Early Works

There is not much left of my early photos especially from my Brooks Institute of Photography in Santa Barbara days and many photos I did in black & white because of a basement flooding.

So, the "Early Works" section I put several of the surviving photos. My interest for the industrial can be seen in 1983 Seattle, Industrial Park, and how certain colors and lines stand out in Parking Lot, also in Seattle.

There are the impromptu photos of my friend Randy making a late night call in a telephone booth. There are several others The Fence, Man & Sea, Four Bottles and Ironing Board.
