

Sky Watching Resources

Phone Apps

- Star Walk 2 – Interactive guide to the night sky.
- Sky View – Point your phone at the sky to find stars, planets, and constellations.
- Satellite tracker from Star Walk – View a live map of the satellites.

Podcasts

- Sky Tour Podcast - monthly 15 min tour from American Astronomical Society
- Star Date - daily 2 min description of what to look for in the night sky
- Astronomy Cast - weekly 30 min fact-based tour of the universe

Websites

- cleardarksky.com - 48-hour astronomer's forecast
- Timedate.com - sun and moon times, meteor shower calendar
- Space.com - space exploration, innovation, and astronomy news
- Skymaps.com - monthly sky maps and events information
- Mcdonaldobservatory.org - UT looks at the heavens in west Texas
- Stardate.org - sky almanac, star gazing information
- darksky.org - light pollution, lighting, Losing the Dark film, outreach materials
- softlighthouston.com/education - create a safe low glare nighttime environment
- amsmeteors.org - meteor-shower-calendar

Clubs

- San Antonio Astronomical Association (sanantoniopastronomy.org/)
- Houston Astronomy Society (astronomyhouston.org/)
- Uvalde County Stargazers (facebook.com/groups/310834110187/)
- Blanco County Friends of the Night Sky (blancocountynightsky.org/)

Books (amazon.com)

- Pocket Star Atlas
- Stories in the Stars: An Atlas of Constellations
- Turn Left at Orion

Other items (amazon.com)

- Binoculars - Nikon 7245 Action 10x50 EX
- Green Laser Pointer - a green laser for showing others around the sky
- Planisphere - an any season, any hour map of the stars
- Red mode LED flashlight – needed to keep eyes adjusted to the dark