"GOVERNMENT CHEESE"

Dyed orange. Sometimes moldy.

As a child on welfare,
Stephanie Thomas ate a steady diet of it.

Now she runs a company that ensures charities have far better resources for children in need.

CHOOSING PEOPLE OVER PROFIT

A DEDICATED CHAMPION OF NEW IDEAS

From poverty... to college and graduate school... to company president... to business owner

An illiterate father. A mother with a GED. Stephanie Thomas scooped ice cream to help her parents pay the rent. She put herself through New York University by working several jobs. While earning her master's degree, she started as an intern at a fundraising company - and became its president 12 years later. Now Stephanie runs her own successful fundraising business.

Despite her success, Stephanie Thomas remembers the struggles, raising tens of million each year to help others.

She worked for years on behalf of organizations like the American Red Cross, Prep for Prep, the Brady Center to Prevent Gun Violence, and other groups helping people in need. From her nonprofit sector experience, she learned the power of good will and efficiency. She understands leveraging every dollar can solve even the most intractable problems.

As our next State Representative, Stephanie Thomas will bring voices together and fight for the issues we care about most...

- Excellent public school opportunities
- Fiscal responsibility
- Strong gun laws
- Fair wages and small business incentives
- Reliable and accessible public transportation
- Affordable health care
- Protection of state's rights
