Mr. G

R✓

She's gonna accuse me of rape and seduction of a minor. That's what's in the sci report. That's crazy and untrue

R✓

At least now I know that's in the report

R✓

But wtf

R✓

My parents are going to be crushed

I know it is. It's fucking stupid

Don't get too worked up right now

Just try and sleep

Mr. G

Talk with your lawyer

R✓

I already did. He said he wasn't able to convince her that the report is far from accurate. And that she's writing it.

R✓

The best case scenario would be for the post to not pick it up

R✓

But it's the NY Post and they love controversial stories like this and don't quite care for the truth

R✓

What if I lose my fellowship? What am I going to do

Then people should also know that the post is full

R✓

You know it won't matter bc shell be quoting an sci report that isn't factually accurate.

R✓

But no one knows that

Maybe the post won't pick it up. Who cares about some random people & their shit from two years ago

Kbcc and NYU very well may bc I didn't tell them I was investigated and left
so the investigation
would stop so I wouldn't have to disclose info
about you.

What's the reporters number? Maybe I can convince her

R✓

Convince her about what?

That it's all lies

R✓

And how will that work
for you? She's gonna go back to sci then with what you say to her and I've sacrificed too much to keep you safe and out

to keep you safe and out of the spotlight for you to throw yourself into it now.

Fuuuuck. I just hate not doing anything

R✓

There's nothing you can do.

R✓

The info is out to the state now via my response to them.

R✓

If you go back on what you said then all that's left is my response to the state.

R✓

It's too late to do anything.

I know I shouldn't be thinking so hard but I can't stop from thinking about what you're gonna do if shit goes down. I keep thinking of a plan for a new life. Maybe move somewhere with little people, live a simple life. I'll give you some money, to help you out. I don't got much, but anything to help. Fuck. I gotta go inside to work. Another long day.

I already live a simple life. and I'm not gonna be forced out of my home bc some reporter wants to publish an old story with incomplete and inaccurate facts.

R✓

My circle of friends will likely get smaller after the article hits just like it did after the investigation started.

R✓

And I might lose my job at kbcc and my fellowship at nyu

R✓

But at the end of the day, I have the truth of what happened and why I left out key information when being questioned.

happened and why I left out key information when being questioned.

R✓

I know I didn't rape or seduce you. And I know our many conversations were never inappropriate and always focused on school or your personal struggles or workouts.

R✓

And I can't regret leaving out the info I did bc that would've made your life more difficult.

R✓

I just didn't foresee all the problems it was going to cause me bc I wasn't thinking about myself during the interrogation.

I already knew the investigators were lying to me bc Petra told me before I entered the room that they already spoke with "the kids" and you had disappeared from your math class. You were there when I left the room during the change but you and all your stuff was gone when I went in to get something off the printer. But dottin kept saying that he hadn't spoken to you and only saw you in passing. I knew he was lying to me as soon as he said that.

R✓

And when I asked for my union rep, he said the rep shouldn't be there for the questioning. Another lie. I felt like I couldn't trust him with the info about August so I didn't share it. I just agreed with him that something happened

Can I tell you a secret

R✓

Of course

So ever since I started working I kept some cash on the side that is strictly for emergencies. Like hospital bills for my mother. I've only thought about touching it once. When I hit a low, I took 2k

So ever since I started working I kept some cash on the side that is strictly for emergencies. Like hospital bills for my mother. I've only thought about touching it once. When I hit a low, I took 2k & put it in an envelope with a letter saying my final goodbye. I was gonna drop it off in your apartment. I figured that if I go, then I should at least give you something to help you out.

That just breaks my heart that you wrote a goodbye letter. I hate that you thought of suicide. And I don't want your money. Keep it for your mom in case she

My story is unbelievable to people who don't know me bc very few would do what I did for you. I feel like I keep getting beat up for choosing your safety

My story is unbelievable to people who don't know me bc very few would do what I did for you. I feel like I keep getting beat up for choosing your safety over my job. And to me, there really was no other choice bc a person's future should always be valued more than a single job. I didn't see that my decision was going to follow me around and potentially cost me more than just my job. I've lost friends who I suppose were never really friends. I'm fighting for my license so I can conduct research. I didn't see that coming until I spoke with a lawyer who told me it

I fought to get some stability back in my life and wound up at kbcc. I never would've thought my job there would now be in jeopardy bc of what I purposely said and didn't say. And I don't feel that I should have to walk around with copies of our convos just to prove to everyone I work with that I didn't rape or seduce you. I was your mentor. I let you raid my fridge when you said there was nothing to eat in your house bc I didn't want you to be hungry. I let you hang at my place in your house bc I didn't want you to be hungry. I let you hang at my place when you said you didn't want to be home bc I didn't want you wandering the streets or climbing empty buildings where you could potentially get into trouble. I bought you sneakers when you couldn't afford another pair bc I didn't want you to lose your outlet of working out. The investigators don't believe any of that. But the truth really is that simple. I treated you like family.

R✓

I feel like I'm constantly being re-victimized and not allowed to heal and move on.

R✓

And you're affected everytime too bc of what it does to me. You're not allowed to forget and move on and get better when something new arises from it.

R✓

I don't understand why this can't be left alone. What happened was between you and I and we moved past it through forgiveness and support. People love to find drama where none exists.

exists.

R✓

Now I have to figure out how to tell my parents that the words rape and seduce will likely be linked to my name in a major newspaper. My mom is gonna want to know what happened in August. All I have told her was that you did something stupid that could get you in trouble. I don't want to give her details bc she'll be heartbroken that it happened. And I don't want you being judged for doing something stupid when you were 17. And frankly I don't want to rehash the details.

What did you letter say?

Today @ 12:36 PM

It was long. It had my biggest fears, my regrets. It was my thanks to you & to Myra. It was a request to tell the real story. It asked for forgiveness & a prayer. It was my last apology.

Today @ 1:15 PM

Did you keep it

And when did you write it

No. It's somewhere in the ocean

It seems like one

I know it shouldn't
