Keeping an Eye on the Environmental Issues Affecting Africa

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS & INVITATION TO PRESENT

New Date. Broader Commitment. Global Reach.

7th Annual Virtual International Symposium | Saturday, February 20, 2027 | 12:00–4:00 PM EST

Theme: Sustainable Future — Climate Action, Justice and Community Resilience

Dear Students, Researchers, Educators, and Emerging Environmental Leaders,

Africa Environmental Watch, Inc. (AEW) invites you to submit an abstract for consideration as a presenter at our 2027 Virtual International Symposium. This gathering will connect voices from Africa, the United States, and beyond to explore practical ideas, research, and collaborative approaches to environmental challenges.

We welcome submissions that address the symposium theme, including climate action, environmental justice, sustainability, community resilience, education, policy, and innovative local or global solutions. Student research, community-based projects, and emerging perspectives are especially encouraged.

Why present at the symposium?

Presenting offers an opportunity to share your work with an international audience, strengthen your professional and academic presentation skills, exchange ideas with peers and experts, and contribute to conversations that can inspire meaningful environmental action.

How to submit an abstract

Visit [AEW website / abstract submission page] to review the submission instructions, complete the required abstract form, and confirm the submission deadline and any formatting requirements. You may also contact the AEW office at [office email / phone] for assistance. All submissions will be reviewed by the Abstract Review Committee; submission does not guarantee acceptance.

Presenter registration and sponsorship

The presenter registration fee is $45. We encourage students and emerging presenters to seek sponsorship for this cost through their school, academic department, faculty adviser, employer, professional organization, family, or another supporter. A sponsor can help make your participation possible and invest in your growth as an environmental leader. [Insert sponsorship/payment instructions]

Preparing for your presentation

If your abstract is approved, you will receive a formal approval letter or email with instructions for confirming your acceptance. Please respond to that notification to confirm your participation. Approved presenters are expected to prepare their material in accordance with the instructions provided, adhere to the assigned presentation schedule and time format, and be ready to participate in the virtual symposium.

We look forward to learning from your research, experiences, and ideas. Your voice can help move the conversation from awareness to action as we work toward a more sustainable, just, and resilient future.

With appreciation,
Africa Environmental Watch, Inc. (AEW)
