Canton Town & Village-Wide Garage Sale Weekend Scheduled for July 31-Aug. 2

CANTON, N.Y. — The St. Lawrence County Chamber of Commerce has announced that the annual Canton Town & Village-Wide Garage Sale weekend will take place from Friday, July 31, through Sunday, Aug. 2.

The community-wide event is designed to stimulate local economic activity, attract regional tourism, and encourage sustainable recycling practices by giving residents an opportunity to clear out household clutter.

"The annual town and village-wide garage sale weekend is a much-anticipated event for sellers as well as buyers," said Tom Graser, community and membership relations manager for the St. Lawrence County Chamber of Commerce. "At the Chamber, we are proud to bring so many people together."

Organizers are encouraging neighborhood groups, local businesses, and multiple-family units to coordinate joint sales. In past years, these large-scale collective sites have proven highly popular, drawing bargain hunters from across Northern New York and neighboring Canada.

Residents and businesses interested in being included in the Chamber's official promotional maps and directories must register their sale details by Monday, July 27. Registrants should provide their physical address, specific days and times of operation, and a brief summary of choice items available for purchase.

To register, participants can email their sale information to tom@slcchamber.org or call 315-386-4000, ext. 5.

The Chamber will compile all registered locations into a comprehensive event directory. The map and item listings will be published on the Garage Sale Event page at <https://tinyurl.com/cantongaragesale>.

Basswood Lodge Honored with 2026 Tourism Excellence Award for Best Destination Marketing

CANTON, NY — The St. Lawrence County Chamber of Commerce Tourism Team honors Basswood Lodge of Rensselaer Falls, recipient of the 2026 Tourism Excellence Award for Best Destination Marketing.

Presented annually at the St. Lawrence County Tourism Dinner, the award recognizes tourism partners whose marketing efforts extend beyond promoting their own business and contribute to the visibility, visitation, and economic vitality of St. Lawrence County.

For nearly three decades, Basswood Lodge has introduced outdoor enthusiasts to St. Lawrence County through guided hunting experiences and a commitment to North Country traditions. Known for its early goose season, fall and winter waterfowl hunting, and spring turkey opportunities, the business has become one of the Northeast's premier outdoor recreation destinations.

Since taking ownership in 2012, owner Nick McNamara has expanded Basswood Lodge's reach through national media exposure, television appearances, trade shows, digital marketing, and conservation partnerships. Through features in publications including Gun Dog Magazine and Wildfowl Magazine, collaborations with the nationally televised outdoor hunting program The Fowl Life, and participation in major outdoor industry events, Basswood has consistently introduced new audiences to St. Lawrence County while attracting visitors to the region through its hunting experiences, events, and outdoor programming.

Those connections extend far beyond the lodge itself. Visitors introduced to St. Lawrence County through Basswood support local businesses throughout the region and, in some cases, become long-term investors in the North Country, strengthening communities and contributing to the region's economy long after their first visit.

"This is what tourism looks like at its best," said Kathryn Puleo, Destination Manager for Visit St. Lawrence County. "Basswood has spent years connecting a targeted audience with the outdoor experiences and lifestyles that define the North Country. We've seen visitors return year after year, with some eventually purchasing camps, waterfront homes, and recreational properties throughout St. Lawrence County after first being introduced to the region through Basswood. That's the kind of long-term impact every destination hopes to create."

McNamara was unable to attend the Tourism Dinner due to a prior commitment. The award was accepted on his behalf by his wife, Mandi McNamara, and daughters, Cyera and Brielle McNamara.

For more information about tourism opportunities throughout St. Lawrence County, visit VisitSTLC.com.

Realty North to Celebrate Grand Opening of Ogdensburg Office with July 22 Ribbon Cutting

OGDENSBURG, N.Y. — Realty North, a new real estate brokerage serving the North Country, will celebrate the grand opening of its physical office with an official ribbon-cutting ceremony on Wednesday, July 22, at 2 p.m.

Co-hosted by the St. Lawrence County Chamber of Commerce, the ceremony will take place at the agency's brick-and-mortar location at 414 Jay St., situated at the corner of Jay and Franklin streets in Ogdensburg.

