Brief Description of the Workshop:

This 9-month workshop with 18 sessions is designed to guide Black women through the healing, self-defining, liberating ceremonies of Zelda's memoir writing practice in order to reconcile your life so that you reconcile your purpose. It is designed to help you heal your wounds so that you manifest your gifts and reconnect with the omniscient wise woman you are.

What event(s) in your life are you most wanting to express? It is okay if you don't know, that's what Zelda's work with you will help you to explore.

As a Black woman, what do you most need out of a Black-woman-centered writing space?

How did you hear about Black Women Writing Memoir?
