage about this change. People can select a new plan during fall Medicare open enrollment period of Oct. 15 – Dec. 7, 2025. Avera is working with Chapter Medicare to offer Medicare advisors to help people navigate changes in coverage. Avera will continue to be in-network for Aetna group employer insurance.

“At Avera, we want our patients to have an excellent experience. We understand this will mean a change for numerous patients. This was a difficult decision, but we feel it is in the best interest of our patients and providers,” said Stacey Lenker, Vice President of Payer Strategies, Avera Health.

Patients who choose to keep their Aetna Medicare Advantage plan for 2026 can still receive care from Avera providers, however, services would likely be out of network, and that may mean a higher cost share for patients.

Avera Health will be in the Aetna Medicare Advantage plan network through Dec. 31, 2025. Patients who have appointments or procedures scheduled in 2026 should check their 2026 Medicare plan coverage network to make sure their Avera provider, surgery center or hospital is included, and contact their insurance company if they have questions about coverage.

“Medicare open enrollment from Oct. 15 to Dec. 7 is the best opportunity for Medicare enrollees to consider their coverage for 2026. They have opportunity to change between Medicare Advantage plans, or to select Original Medicare plus a Medicare Supplement plan,” Lenker said.

If you are affected by this change, you will receive a letter in the mail. You may contact your local insurance agent or Chapter Medicare at 641-426-2691 for assistance, or schedule an appointment at askchapter.org/partners/avera.
