The Gallery at Lake Saint Lawrence Arts is excited to present "Many Forms of Art"

The Gallery at Lake Saint Lawrence Arts is excited to present "Many Forms of Art" - featuring the art of Anna Gerhard Arnold, Bonnie Grant, Tanya Spicer, and Steven C Cobb at a reception on July 11, 2025, from 5:00 pm to 7:00 pm at 14 Main Street, Waddington, NY. This show is the third of the summer season for the Gallery. The show will run from July 11 to September 13, 2025.

New open days for the Gallery will be Friday, Saturday, and Sunday from 11:00am to 3:00pm beginning on July 11.

Anna Gerhard Arnold is a resident of Waddington. She paints in watercolor and her intricate paintings focus on the ordinary images central to the rural North Country and St. Lawrence River Valley. Capturing both the detail and expanse of the local countryside, her detailed paintings are marked by weathered textures of barn wood and winter grasses, old farmland beaver swamps and dramatic Adirondack Mountain peaks. Her watercolors often have a photographic quality with their realistically painted natural and atmospheric skies. The paintings are an homage to the changing landscape around us and a concern for its preservation. The points of light in her watercolors accentuate exquisite details, drawing the viewer into every scene.

Her previous work can be seen locally in signage for Mama Lucia Restaurant, colorful murals in the Cactus Grill & Cantina, in menus for Maxfields, all in Potsdam, and 17 illustrated program covers for the summer Lake Placid Horse Shows. She has completed several illustrations for Christopher Angus' books Reflections from Canoe Country, Emma and The Egyptian Queen and Emma and The River of Time. In addition, she commissions Fine Art Portraits of dogs, horses, and landscapes and her watercolor landscapes reside in many private collections nationally and internationally.

Sisters Bonnie Grant and Tanya Spicer blended their creative selves into what they labeled "Two Journeys Art". Bonnie lived in Boston and Cape Cod for much of her life, but moved back to Massena after she retired. She had taken classes in pottery, drawing and painting and a variety of arts and crafts during her working years. She then became more involved in painting and crafting after she joined some creative groups on Cape Cod. After she moved back to the area, she picked up beading as well; and bead weaving became an obsession for her and Tanya. She now beads beautiful bracelets and other items as well as painting in abstract.

Tanya spent her years pursuing a business and liberal arts education while raising children and working. She made clothing for her kids, quilts, pillows, and other household items with fabric and used clothing. As the kids grew, she crafted more - drawing, coloring, and doodling. Her husband taught her what he knows about working with beads and she and Bonnie became obsessed with it. They attended classes in beading and wire working and since then have taught classes in silver and other metals. They both have many pieces of jewelry in this exhibit and continue to work with all facets of art. Tanya also teaches crafting classes with kids with Bonnie's help.

Steve C. Cobb was born, raised, and has lived in the North Country all his life. Primarily self taught, he received accelerated and concentrated instruction from Micheal V. Lynne in his early years, and studied briefly at SUNY New Paltz. Although he painted occasionally, he returned fully to his art, as he vowed he would, when he could finally devote all his time and energy to it. He paints mostly in acrylics and oils, and creates works that deal with his admiration of nature and the outdoors. The nearby countryside, rivers and mountains of New York's Adirondack Park provide much of his inspiration.

He is a passionate fly fisherman, and depicts various trout and other fish in his paintings.

With the onset of the pandemic, and moved by the bleakness of the times, he turned his attention to depicting the remains of old barns throughout the north country. The grayness of the weathered barn-wood led him to simplify his palette to black and white, concentrating strictly on value to capture mood. His foray into black and white continues into other subject matter, but is frequently interrupted with a more colorful palette.

His work has been exhibited throughout the New York and Vermont, and has won numerous local awards. He is an active member in the local art community, and belongs to various art organizations in and around the area.

Steve currently lives and works out of his Quiet Raquette Studio at 4 Woodland Drive, Raymondville NY.
