Dear Sir or Madam,

I am writing to inform you about the exceptional abilities and dedicated performance of Domenica Orellana-Gallardo.

As an integral member of our team in the Spring of 2021, Domenica demonstrated her ability to not only contribute on a daily basis, but an uncanny ability to help each one of us expand our bandwidth in our evolving online workplace.

Domenica inhabits an innate ability to solve problems on her own as well as push the boundaries of what's possible, by introducing new ideas and doing the legwork necessary to bring them to fruition.

While working with our Global Productions unit at CNN International, Domenica worked across various shows and teams, researching, producing and writing. She helped find and book compelling characters in Argentina and Colombia as well as plan, write and publish stories from various African countries.

I can wholeheartedly recommend Domenica as member of any team both in journalism and beyond and assure you that she will not only become an invaluable asset - but will continue to surprise you with fresh ideas and workable solutions.

Thank you for your attention and please feel free to reach me if I can be of assistance in your consideration.

Regards,

Robert Howell
