

REMEMBERING WHO WILL INHERIT THE ENVIRONMENT WE PRODUCE REINFORCES OUR COMMITMENT TO IT.

Over 70 years ago, Square D set the standard for innovative, high quality water pressure switches and, ever since that time, Square D has been consistently recognized as the #1 brand in the industry. That same level of commitment to building the highest performing pressure switches possible can also be seen in our commitment to maintaining the healthiest environment possible.

Square D Water Pressure Switches and our new Telemecanique Sensors Water Pressure Switches are certified by NSF, assuring customers that our switches are in compliance with the strict NSF standards and procedures for drinking water safety. Extensive product testing, material analysis, and even unannounced plant inspections are all part of the product evaluation process to which we submit to earn this very important certification. Why do we do it?

One look at those who will inherit our environment is all the motivation we need...

STABLE. DEPENDABLE.