The brokerage is owned and operated by Kim Scharff-Snyder, a veteran licensed real estate broker with nearly 20 years of local experience. The establishment of a physical storefront provides local buyers and sellers with a welcoming and professional space to meet, discuss their real estate needs and goals, review contracts and documents, explore available opportunities, and receive personalized guidance throughout one of life's most important decisions. The office serves as a convenient, private, and comfortable place for clients to ask questions, consider their options, and work through the real estate process with confidence.

Throughout her two-decade career, Scharff-Snyder has built a strong reputation across St. Lawrence County for her specialized knowledge of markets in Ogdensburg, Morristown, Lisbon, Heuvelton, and surrounding communities. Her clients frequently cite her tireless advocacy, flexible scheduling, and relentless work ethic as key drivers of their real estate success.

Joining Scharff-Snyder at the agency is Sharon Alford, a licensed real estate associate broker with 20 years of experience, known for providing exceptional service, support, and expertise to her clients.

Realty North offers personalized guidance tailored to everyone, from first-time homebuyers to seasoned property investors.

Members of the public, local business leaders, and media representatives are invited to attend the July 22 ceremony to tour the office and meet the Realty North team.

Local Partners Showcase Collaborative Approaches to Destination Development

CANTON, NY — Local tourism partners took center stage at the 2026 St. Lawrence County Tourism Dinner, sharing how collaboration across the arts, recreation, and heritage sectors is strengthening the county as a destination.

Hosted annually by the St. Lawrence County Chamber of Commerce Tourism Team, this year's program focused on the theme, "Destination Development: Rooted in Collaborative Competition." Through real-world examples from tourism partners across the county, the program highlighted how partnerships are creating visitor experiences, supporting economic opportunity, and helping build places where people want to visit, live, work, and invest.

Opening the evening, STLC Director of Tourism Tiffani Amo and Destination Stewardship Consultant Josiah Brown challenged attendees to think beyond municipal boundaries and individual organizations, emphasizing that successful destinations are built through partnership and shared investment.

Erica Kelso, Executive Director of SLC Arts, highlighted festivals, public art, and community arts programming as examples of how creative placemaking contributes to memorable visitor experiences. Kelso noted, "A mural may begin with an artist's vision, but it requires property owners willing to share their space, municipalities that recognize the value of public art, funders who invest in creative placemaking, schools and community organizations that engage participants, and residents who help shape the story being told."

St. Lawrence County Trails Coordinator Deb Christy shared the story behind the county's multi-use trail system, a project developed through more than two decades of collaboration among ATV and snowmobile clubs, sportsmen's groups, trail-side businesses, landowners, and government partners. She noted that these partnerships helped connect individual trail segments into a regional network that now extends into Franklin and Lewis counties, creating a visitor experience larger than any one community could offer alone.

Those connections have expanded recreational opportunities while encouraging visitors to explore more communities throughout the region. As Christy observed, "Visitors don't see county lines the way governments do. They see experiences."

St. Lawrence County Historian Nancy LaFaver highlighted how America 250 initiatives are strengthening heritage tourism through collaboration. She pointed to Open Doors to History as an example of museums, historical societies, historians, and heritage sites working together to create countywide visitor experiences. "We are aligning our strengths, pooling our resources, and amplifying our messages," LaFaver said. Through coordinated programming, cross-promotion, and collaborative efforts, partners are helping transform individual historic sites into connected heritage experiences that encourage visitors to explore more of St. Lawrence County.

While each presentation focused on a different sector, a consistent message emerged: collaboration strengthens destinations.

"We were proud to showcase partners who are helping shape the future of tourism here in St. Lawrence County," said Kathryn Puleo, Destination Manager for Visit St. Lawrence County. "The examples shared throughout the evening showed what can happen when organizations, businesses, and communities communicate, support one another, and actively look for opportunities to work together. Those partnerships don't just strengthen tourism; they create stronger businesses, stronger communities, and a stronger St. Lawrence County."

Those interested in becoming more involved in St. Lawrence County's tourism industry are encouraged to contact Kathryn Puleo, Destination Manager, Visit St. Lawrence County, at kathryn@slccchamber.org to learn about partnership opportunities, industry updates, and ways to get connected with ongoing tourism initiatives.
