You Choose The Services You Want Us To Provide

Once the person who has died is in our care, we can discuss the arrangements either by phone, email, video call, or in our premises (providing you are not self-isolating, presenting COVID-19 symptoms, or within a vulnerable group); on a day and at a time that works for you. We don't want you to feel pressured, or rushed. We certainly don't believe that you should be given an appointment that suits just our diary.

We spend time discussing what your exact requirements for the funeral are. This would typically take an hour, however, there are no time limits, you have us for as long as you need us. We will firstly clarify with you if the person who has died left any specific instructions, or if you need our complete guidance to provide and make you aware of the many different options which are available.

Because we know how important it is for you to feel comfortable with your final decisions, we provide all our prices in writing and cover any questions you have. We will never pressure you into making a decision there and then, it is purely your choice how you would like to proceed, and at what pace.

We will ensure that all fees are explained clearly to you, so you know exactly what you are paying for before entering into any financial commitment. We will also, if you want us to, use our local knowledge and contacts to see if we can source budget-friendly alternatives to services.

It doesn't matter if you would like us to provide a full traditional funeral, a modern twist, or absolutely no service whatsoever, you will receive the same level of care, advice and quality of service.

If the decision to use a funeral director is out of your hands, for example: a prior funeral plan is in place, we are also willing to continue to provide you with our full, no-obligation support and consultation.

If you have any questions at all, it doesn't matter if you have forgotten something we have already answered, we are here to support you, whenever you need us, even in the middle of the night.

What To Do When Someone Dies

At Home

Including Nursing/Care/Residential Home or Hospice

When someone dies and the death is expected, the first thing is to ensure that a medical professional is willing to complete the medical cause of death certificate.

(If the death occurs in a Nursing/Care Home or Hospice, the duty staff will help with the following steps)

This may be via the usual, or on-call GP, a Hospice or community nurse.

Once you are given the go-ahead by the medical professional and only when you are ready, please call, or ask the duty staff to call Elkin & Bell Funerals on:

01329600050 (24 Hrs)

We will attend the address within the hour to bring the person who has died into our care. We have a private chapel of rest at our premises.

The medical cause of death certificate is usually available the following working day for you to collect.

The GP or duty staff can advise you where this is to be collected from, you will need this for registration.

Please inform the medical professional whether the funeral is to be a cremation.

Additional forms will need to be prepared by the Doctor.

In Hospital

Based on procedures outlined by Queen Alexandra Hospital, Cosham - other Hospitals may vary

If the death is expected, you will be required to telephone QA Hospital Bereavement Services Mon - Fri 9am - 5pm Tel: 02392286175

You may not be able to speak to a bereavement officer straight away, but please leave them a message and they will return your call as soon as all the relevant paperwork is in place.

Please inform the bereavement officer if the funeral will be a cremation, so that additional paperwork can also be prepared.

The bereavement officer will send the medical cause of death certificate directly to the registrar.

IMPORTANT

A Hospital Clearance Release Form will be issued directly to your chosen Funeral Director, so you will be required to stipulate who they are when speaking with the Bereavement Services.

PLEASE NOTE: We will not be able to attend the hospital unless a form has been supplied. We are only permitted to attend the Hospital during their usual opening hours. (Mon-Fri, 9am-5pm)

As a death within Queen Alexandra Hospital occurred within the City of Portsmouth, you will need to telephone the register office.

BY APPOINTMENT ONLY: 02392829041 - the registration will take place over the phone, and documents will be issued to you and your chosen Funeral Director DO NOT make an appointment to register until you have been told to do so by the bereavement office.

What forms will the Registrar give me, how much do they cost?

The registrar will issue a 'Certificate for Burial or Cremation'

This form is FREE and is bright green in colour.

This will be issued digitally to your chosen Funeral Director.

You will also be able to purchase 'Certified Copies of the Entry'

This is often referred to as the 'death certificate' as they currently cost £11.00 to buy.

The Coroner's Involvement

Why does the Coroner get involved, what will happen?

If the death is sudden, or unexpected, it is more than likely that the HM Coroner will need to be informed. The person who has died will be taken to the hospital mortuary.

If the death occurs at home, and the usual/on call doctor is not able to issue the medical cause of death certificate, It is likely that the Police will be asked to attend the address. The reason for referral can be because of something as simple as the person who has died has not been to visit their GP (not treating, or attending to any illness) in the past 14 days.

There will be a Duty Funeral Director who is employed by HM Coroner to collect the person who has died. You do not need to worry unnecessarily if the police are in attendance, they are also working on behalf of HM Coroner's Office.

The Coroner's involvement also doesn't necessarily mean there will be a Post Mortem examination. You will be kept fully informed by the Officer who will be looking after you.

PLEASE NOTE:

It can take up to five working days for any examinations & paperwork to be completed.

BE AWARE: you are not obliged to use the Funeral Director contracted by HM Coroner
YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO CHOOSE YOUR FUNERAL DIRECTOR

If I be the first of us to die,
let grief not blacken long your sky.
Be bold, yet modest in your grieving.
There is a change but not a leaving.
For just as death is a part of life,
the dead live on forever in the living.
And all the gathered riches of our journey,
The moments shared, the mysteries explored,
The steady layering of intimacy stored,
The things that made us laugh or weep or sing,
The joy of sunlit snow or first unfurling of the spring,
The wordless language of look and touch,
The knowing,
Each giving and each taking,
These are not flowers that fade,
Nor trees that fall and crumble,
Nor are we stone,
For even stone cannot the wind and rain withstand
And mighty mountain peaks in time reduce to sand.
What we were, we are.
What we had, we have.
A conjoined past imperishably present.
So when you walk in the wood where once we walked together
And scan in vain in the dappled bank beside you for my shadow,
Or pause where we always did upon the hill to gaze across the land,
And spotting something, reach by habit for my hand,
And finding none, feel sorrow start to steal upon you,
Be still.
Close your eyes.
Breathe.
Listen for my footfall in your heart.
I am not gone but merely walk within you.
